Rulers And Ruled In Late Medieval England Ebays Presented To Gerald Harrib:

Rulers and Ruled in Late Medieval England G. L. Harriss, Rowena E. Archer, Simon Walker, 1995-01-01 How power was distributed and exercised is a key issue in understanding attitudes and assumptions in late medieval England The essays in this volume all deal with those who had the power to make political decisions whether kings nobles or gentry courtiers or clergy While ultimately power rested on force it was enshrined in the law and more usually exercised by influence and by the dangling of reward Most disputes were settled without violence if often with recourse to prolonged struggles in the courts but those who offended against established interests could be punished severely as the cases of Sir John Mortimer and of Bishop Reginald Pecock show These essays presented to Gerald Harriss who has done so much to illuminate the history of the period show not only how power was exercised but also how men of the time thought about it Contributors Rowena E Archer Christine Carpenter Jeremy Catto Rosemary Horrox R W Hoyle Maurice Keen Dominic Luckett Philippa Maddern S J Payling Edward Powell Anthony Smith Simon Walker Christopher Woolgar Edmund Wright Living by the Sword Kristen Brooke Neuschel, 2020-11-15 Sharpen your knowledge of swords with Kristen B Neuschel as she takes you through a captivating 1 000 years of French and English history Living by the Sword reveals that warrior culture with the sword as its ultimate symbol was deeply rooted in ritual long before the introduction of gunpowder weapons transformed the battlefield Neuschel argues that objects have agency and that decoding their meaning involves seeing them in motion bought sold exchanged refurbished written about displayed and used in ceremony Drawing on evidence about swords from wills inventories records of armories and treasuries in the possession of nobles and royalty she explores the meanings people attached to them from the contexts in which they appeared These environments included other prestige goods such as tapestries jewels and tableware all used to construct and display status Living by the Sword draws on an exciting diversity of sources from archaeology military and social history literature and material culture studies to inspire students and educated lay readers including collectors and reenactors to stretch the boundaries of what they know as the war and culture genre

A Companion to Middle English Prose Anthony Stockwell Garfield Edwards, 2004 The essays in this volume provide an up to date and authoritative guide to the major prose Middle English authors and genres Each chapter is written by a leading authority on the subject and offers a succinct account of all relevant literary history and cultural factors that need to be considered together with bibliographical references Authors examined include the writers of the Ancrene Wisse the Katherine Group and the Wouhunge Group Richard Rolle Walter Hilton Nicholas Love Julian of Norwich Margery Kempe Sir John Mandeville John Trevisa Reginald Pecock and John Fortescue Genres discussed include romances saints lives letters sermon literature historical prose anonymous devotional writings Wycliffite prose and various forms of technical writing The final chapter examines the treatment of Middle English prose in the first age of print Contributors BELLA MILLETT RALPH HANNA III AD PUTTER KANTI K GHOSH BARRY A WINDEATT A C SPEARING IAN HIGGINS A S G EDWARDS VINCENT

Theatricality and Narrative in Medieval and Early Modern Scotland analyses narrative accounts of public theatricality in late medieval and early modern Scottish culture pre 1645 Literary texts such as journal memoir and chronicles reveal a complex spectatorship in which eye witness textual witness and the imagination interconnect The narrators represent a broad variety of public actions as theatrical included are instances of assault and assassination petition clerical interrogation dissent preaching play and display the performance of identity and the spectatorship of tourism Varying influences of personal experience oral tradition and existing written record colour the narratives Discernible also are those rhetorical and generic forms which witnesses employ to give a comprehensible shape to events Narratives of theatricality prove central for understanding early Scottish culture since they record moments of contact between those in power and those without it they show how participants aimed to influence both present spectators and the witness of history they reveal the contested nature of ambiguous public genres and they point up the pleasures and responsibilities of spectatorship McGavin demonstrates that early Scottish culture is revealed as much in its processes of witnessing as in that which it claims to witness Although the book s emphasis is on the early modern period its study of chronicle narratives takes it back from the period of their composition predominantly 15th and 16th century to earlier medieval events

