Rural Artists Colonies In Europe 1870 1910:

Rural Artists' Colonies in Europe, 1870-1910 Nina Lübbren, 2001 This ground breaking book presents a critical study of pictorial narrative in nineteenth century European painting Covering works from France Germany Britain Italy and elsewhere it traces the ways in which immensely popular artists like Jean L on G r me Karl von Piloty and William Quiller Orchardson used unique visual strategies to tell thrilling and engaging stories Regardless of genre content or national context these paintings share a fundamental modern narrative mode Unlike traditional art they do not rely on textual sources nor do they tell stories through the human body alone Instead they experiment with objects spaces cause and effect relations and open ended ambiguity prompting viewers and reviewers to read for clues in order to weave their own elaborate tales

Revolutionary Spring Christopher Clark, 2024-06-11 New York Times Book Review Editors Choice From the bestselling author of The Sleepwalkers comes an epic history of the 1848 revolutions that swept Europe and the charismatic figures who propelled them forward Refreshingly original Familiar characters are given vibrancy and previously unknown players emerge from the shadows The Times UK A BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR New Yorker The Economist Financial Times As history the uprisings of 1848 have long been overshadowed by the French Revolution of 1789 and the Russian revolutions of the early twentieth century. And yet in 1848 nearly all of Europe was aflame with conflict. Parallel political tumults spread like brush fire across the entire continent leading to significant changes that continue to shape our world today. These battles for the future were fought with one eye kept squarely on the past. The men and women of 1848 saw the urgent challenges of their world as shaped profoundly by the past and saw themselves as inheritors of a revolutionary tradition. Celebrated Cambridge historian Christopher Clark describes 1848 as the particle collision chamber at the center of the European nineteenth century, a moment when political movements and ideas from socialism and democratic radicalism to liberalism, nationalism, corporatism and conservatism were tested and transformed. The insurgents asked questions that sound modern to our ears: What happens when demands for political or economic liberty conflict with demands for social rights? How do we reconcile representative and direct forms of democracy? How is capitalism connected to social inequality? The revolutions of 1848 were short lived but their impact on public life and political thought throughout Europe and beyond has been profound. Meticulously researched, elegantly written and filled with a cast of charismatic figures including the social theorist Alexis de Tocqueville, the writer George Sand and the troubled priest Flicit de Lamennais who struggled to reconcile his faith with politics, Revolutionary Spring offers a new understanding of 1848 that suggests chilling parallels to our present moment. Looking back at the revolutions from the end of the first quarter of the twenty first century it is impossible not to be struck by the resonances. Clark writes: If a revolution is coming for us it may look something like 1848.

Faaborg Museum and the Artists' Colony

Flemming Branddrup, Gry Hedin, Gertrud Hvidberg Hansen, Peter Thule Christensen, Anders V. Munch, 2019-05-11. Behind rolling hills overlooking the fjord and the islands of Southern Funen in Denmark lies the Faaborg Museum. With its boldly coloured walls and decorative tile floors made from local clay, the building has quite literally sprung from Funen's soil in a symbiosis of local nature and culture. Inside, visitors will find art by the Funen Painters created during the period 1880 to 1928 when Faaborg was home to one of Denmark's pre-eminent artists' colonies. With their paintings of rural Funen, farmworkers and domestic scenes, the artists Peter Hansen, Fritz and Anna Syberg, Jens Birkholm and Johannes Larsen introduced new subject matter and new methods of painting to Danish art. Faaborg Museum and the Artists' Colony presents the history of Faaborg Museum, its architecture, collection and artists to international audiences for the first time. Lavishly illustrated, the book features architectural photographs and plans as well as pictures of the museum's art.

Resorts and Ports Peter Borsay, John K. Walton, 2011-10-14. Histories of seaports and coastal resorts have usually been kept in separate compartments. This book brings them together and looks at how resort development affected historic ports during the rise and development of the seaside holiday in Europe from the 18th century to the 20th and what the attributes of ports, fishing harbours, crafts, the whiff of the exotic, fishermen's homes and families contributed to the attractions of resorts. Case studies drawn from across Europe from Wales and the Netherlands to Norway, Latvia and Spain bring original perspectives to bear on these histories and relationships and consider their influence on seaside heritage and regeneration at a time when coastal settlements are increasingly using their past to secure their future The book will interest academics in tourism studies history geography and cultural studies as well as provide essential information and analysis for policy makers in coastal regeneration

Aesthetics as a Religious Factor in Eastern and Western Christianity William Peter van den Bercken, Jonathan Sutton, 2005 This volume contains selected papers of a conference in 2004 at Utrecht University on aesthetics as a religious factor in Eastern and Western Christianity They discuss the role of aesthetics in the presentation and expression of Christian faith in Catholic and Orthodox tradition During its history Christianity has produced many works of art church architecture iconography painting music and literary texts And in Orthodoxy beauty has always been the main form of religious expression more than verbal presentation of Christian teaching which is embedded in the aesthetic context of liturgy In Christian theology beauty has often been seen as a form of divine revelation related to the mystery of incarnation The relation between aesthetics and religious belief has acquired new relevance in our secularised world Today the visible products of Catholic and Orthodox aesthetics are for many people the main means through which they come into contact with Christianity and many people without affinity to religion are attracted by the beauty of Christian art inside and outside the church In modern religious studies the experience of beauty is recognised as a factor in explaining religious feelings The papers are divided in four sections 1 Comparative aspects of Orthodox and Catholic aesthetics 2 Religious aesthetics in Russian literary culture 3 Applied aesthetics in church art 4 Art theoretical ideological and religious philosophical aspects
