for cultivating creative thinking and encourages the wonder that comes when children are allowed to freely explore the creative process and their materials. As children work through these open ended workshops, adults are guided on how to be facilitators who provide questions, encourage deep thinking, and help spark an excitement for discovery. Children explore basic materials and workshops that use minimal supplies and then gradually add new materials to fill the art cabinets as well as new skills and more complex workshops. Most workshops are suitable to preschool aged children and each contains ideas for explorations and new twists to engage older or more experienced artists. Interspersed throughout are sidebar essays that introduce perspectives on mess making, imperfection, the role of adult collaborative art, and thoughts on the Reggio Emilia method, a self-guided teaching philosophy. These pieces underscore the value of art making with children and support the parent teacher care giver on how to successfully lead, question, and navigate their children through the workshops to result in the fullest experiences.

The Dot Peter H. Reynolds, 2013-09-10 Features an audio read along. With a simple witty story and free spirited illustrations, Peter H. Reynolds entices even the stubbornly uncreative among us to make a mark and follow where it takes us. Her teacher smiled. Just make a mark and see where it takes you. Art class is over but Vashti is sitting glued to her chair in front of a blank piece of paper. The words of her teacher are a gentle invitation to express herself. But Vashti can't draw, she's no artist. To prove her point, Vashti jabs at a blank sheet of paper to make an unremarkable and angry mark. There she says, "That one little dot marks the beginning of Vashti's journey of surprise and self discovery." That special moment is the core of Peter H. Reynolds's delicate fable about the creative spirit in all of us.