From Robber Barons to Courtiers Monika E. Simon, 2021-08-04 Francis Lovell is without a doubt the most famous if not the only famous Lovell of Titchmarsh In 1483 he was he was made a viscount by Edward IV the first Lovell to be raised into the titled nobility He is most famous for being the chamberlain and close friend of Richard III the dog of William Collingbourne s famous doggerel Though Francis Lovell is the best known member of his family the Lovells were an old aristocratic family tracing their roots back to eleventh century Normandy Aside from the Battle of Hastings a Lovell can be found at virtually all important events in English history whether it was the crusade of Richard I the Battle of Lewes the siege of Calais the Lambert Simnel rebellion against Henry VII or the downfall of Anne Boleyn Over the centuries the Lovells rose in wealth and power through service to the crown rich marriages and to a considerable degree luck The history of the Lovells of Titchmarsh from their relatively obscure beginnings in the border region between France and Normandy to a powerful position at the royal court not only illustrates the fate of this one family but also throws an interesting light on the changes and developments in medieval and Tudor England Several themes emerge as constant in the lives of an aristocratic family over the five centuries covered in this book the profit and perils of service to the crown the influences of family tradition and personal choice loyalty and opportunism skill and luck and the roles of women in the family

Prisoners of War and Military Honour,

1789-1918 Jasper Heinzen, 2025-01-03 Early in the modern period prisoners of war with the rank of officer or equivalent had the right to petition for parole By effectively pawning their personal honour they were able to purchase freedom of movement and other privileges in captivity Increasingly other ranks and civilians claimed a right to parole too Based on material from close to thirty Australian British Dutch French German and Swiss archives Jasper Heinzen investigates the role and implications of honour based agreements between prisoners of war and their captors in western European warfare Across a range of ego documents ministerial memoranda the minutes of Masonic lodges and prisoners petitions as well as a substantial body of published material he demonstrates how captives statesmen and humanitarians understood honour in the long nineteenth century how they negotiated national differences and why parole d'honneur continued to matter as a code of conduct into the First World War In so doing the book demonstrates the dichotomy between good codes of conduct prevalent in the eighteenth century and the practices of modern warfare perpetuated by a substantial amount of scholarship to be a false one Explaining the longevity of parole in this novel way raises important questions about the so called military Enlightenment the excesses of the world wars total war and the practices and codes of modern warfare Authority

Gender and Emotions in Late Medieval and Early Modern England Susan Broomhall, 2015-07-21 This collection explores how situations of authority governance and influence were practised through both gender ideologies and affective performances in medieval and early modern England Authority is inherently relational it must be asserted over someone who allows or is forced to accept this dominance The capacity to exercise authority is therefore a social and cultural act one that is shaped by social identities such as gender and by social practices that include emotions The contributions in this volume exploring case studies of women and men's letter writing political and ecclesiastical governance household rule exercise of law and order and creative agency investigate how gender and emotions shaped the ways different individuals could assert or maintain authority or indeed disrupt or provide alternatives to conventional practices of authority Hoccleve's Regiment of Princes

Nicholas Perkins, 2001 In this study of Hoccleve's Regiment of Princes Perkins argues that despite the view of Hoccleve's politics and poetics as conventional servile and naive it is in fact deeply engaged in the political and literary currents of the early 15th century Richard II and the Rebel Earl A. Hardy,A. Dodd,Anne Dodd,Graham Keevill,Graham D. Keevill,2003 The minster church at Eynsham Oxfordshire was founded in the 7th or 8th century and refounded in 1005 as a Benedictine abbey The excavations carried out by Oxford Archaeology revealed substantial remains of the abbey tracing its history from its foundation until the Dissolution in 1538 9 The excavated precinct buildings included part of the Great Cloister refectory kitchens cellars domestic range and latrines A programme of geophysical survey was carried out in addition to the main excavation in order to study as much as possible of the abbey s inner and outer wards and to place the excavations in their wider context The recovery of archaeological evidence at the site combined with a study of documentary sources has provided a rare opportunity to study in depth the development and
