Empire and Holy War in the Mediterranean Phillip Williams, 2014-05-12 In the century after 1530 the Habsburgs of Spain and the Ottoman Turks fought a maritime war that seemed destined to lead nowhere Lasting peace was as unlikely as final triumph in part because the principal beneficiaries of the fighting were pirates or corsairs based in ports such as Malta and Algiers It was also a war of unequal means since the Habsburgs had too few good warships and the

Ottomans too many bad ones Phillip Williams here provides a detailed examination of the oared warships used in the fighting the structures of political and military organization the role of geography and the environment and the respective claims to be defending Christendom and Islam advanced by Habsburg rulers such as Charles V and Philip II and the Ottoman Sultan Suleyman the Magnificent Providing a unique perspective on early modern maritime conflict this book will be essential reading for all students and researchers of Mediterranean History and the early modern world Rulers and Ruled in Ancient Greece, Rome, and China Hans Beck, Griet Vankeerberghen, 2021-02-04 A comparative study of the ancient Mediterranean and Han China seen through the lens of political culture The Archaeology of the Mediterranean Iron Age Tamar Hodos, 2020-09-17 The Mediterranean s Iron Age period was one of its most dynamic eras Stimulated by the movement of individuals and groups on an unprecedented scale the first half of the first millennium BCE witnesses the development of Mediterranean wide practices including related writing systems common features of urbanism and shared artistic styles and techniques alongside the evolution of wide scale trade Together these created an engaged interlinked and interactive Mediterranean We can recognise this as the Mediterranean s first truly globalising era This volume introduces students and scholars to contemporary evidence and theories surrounding the Mediterranean from the eleventh century until the end of the seventh century BCE to enable an integrated understanding of the multicultural and socially complex nature of this incredibly vibrant period The Mediterranean in History David Abulafia, 2003 What is the Mediterranean Physical setting Trading empires Sea routes Mare Nostrum Christian Mediterranean Resurgent Islam Battleground of the European powers Globalized Mediterranean The Rulers of the Mediterranean Richar Harding Davis, 2016-08-28 The Rulers of the Mediterranean is an overview of the Mediterranean from Gibraltar to Egypt written in the late 19th century The Rulers of the Mediterranean Richard Harding Davis, 2016-05-01 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible Therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world and other notations in the work This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work As a reproduction of a historical artifact this work may contain missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant The Merovingian Kingdoms and the Mediterranean World Stefan Esders, Yitzhak Hen, Pia Lucas, Tamar Rotman, 2019-05-02 This book explores the Merovingian kingdoms in Gaul within a broader Mediterranean context Their politics and culture have mostly been interpreted in the past through a narrow local perspective but as the papers in this volume clearly demonstrate the Merovingian kingdoms had complicated and multi layered political religious and socio cultural relations with their Mediterranean counterparts from Visigothic Spain in the West to the Byzantine Empire in the East and from Anglo Saxon England in the North to North Africa in the South The papers collected here provide new insights into the history of the Merovingian kingdoms by examining various relevant issues ranging from identity formation to the shape and rules of diplomatic relations cultural transformation as well as voiced attitudes towards the other Each of the papers begins with a short excerpt from a primary source which serves as a stimulus for the discussion of broader issues The various sources point of view and their contextualization stand at the heart of the analysis thus ensuring that discussions are accessible to students and non specialists without jeopardizing the high academic standard of the debate A

Mediterranean Emporium David Abulafia,2002-05-09 Situated astride the trade routes of the western Mediterranean the Catalan kingdom of Majorca has long deserved attention It was established under the will of King James I of Aragon who conquered Majorca in 1229 but was ruled from 1276 to 1343 by a cadet dynasty In addition to the Balearic Islands the kingdom included the key business centres of Montpellier and Perpignan and other lands in what is now southern France It was also home to important Jewish and Muslim communities and was the focus of immigration from Catalonia Provence and Italy This book emphasises the major transformations in the trade of the Balearic Islands from the eve of the Catalan conquest to the Black Death and the effect of the kingdom s creation and demise on the economy of the region Links between the island and mainland territories and as far afield as England and the Canaries are analysed in depth Phoenicians
