Urban Anthropology in China Gregory Eliyu Guldin,Aidan Southall,2023-07-24 This book is based on the papers that were presented at the First International Urban Anthropology Conference which was opened in Beijing on December 28 1989. It contains twenty two papers and six introductory contributions dealing with the following subjects: Comparative Urbanism, Socialist and Asian Cities, Chinese Urbanization, Chinese Urban Ethnicity, Chinese Urban Culture and Life Cycle. These papers are written by Chinese and non Chinese authors. The conference of 1989-1990 marked the beginning of urban anthropology in China. Before this the objects of ethnological, sociological and anthropological research in China were rural rather than urban. Besides the attention of scholars was mostly directed towards the ethnic minorities in China. In the late 1970s however contacts with Western anthropologists helped in redirecting part of Chinese anthropology towards the study of urban conglomerations. The congress of 1989-90 marked the acceptance of this new approach in China.

North China Villages Sidney David Gamble, 1963 Strangers at the Gate Frederic E. Wakeman, Zinc for Coin and Brass Hailian Chen, 2018-11-26

Hailian Chen's pioneering study presents the first comprehensive history of Chinese zinc, an essential base metal used to produce brass and coin and a global commodity over the long eighteenth century. Zinc she argues played a far greater role in the Qing economy and in integrating China into an emerging global economy than has previously been recognized. Using commodity chain analysis and exploring over 5,800 items of archival documents, Chen demonstrates how this metal was produced, transported, traded and consumed by human agents. Situating the zinc story within the human environment framework, this book covers a broad and interdisciplinary range of political economy, material culture, environment, technology and society which casts new light on our understanding of early modern China.
