Rural Industrialisation Problems And Issues:

Industrialization and China's Rural Modernization Dong Fureng, 2016-07-27 This book analyses China's historical experience of industrialization. It adopts a critical stance towards China's development strategy and proposes an alternative approach outlining its main features. Due to the great importance and special problems of China's rural modernization, special attention is devoted to analysis of the rural sector. Many of China's rural socio-economic problems are similar to those encountered in other developing countries. It is intended that the book will increase understanding of China's socio-economic development as well as contributing to wider debates in the theory of economic development. Growth, Structural Transformation, and Rural Change in Viet Nam Finn Tarp, 2017 Provides in-depth evaluation of the development of rural life in Viet Nam over the past decade combining a unique primary source of time series panel data with the best micro-econometric analytical tools available. The Industrialization of Rural China Chris Bramall, 2007 The Industrialization of Rural China highlights the economic social achievements of the Maoist regime. Using a constructed dataset covering China's 2000 plus counties complemented by a detailed econometric study of county level industrialization in the provinces of Sichuan Guangdong Jiangsu, the author shows that history mattered. Rural Industrialisation T. M. Dak, 1989 Viewed mainly as the growth of manufacturing sector as opposed to agriculture and the increased use of inanimate sources of power in the production of goods and services, rural industrialization offers the greatest scope for absorbing the existing and growing labour force outside the field of agriculture. However, rural industrial scene continues to be characterised by the concentration of labour force in agriculture, predominance of traditional crafts, low levels of technology, hereditary mode of production, poor productivity and returns and low labour efficiency and utilisation. Besides glorification of traditional crafts and self-employment, caste industry nexus and above all policy bias in favour of agriculture as against industry and large and medium capital intensive industries as against small village and cottage industries also worked as strong impediments to the development of rural crafts. Drawing from the nationwide experiences, this book examines the problems of the growth and modernisation of rural industries from socio-economic perspectives and probes into the organisational and technology system underlying their production structure with all its implications and ramifications. The reversal of the policy favouring large modern industry sector and the spread of tiny small industries throughout the country with full package of organisational, technical, financial and marketing support in adequate measure have been strongly advocated. In addition, the integration of the development of rural industries with the overall programme of industrialisation was emphasized. Issues and Challenges of Development Bikram Keshari Pattanaik, 2025-04-24 This book presents a balanced and accessible introduction to the core issues and challenges of development. It covers the key aspects of development in contemporary times, its relationship with agriculture, industrialization and services, sustainable and inclusive development, issues of marginalization and women's empowerment. This volume focuses on the uniquely multi-dimensional challenges faced by developing countries.

which extend to the fields of economics sociology administration politics and environment The sectoral issues in development which comprise agriculture industries and services sectors are useful subjects for enhancing economic growth and development of the nation states Replete with case studies of different countries juxtaposed with the Indian scenario this book caters to student needs across various disciplines It will be useful to undergraduate and postgraduate students researchers and teachers of development studies economics sociology political science and public administration It will be equally useful for administration officials of the central and state governments policymakers non governmental organization NGO staff and corporate sector functionaries dealing with corporate social responsibilities Problems And Prospects Of Small Industries R.N. Misra,2005 Agriculture plays a vital role in Indian economy from the very inception of economic planning Agriculture alone cannot solve all the basic problems of the country like unemployment So small Industries play a key role for economic development of the country India is a country of resources unless these resources are utilised in full the development of the country is not possible so establishment of small industries in rural as well as in urban areas are essential This book is of immense value It throws light on various angles of Small Industries of our country The book is very helpful to the planners teachers research scholars students government agencies and non government agencies which are concerned with the economic development of the country as a whole Urban Development - Challenges and Progress

Dr.Sukanta Sarkar,2014 Rural Poverty in Developing Countries Mr.Mahmood Hasan Khan,2000-04-01 In most developing countries poverty is more widespread and severe in rural than in urban areas The author reviews some important aspects of rural poverty and draws key implications for public policy He presents a policy framework for reducing poverty taking into account the functional differences and overlap between the rural poor Several policy options are delineated and explained including stable management of the macroeconomic environment transfer of assets investment in and access to the physical and social infrastructure access to credit and jobs and provision of safety nets Finally some guideposts are identified for assessing strategies to reduce rural poverty Sustainable Development - Issues and Challenges I Mr. Rohit

