Memories of the Mansion Sandra D. Deal, Jennifer W. Dickey, Catherine M. Lewis, 2015-10-01. Designed by Atlanta architect A. Thomas Bradbury and opened in 1968, the mansion has been home to eight first families and houses a distinguished collection of American art and antiques. Often called the people's house, the mansion is always on display, always serving the public. Memories of the Mansion tells the story of the Georgia Governor's Mansion, what preceded it, and how it came to be, as well as the stories of the people who have lived and worked here since its opening in 1968. The authors worked closely with the former first families (Maddox, Carter, Busbee, Harris, Miller, Barnes, Perdue, and Deal) to capture behind-the-scenes anecdotes of what life was like in the state's most public house. This richly illustrated book not only documents this extraordinary place and the people who have lived and worked here, but it will also help ensure the preservation of this historic resource so that it may continue to serve the state and its people.

Understanding Everyday Communicative Interactions Julie A. Hengst, 2020-03-25. Understanding Everyday Communicative Interactions is a unique text that uses a situated discourse analysis (SDA) framework to examine basic human communication and the interactions of those with communicative disorders in everyday and clinical settings. The book introduces SDA as a theoretical and empirical approach for examining the complexities of communicative interaction. It explores how people collaborate in everyday contexts to communicate successfully and how they learn to do so. From close analysis of a pretend game played by two children and their father to an observation of a man with aphasia and his family at a football match, the present volume offers rich portraits of communicative lives and illustrates the applications of SDA. The final part of the book uses SDA methods to demonstrate how clinicians can function as communication partners, even during assessments and can design rich communicative environments for therapeutic interventions In explaining the SDA framework and equipping readers with the tools to understand the nature of human communication this sophisticated and engaging book will be an essential reference for students researchers and clinicians in communication sciences and disorders
