Russia And The Fifth Continent Aspects Of Russian Australian Relations:

Russia and the Fifth Continent John McNair, Thomas Ray Poole, 1992 Russian Anzacs in Australian History Elena Govor, 2005 Extraordinarily it was men born in the former Russian Empire that constituted the most numerous group in the First Australian Imperial Force after those of Anglo Celtic background This book a history of Russian multiethnic communities in Australia follows the hidden lives of these Anzacs through and beyond the war Russians in Cold War Australia Sheila Fitzpatrick, Phillip Deery, 2024-02-19 This book explores the time during the Cold War when Russian displaced persons including former Soviet citizens were amongst the hundreds of thousands of immigrants given assisted passage to Australia and other Western countries in the wake of the Second World War A New Rival State? Alexander Massov, Marina Pollard, Kevin Windle, 2018-10-18 A New Rival State is a unique collection of dispatches written in 1857 1917 by the Russian consuls in Melbourne to the Imperial Russian Embassy in London and the Russian Foreign Ministry in St Petersburg Written by eight consuls they offer a Russian view of the development of the settler colonies in the late nineteenth century and the first years of the federated Commonwealth of Australia They cover the federalist movement the changing domestic political situation labour politics the treatment of the Indigenous population the White Australia policy Australia s defensive capacity and foreign policy as part of the British Empire The bulk of the material is drawn from the Russian language collection The Russian Consular Service in Australia 1857 1917 edited by Alexander Massov and Marina Pollard 2014 using documents from the archive of the Russian Foreign Ministry Sir William Rooke Creswell and the Foundation of the Australian Navy Sheila Dwyer, 2014-03-26 The six Australian colonies united on 1st January 1901 to become the Commonwealth of Australia One of the reasons given for this federation was that the Commonwealth could provide a common defence William Rooke Creswell argued that as an island continent Australia could not defend itself without a navy He saw no point in having a 70 000 strong army if only one enemy battleship could destroy port cities and disrupt maritime trade and sea communications Creswell was not alone in his campaign to establish a navy for Australia but he was the one constant advocate throughout the years from his first proposals on a navy for Australia in 1886 to when the first ships of the Australian Fleet sailed into Sydney Harbour in October 1913 Languages other than English in Australian Higher Education Jennifer Joan Baldwin, 2019-01-29 This book researches the study of languages other than English and their place in the Australian tertiary sector Languages are discussed in the context of the histories of Australian universities and the series of reports and surveys about languages across the second half of the twentieth century It demonstrates how changes in the ethnic mix of society are reflected in language offerings and how policies on languages have changed as a result of societal influences Also discussed is the extent to which influencing factors changed over time depending on social cultural political and economic contexts and the extent to which governments prioritised the promotion and funding of languages because of their perceived contribution to the national interest The book will give readers an understanding as to whether languages have mattered to Australia in a national and international sense and how Australia's attention to languages has been reflected in its identity and its sense of place in the world

Communism in Australia Beverley Symons, 1994 This bibliography covers the 70 years of existence of the Communist Party in Australia The material listed relates not only to the CPA but to its allied and breakaway movements from 1920 to 1991 Contains over 3400 references and includes a name index

Displaced Comrades Ebony Nilsson, 2023-11-02 This book explores the lives of left wing Soviet refugees who fled the Cold War to settle in Australia and uncovers how they adjusted to life under surveillance in the West As Cold War tensions built in the postwar years many of these refugees happily resettled in the West as model refugees proof of capitalist countries superiority But for a few this was not the case Displaced Comrades provides an account of these Cold War misfits those refugees who fled East for West but remained left wing or pro Soviet Drawing on interviews government records and surveillance dossiers from multiple continents this book explores how these refugees ideas took root in new ways As these radical ideas drew suspicion from western intelligence these everyday lives were put under surveillance shadowed by the persistent threat of espionage With unprecedented access to intelligence records Nilsson focuses on how a number of these left wing refugees adjusted to life in Australia opening up a previously invisible segment of postwar migration history and offering a new exploration of life as a Soviet enemy alien in the West

