Rule And Order Dutch Planning Doctrine In The Twentieth Century:

Rule and Order Dutch Planning Doctrine in the Twentieth Century A. Faludi,A.J. van der Valk,1994-02-28 This book is about an art in which the Netherlands excels strategic planning Foreign observers will need little convincing of the merits of Dutch planning They will want to know whether routine explanations small country industrious disciplined people hardened by the perennial fight against the sea hold any water and they will want to know where to look for the bag of tricks of Dutch planners Dutch readers need to be convinced first that planning in the Netherlands is indeed effective before contemplating how this has come about Our message for both is that to the extent that Dutch planners do live in what others are inclined to see as a planners paradise it is a paradise carefully constructed and maintained by the planners themselves This smacks of Bernard Shaw describing a profession as a conspiracy against laity However all knowledge and all technologies are socially constructed meaning that they are the products of people or groups pursuing often conflicting aims and coming to arrangements about what is to pass as true and good So this takes away the odium of Dutch planners having their own agenda Positioning ourselves We are in the business of interpreting Dutch planning and at the same time committed to improving it This makes us part of the situation which we describe This situation is characterized by the existence of two divergent traditions urban design and the social science discipline called planologie

Planning Support Tools: Policy Analysis, Implementation and Evaluation. Proceedings of the Seventh International Conference on Informatics and Urban and Regional Planning INPUT2012 AA.

VV.,2012-06-13T00:00:00+02:00 1862 161 The Changing Institutional Landscape of Planning Louis Albrechts,Jeremy Alden,Artur Da Rosa Pires,2017-07-12 This title was first published in 2001 Planning today has to deal with a completely different world from the one in which many of the basic ways of thought of the profession were founded Many traditional planning approaches often seem less relevant when attention is increasingly being focused on sustainable development

deregulation and competitiveness in a global world Focusing on the changes that are taking place in the realm of planning practice and spatial planning across Europe this text examines the driving forces for institutional change It brings together a team of leading planning academics with experience of planning practice and policies from the UK Holland Belgium Germany Portugal Italy and Norway Throughout the 12 chapters of the book they examine and compare new approaches to planning across Europe at local metropolitan regional national and international levels

The Randstad Wil Zonneveld, Vincent Nadin, 2020-12-29 The Randstad metropolitan region encompassing Amsterdam The Hague Rotterdam and Utrecht in the western Netherlands is regarded worldwide as a model of a successful polycentric metropolis It is widely cited as an example of how a region of interconnected small cities can effectively compete globally by providing complementary functions which together match the power of large monocentric cities The methods of strategic spatial planning regional design and strategic projects that are said to underpin this polycentric metropolis are used as models for practitioners and students around the world But is this high reputation deserved Does the Randstad really function as a polycentric metropolis The operation of the Randstad as a polycentric networked region is controversial both in terms of the actual strength of relations between its component parts and the value of promoting polycentricity in policy What are the costs and benefits of a Randstad metropolis Does polycentricity improve the performance of the region in economic social and environmental terms How has the polycentric metropolis evolved and what part is played by its delta location Has spatial planning made a difference in the form and operation of the region today How will this spatial configuration fare in the face of the climate crisis and need to create healthy cities and regions Is there benefit in pursuing the idea of a polycentric metropolis in government policy and action and how These questions are of critical interest within the Netherlands but experience in the Randstad offers valuable insights to many other complex urban regions around the world This book will provide a critical analysis of the Randstad and lessons for strategic planning in other metropolitan regions

Situated Practices of Strategic Planning Louis Albrechts, Alessandro Balducci, Jean Hillier, 2016-07-22 All over the world societies are facing a number of major problems New developments challenges and opportunities cause these issues and yet cases tell us that traditional spatial planning responses and tools are often insufficient to tackle these problems and challenges Situated Practices of Strategic Planning draws together examples from across the globe from France to Australia from Nigeria to the United States as it observes international comparisons of the strategic planning process Many approaches and policies used today fail to capture the dynamics of urban regional transformation and are more concerned with maintaining an existing social order than challenging and transforming it Stewarded by a team of highly regarded and experienced researchers this book gives a synthetic view of the process of change and frames future directions of development It is unique for its combination of analysis of international case studies and reflection on critical nodes and features in strategic planning This volume will be of interest to students who study regional planning academics professional planners and policy makers