Perspectives On Business Management Volume-1 Sruthi. S, Rural Development in Punjab Autar S. Dhesi, Gurmail Singh, 2020-11-29 For many years agricultural development in Punjab symbolised one of the most successful experiments in rural development However this success story seems to be going astray The crux of the problem this volume suggests is that externally driven modernization to meet national food needs pushed Punjab into highly specialized production of wheat and rice resulting in over utilisation of natural resources with adverse environmental consequences that jeopardizing the long term viability and sustainability of the agrarian economy Stagnating productivity reduced farm size falling household incomes depleting groundwater resources are only a few of the problems that characterise Punjab's agriculture today The book establishes clearly that rural development implies more than transformation of traditional agriculture Apart from ensuring efficient use of limited resources to sustain agricultural production rural policy should encompass promotion of non farm activities investments in social and economic structure and civic amenities The Social Consequences And Challenges Of New Agricultural Technologies Gigi M Berardi, Charles C Geisler, 2019-07-11 Although formal social impact assessment of changing technologies in U S agriculture is still in its infancy scholars have been documenting the effects of new technology throughout the twentieth century In this collection Professors Berardi and Geisler bring together historically relevant research and a carefully chosen cross section of contemporary work Their review of the literature is followed by an evaluation of the effects of mechanization on labor and production written in 1904 which provides a backdrop for papers from the 1940s and 1950s examining the mechanization of agriculture in the South in the Midwest and in rural areas in general Subsequent chapters offer present day insights on such topics as the socioeconomic consequences of automated vegetable and tobacco harvesting center pivot irrigation and organic and no till cultivation The authors also look at compensation and adjustment programs for displaced labor the relationship between technology and agribusiness growth and the effectiveness of university programs that prepare students to perform social impact assessments in agriculture The edited proceedings of a spirited roundtable discussion on new directions for the study of the social impacts of farm technology and the political economy of agriculture provide the thought provoking conclusion to this overview of the field

Rural Industrialization in China Jon Sigurdson, 2020-03-17 Small scale industries in rural areas in China are today an essential element of regional development programs This monograph analyzes two main development strategies One involves technology choices in a number of industrial sectors most of which were initiated during the Great Leap Forward in the late fifties The scaling down of modern large scale technology through a product or quality choice combined with changes in the manufacturing processes is discussed at some length for nitrogen chemical fertilizer and cement The other approach is the integrated rural development strategy where a number of activities are integrated within or closely related to the commune system This strategy includes industry as only one component of many instruments where improved public health education and improved agricultural technology contribute to achieving such policy objectives as increased employment and productivity

Industrial Development for the 21st Century David O'Connor, Monica Kjollerstrom, 2008-06-01 With very few exceptions industrial development has been central to the process of structural transformation which characterises economic development Industrial Development for the 21st century examines the new challenges and opportunities arising from globalization technological change and new international trade rules The first part focuses on key sectors with potential for developing countries focussing on two key themes First traditional points of entry for late industrializers like textiles and clothing have become even more intensely competitive than ever before requiring more innovative adaptive strategies for success Second countries now recognize that manufacturing does not exhaust the opportunities for producing high value added goods and services for international markets Knowledge intensity is increasing across all spheres of economic activity including agriculture and services which can offer promising development paths for some developing countries The final section addresses social and environmental aspects of industrial development Labour intensive but not necessarily other patterns of industrial development can be highly effective in poverty reduction though further industrial progress may be less labour intensive A range of policies can promote industrial energy and materials efficiency often with positive impacts on firms financial performance as well as the environment Promoting materials recycling and reuse is an effective if indirect means of conserving resources Finally the growth of multinational interest in corporate social responsibility is traced with consideration given to both the barriers and opportunities this can pose for developing country enterprises linked to global supply chains

Peri-Urban China Li Tian,Yan Guo,2019-04-02 The urban rural relationship in China is key to a sustainable global future This book is particularly interested in peri urbanization in China the process by which fringe areas of cities develop Recent institutional change has helped clarify property rights over collective land facilitating peri urban area development Chapters in this book explore how rural industrialization has changed the landscape and rules about land use in peri urban areas It looks at the role of rural industrialization and provides a detailed exploration of peri urbanization theory policy and its evolution in China Leading discussions find out how fragmented bottom up industrialization urbanization and lax governance have led to a series of social and environmental problems The progress in redevelopment of peri urban areas was initially slow due to the spatial lock in effect This book offers practical solutions to environmental issues and explains how policymakers have the potential to redevelop a future collaborative inclusive and sustainable approach to peri urban areas This in depth approach to urbanization will be useful to academics in urban planning and governmental organizations It will also be advantageous to NGOs and professionals involved in urban planning public administration as well as land use work in China and other developing countries

Confronting the Challenges of Urbanization in China Zai Liang,Steven F. Messner,Youqin Huang,Cheng Chen,2016-08-05 Since the late 1970s China has experienced an unprecedented pace of urbanization In 1978 only 17.8% of the population resided in urban areas but by 2013 the level of urbanization had reached 53.8% During the same period China also enjoyed spectacular economic growth China had become the second largest economy in the world by 2012 just behind the United States Despite China's highly acclaimed achievements in urbanization and its economic miracle urban China confronts a set of significant challenges This book provides theoretically informed and empirically rich analyses of some of the key challenges facing China's urbanization The first part deals with new patterns of urbanization focusing on comprehensive measures and environmental dimensions of urbanization The second part of the book focuses on several aspects related to migrants in cities migrant entrepreneurship return migration and local people's attitudes toward migrants The final section examines two key issues important for migrants urban local residents and policy makers that have become quite contentious in China today housing and urban health care This collection presents original cutting edge research on some of the most pressing challenges confronting contemporary urban China conducted by researchers from multiple social science disciplines It will appeal to scholars and advanced students of urban studies and China studies as well as those in sociology anthropology geography and political science
