Rupanjali In Memory Of Ocgangoly:

Rupanjali, in Memory of O.C. Gangoly Kalyan Kumar Ganguli, S. S. Biswas, 1986 The book includes well researched essays in various fields of Indology contributed by eminent scholars as a humble tribute to Prof Gangoly

Worldly Gurus and Spiritual Kings Tamara I. Sears, 2014-06-10 This pioneering book is the first full length study of the matha or Hindu monastery which developed in India at the turn of the first millennium. Rendered monumentally in stone, the matha represented more than just an architectural innovation; it signaled the institutionalization of asceticism into a formalized monastic practice as well as the emergence of the guru as an influential public figure. With entirely new primary research, Tamara I. Sears examines the architectural and archaeological histories of six little known monasteries in Central India and reveals the relationships between political power, religion, and the production of sacred space. This important work of scholarship features scrupulous original measured drawings providing a vast amount of new material and a much needed contribution to the fields of Asian art, religious studies, and cultural history. In introducing new categories of architecture, this book illuminates the potential of buildings to reconfigure not only social and ritual relationships but also the fundamental ontology of the world.

Glory of India, 1986 Grove Encyclopedia of Islamic Art & Architecture: Three-Volume Set Jonathan Bloom, Sheila Blair, 2009-05-14 The Grove Encyclopedia of Islamic Art and Architecture is the most comprehensive reference work in this complex and diverse area of art history. Built on the acclaimed scholarship of the Grove Dictionary of Art, this work offers over 1,600 up-to-date entries on Islamic art and architecture ranging from the Middle East to Central and South Asia, Africa, and Europe, and spans over a thousand years of history. Recent changes in Islamic art in areas such as Afghanistan, Iran, and Iraq are elucidated here by distinguished scholars. Entries provide in-depth art historical and cultural information about dynasties, art forms, artists, architecture, rulers, monuments, archaeological sites, and stylistic developments. In addition, over 500 illustrations of sculpture, mosaic, painting, ceramics, architecture, metalwork, and calligraphy illuminate the rich artistic tradition of the Islamic world. With the fundamental understanding that Islamic art is not limited to a particular region or to a defined period of time, The Grove Encyclopedia of Islamic Art and Architecture offers pathways into Islamic culture through its art.

Bibliography of Art and Architecture in the Islamic World (2 vols.) Susan Sinclair, 2012-04-03 Following the tradition and style of the acclaimed Index Islamicus, the editors have created this new Bibliography of Art and Architecture in the Islamic World. The editors have surveyed and annotated a wide range of books and articles from collected volumes and journals published in all European languages except Turkish between 1906 and 2011. This comprehensive bibliography is an indispensable tool for everyone involved in the study of material culture in Muslim societies.

Ārādhakamūrti/Adhiṣṭhāyakamūrti Jack C. Laughlin, 2003 Many aspects of Medieval Western Indian temple art have been the subject of scholarly attention One type of temple image which has been identified but heretofore unstudied is the portrait This study brings together evidence of more than 200 images of historical lay people and ascetics from the medieval temples of Gujarat and Rajasthan The author emphasizes Jain specimens but also includes a number of notable Hindu examples However it is the evidence of the Jain portraits that is by far the most significant This book provides some startling insights into the beliefs and practices of the vāmbara sect of Jainism in a period from about the 12th to 17th centuries The analysis of lay portraits illuminates some very significant episodes in this period of Jain history The discussion of monks' portraits presents much that is contrary to expectation Evidence indicates that even Jain monks donated portraits of other monks This is surprising since gifting is a practice commonly thought to be a lay prerogative and not allowed to ascetics The reasons for these monastic donations are discussed and investigated and reveal that the worldview of medieval Jain monks was often something very different from that portrayed in much of Jain scholarship to date