Encounters in Planning Thought Beatrix Haselsberger, 2017-01-06 Encounters in Planning Thought builds on the intellectual legacy of spatial planning through essays by leading scholars from around the world including John Friedmann Peter Marcuse Patsy Healey Andreas Faludi Judith Innes Rachelle Alterman and many more Each author provides a fascinating and inspiring unravelling of his or her own intellectual journey in the context of events political and economic forces and prevailing ideas and practices as well as their own personal lives This is crucial reading for those interested in spatial planning including those studying the theory and history of spatial planning Encounters in Planning Thought sets out a comprehensive intellectual institutional and practical agenda for the discipline of spatial planning as it heads towards its next half century Together the essays form a solid base on which to understand the most salient elements to be taken forward by current and future generations of spatial planners

Sustainable Development and Planning III A. Kungolos, 2007 In recent years in many countries there has been an increase in spatial problems that has led to planning crisis Planning problems often connected with uneven development deterioration of the quality of urban life and destruction of the environment The increase urbanisation of the world coupled with global issues of the environmental pollution resource shortage and economic restructuring demand that we make our cities places worth living in Problems of environmental management and planning are not restricted to urban areas Environments such as rural areas forests coastal regions and mountains face their own problems that require urgent solutions in order to avoid irreversible damages The use of modern technologies in planning gives us new potential to monitor and prevent environmental degradation Effective strategies for management should consider planning and regional development two closely related disciplines and emphasise the demand to handle these matters in an integrated way Containing papers presented at the Third International Conference on Sustainable Development and Planning this book addresses the subjects of regional development in an integrated way as well as in accordance with the principles of sustainability Notable topics include Regional Planning City Planning Rural Development Environmental Impact Assessment Environmental Management Environmental Legislation and Policy Integrated Territorial and Environmental Risk Analysis Ecosystems Analysis Protection and Remediation Social and Cultural Issues Environmental Economics Geo Informatics Urban Landscapes Transportation Waste Management and Resources Management

Integrating City Planning and Environmental Improvement Gert de Roo, 2017-03-02 Since Integrating City Planning and Environmental Improvement was originally published in 1999 the practice of integrating urban physical planning and environmental quality management has been widely adopted by governments worldwide Fully revised and updated with a new preface by editors Donald Miller and Gert de Roo and new figures throughout this second edition reports on the experience of 23 innovative programmes from 11 countries Mostly written by practicing planners and government officials the book looks at a wide range of integrated approaches which have been implemented and the critical assessment of these provides lessons for local and national governments interested in setting up similar schemes and suggesting ways of further innovation While the Rio Earth summit

Habitat II and Kyoto have been a source of global principles for improving the environmental quality of human settlements this book explores approaches to implement these policy positions and to make these calls for action operational Consequently the presentation of these cases deals not only with the technical aspects of measuring and controlling environmental spillovers but also with the institutional political and financial aspects of these programmes

Geographical Information and Planning John Stillwell, Stan Geertman, Stan Openshaw, 2013-03-09 The 1990s have seen some remarkable changes in geographical information GI provision and computer technology that have impacted on many of the activities that constitute planning in all its different forms However relatively few texts in the field of geographical information systems GIS and planning have been published since Henk Scholten and John Stillwell edited Geographical Information Systems for Urban and Regional Planning in 1990 This volume seeks to redress the balance by showing how GI of various types is being used in urban physical environmental socio economic and business planning contexts at local regional and national scales with the assistance of GIS and modelling methods and how the uses of GI and GI technologies have evolved over the last decade During this period a number of meetings took place in Europe in different locations organised initially by European Geographical Information Systems EGIS 1990 94 and more recently by the Joint European Conference and Exhibition JEC on Geographical Information 1995 97 These meetings brought together members of the GI community from across the world to discuss GI research and GIS applications One of the Special Interest Groups associated with the JEC gatherings was that on Geographical Information and Planning and several of the contributions in this book have their origins in papers presented to the group s meetings

Evaluation in Planning Nathaniel Lichfield, Angela Barbanente, Dino Borri, Abdul Khakee, Anna Prat, 2013-03-09 This book is the result of a three day workshop on Evaluation in theory and practice in spatial planning held in Ramsey Hall University College London in September 1996 Some 30 people from 8 different countries attended and 20 papers were presented The majority of them now form the basis for this book This occasion was the third on the topic the two preceding having taken place in Umea in June 1992 and in Bari in 1994 Following these three meetings we can now say that this small industrious international family really enjoy meeting up from time to time at each others places in the presence of older members and new children each one presenting his her own recent experiences It particularly enjoys exchanging views and arguing about the current state and the future of evaluation in spatial planning all families have their vices It is also pleasing to see these experiences and discussions resulting in a book for those who could not attend and for the broader clan in the field Not long time ago but ages in the accelerated academic time scale evaluation in planning established its own role and distinct features as an instrument for helping the decision making process Now this role and these features are exposed to major challenges First the evolution of planning theory has lead to the conception of new planning paradigms based on theories of complexity and communicative rationality