Australians and the First World War Kate Ariotti, James E. Bennett, 2017-08-11 This book contributes to the global turn in First World War studies by exploring Australians engagements with the conflict across varied boundaries and by situating Australian voices and perspectives within broader more complex contexts This diverse and multifaceted collection includes chapters on the composition and contribution of the Australian Imperial Force the experiences of prisoners of war nurses and Red Cross workers the resonances of overseas events for Australians at home and the cultural legacies of the war through remembrance and representation The local global framework provides a fresh lens through which to view Australian connections with the Great War demonstrating that there is still much to be said about this cataclysmic event in modern history

Reference Guide to Russian Literature Neil Cornwell, 2013-12-02 First Published in 1998 This volume will surely be regarded as the standard guide to Russian literature for some considerable time to come It is therefore confidently recommended for addition to reference libraries be they academic or public

The Transnational Voices of Australia's Migrant and Minority Press Catherine Dewhirst, Richard Scully, 2020-11-13 This edited collection invites the reader to enter the diverse worlds of Australia's migrant and minority communities through the latest research on the contemporary printed press spanning the mid nineteenth century to our current day With a focus on the rare radical and foreign language print culture of multiple and frequently concurrent minority groups newspaper ventures this volume has two overarching aims firstly to demonstrate how the local experiences and narratives of such communities are always forged and negotiated within a context of globalising forces the global within the local and secondly to enrich an understanding of the complexity of Australian voices through this medium not only as a means for appreciating how the cultural heritage of such communities were sustained but also for exploring their contributions to the wider society Radical Sydney Terry Irving, Rowan J. Cahill, 2010 Sydney a beautiful international city with impressive buildings harbour side walkways public gardens cafes restaurants theatres and hotels This is the way Sydney is represented to its citizens and to the rest of the world But there has always been another Sydney not viewed so fondly by the city's rulers a radical part of Sydney The working class suburbs to the south and west of the city were large and explosive places of marginalised ideas bohemian neighbourhoods dissident politics and contentious action Through a series of snapshots Radical Sydney traces its development from The Rocks in the 1830s to the inner suburbs of the 1980s It includes a range of incidents people and places from freeing protestors in the anti conscription movement resident action movements in Kings Cross anarchists in Glebe to Gay Rights marches on Oxford Street and Black Power in Redfern Australian National Bibliography: 1992 National Library of Australia, 1988 Communism Jeff Sparrow, 2007-02-01 For more than seventy years idealists and rebels of all stripes saw in the Communist Party the best hope for a world remade Who were the people who dedicated themselves to that beautiful dream How did they experience its shimmering promise and cope with its shattering collapse This is the story of Guido Baracchi the playboy and dilettante who experienced communism at its best and its very worst His love affair with Marxism took him from his father's astronomical observatory to the rough halls of the legendary Wobblies He debated Bob Menzies at the University of Melbourne he wooed novelist Katharine Susannah Prichard on a luxury ocean liner he belonged to illegal organisations in two world wars The Sun dubbed him Melbourne's Lenin and ASIO classified him a person of bad moral character and violent and unstable political views From Weimar Germany to Stalin's Russia from Melbourne's Pentridge gaol to the bohemian colony of Montsalvat Baracchi entwined political intrigue with a series of tempestuous romances with poets artists and playwrights Yet communism remained his real love and communism broke his heart in a betrayal that still resonates in the political choices available today Chinese in Australian Fiction, 1888-1988 , Our Unswerving Loyalty David W. Lovell, Kevin Windle, 2008-08-01 The story of the Communist Party of Australia has been told in various ways Until now however archival collections that have borne on this story have been relatively inaccessible to the ordinary interested reader This book begins to redress that deficiency by bringing together 85 key documents from the Russian State Archives of Social and Political History RGASPI selected from a collection of thousands of documents concerning the relations between the Communist International and the Communist Party of Australia The selection focuses on the relationship between the CPA and the Comintern because the activities of the CPA are essentially incomprehensible without understanding the international communist context within which the CPA operated That context was dominated by the newly created Soviet state and its decision to authorize and utilize a network of communist parties throughout the world Settling the Office Paul Strangio, Paul 't Hart, James Walter, 2016-02-01 The prime ministership is indisputably the most closely observed and keenly contested office in Australia How did it grow to become the pivot of national political power Settling the Office chronicles the development of the prime ministership from its rudimentary early days following Federation through to the powerful institutionalised prime ministerial leadership of the postwar era