The Power of Planning Oren Yiftachel, Jo Little, David Hedgcock, Ian Alexander, 2012-12-06 The book addresses critically the question What is the societal impact of urban and regional planning

It begins with a theoretical discussion and then analyses through a series of case studies the intentions contents struggles and consequences of urban and regional planning It shows that plans and policies often defy the commonly perceived role of advancing equality justice development and amenity by causing social problems marginalisation and inequalities The book looks at planning from a critical distance without a priori belief in its necessity or usefulness The 12 chapters written by renowned international scholars demonstrate the multiplicity of social and political struggles over the contested terrain of spatial policies The book focuses on four key areas where the impact of planning is explored the community power gender relations ethnic tensions and social polarisation while comparing three societies Australia Israel and England Audience This volume is mainly intended for faculty and students of academia but also for urban professionals and policy makers The book is relevant to fields such as urban and regional planning geography political science urban studies urban sociology urban anthropology ethnic and gender relations

Explorations in Planning Theory Luigi Mazza,2017-09-29 What is this thing called planning What is its domain What do planners do How do they talk What are the limits and possibilities for planning imposed by power politics knowledge technology interpretation ethics and institutional design In this comprehensive volume the foremost voices in planning explore the foundational ideas and issues of the profession Explorations in Planning Theory is an extended inquiry into the practice of the profession As such it is a landmark text that defines the field for today s planners and the next generation As Seymour J Mandelbaum notes in the introduction the shared framework of these essays captures a pervasive interest in the behavior values character and experience of professional planners at work All of the chapters in this volume are written to address arguments that are important in the community of planning theoreticians and are crafted in the language of that community While many of the contributors included here differ in their styles the editors note that students experienced practitioners and scholars of city and regional planning will find this work illuminating and helpful in their research

International Approaches to Real Estate Development Graham Squires,Erwin Heurkens,2014-08-13

An international approach to the study and teaching of real estate is increasingly important in today s global market With chapters covering numerous countries and every continent International Approaches to Real Estate Development introduces real estate development theory and practice to students and professionals in the comparative international context The book provides readers with a global compendium written by an international team of experts and includes key features such as Chapters covering the United States United Kingdom Netherlands Hungary United Arab Emerites Bahrain and Qatar Ghana Chile India China Hong Kong and Australia An introduction providing theory and concepts for comparative analysis Discussion and debate surrounding international real estate development in its approach characteristics geography implementation and outcomes A concluding chapter which brings together comparative analyses of the different real estate development case study findings Reflections on the global financial crisis and the new real estate development landscape Further reading and glossary The wide range of case studies and the mix of textbook theory with research mean this book is an essential purchase for undergraduate and postgraduate students of real estate property development urban studies planning and urban economics Metropolitan Governance and Spatial Planning Anton Kreukels, Willem Salet, Andy Thornley, 2005-08-19 This book explores the relationship between the arrangements for metropolitan decision making and the co ordination of spatial policy and compares approaches across a wide range of European Cities Outsourcing Planning Jantine Grijzen, 2010-02-01 This thesis addresses the wide involvement of consultants in regional spatial planning projects in the Netherlands Although consultants have become important actors in public policy making and media and politics have frequently addressed this as a problem until now the scientific literature has paid little attention to them This thesis shows that the wide involvement of consultants can best be explained from the perspective of increasing problems of coordination and cooperation in Dutch regional spatial planning Planning has become an activity performed by many governments and stakeholders together with overlapping policies expertise and procedures From an external position consultants can act as intermediaries between interdependent actors both by mediating between personal relations as well as by connecting substantive issues Hiring consultants however is also a sign of emptying out governments when governments outsource core tasks like policy articulation and cooperation with other governments they can loose the capability to develop high quality and democratic plans in a complex and interdependent world Instruments of Planning Rebecca Leshinsky, Crystal Legacy, 2015-08-11 Instruments of Planning Tensions and Challenges for more Equitable and Sustainable Cities critically explores planning s instrumentality to deliver important social and environmental outcomes in neoliberal planning landscapes Because each instrument is unique and may be tailored to its own jurisdictional needs Instruments of Planning is a compendium of case studies from urban regions in Australia Canada the United States and Europe providing readers with a collection that critically challenges the role and potential of planning instruments and instrumentality across a range of contexts Instruments of Planning captures the political institutional and economic challenges that confront planning It examines planning instruments designed to assist with strategic planning and implementation and considers the role that technology plays in unpacking and understanding complexity in planning Written by Rebecca Leshinsky and Crystal Legacy of RMIT University in Melbourne Australia this book fills the gap in planning theory about the instrumentality of planning in the neoliberal urban context It is essential reading for students urban researchers policy analysts and planning practitioners