Labour and the politics of Empire Neville Kirk,2017-02-01 This is a pathbreaking comparative and trans national study of the neglected influences of nation empire and race upon the development and electoral fortunes of the Labour Party in Britain and the Australian Labor Party from their formative years of the 1900s to the elections of 2010 Based upon extensive primary and secondary source based research in Britain and Australia over several years it makes a new and original contribution to the fields of labour imperial and British world history The book offers the challenging conclusion that the forces of nation empire and race exerted much greater influence upon Labour politics in both countries than suggested by traditionalists and revisionists alike The book will appeal to undergraduates postgraduates scholars in history and politics and all those interested in and concerned with the past present and future of Labour politics in Britain Australia and more generally

Australian Politics in a Digital Age Peter John Chen,2013-02-01 The first comprehensive volume on the impact of digital media on Australian politics this book examines the way these technologies shape political communication alter key public and private institutions and serve as the new arena in which discursive and expressive political life is performed Publisher s description

East Central European Migrations During the Cold War Anna Mazurkiewicz,2019-05-06 An extremely useful and much needed survey Over eleven chapters authors from eight countries cover the complex history of migration from the perspective of Central and Eastern Europe between 1945 and 1993 Following in the footsteps of Klaus Bade s Encyclopedia of European Migrations the authors make extensive use of sources in national languages while providing an extensive overview of population movements in the region between the Baltic Black and Adriatic Seas The individual chapters shed light on phenomena overlooked in other volumes including individual state reactions to various migratory phenomenon and the political economic and ideological consequences of human movement The chapters of this volume are uniform not only in their informative nature but also in suggesting new pathways for in depth research Adam Walaszek Jagiellonian University Krak w Poland Eastern Europe is an emblematic space of mobility and its Cold War history cannot be told without considering migration from and into the countries of the region This volume comes at a timely moment and provides a uniquely comprehensive account full with useful information for further research It will be a must read both for migration studies scholars and for area specialists Ulf Brunnbauer Leibniz Institute for East and Southeast European Studies Regensburg Germany The Handbook is a gift to students of migration on three counts It gathers the expertise of scholars fluent in the languages and familiar with the archives of Eastern and Central Europe Thus it brings the multi layered and complex histories of movement beyond the flat descriptor of Soviet bloc or Eastern European migrations The Handbook is both rich and lucid presenting in depth materials on the European twentieth century on one hand and organizing each chapter in a similar way offering the reader transparently comparable histories From Estonia south to Albania and from the USSR west to the GDR each chapter elucidates a complex migration history distinguished by national politics ethnic composition and economics moving from the cataclysmic impacts of World War II to the international migrations and politics of Cold War movement as well as the politics of Cold War emigrants themselves Each chapter ends with an epilogue on post 1989 international migrations and a valuable addendum on published and archival sources Finally the Handbook models the kind of high quality work produced by international scholarly cooperation at its best Leslie Page Moch Michigan State University Table of contents Introduction Anna Mazurkiewicz Albania Agata Domachowska Baltic States Estonia Latvia and Lithuania Pauli Heikkil Bulgaria Detelina Dineva Czechoslovakia Michael Cude and Ellen Paul Germany Bethany Hicks Hungary Katalin K d r Lynn Poland S awomir ukasiewicz Romania Beatrice Scutaru Ukraine Anna Fi USSR Alexey Antoshin Yugoslavia Brigitte Le Normand
