Faculty of Arts at the University of Adelaide 1876-2012 Nick Harvey, Jean Fornasiero, Greg McCarthy, Clem Macintyre, Carl Crossin, 2012 The Bachelor of Arts BA was the first recognised degree at the University of Adelaide Although informal classes for some subjects were held at the University between 1873 and 1875 the first official University lecture was a Latin lecture at 10 am on Monday 28 March 1876 This was followed by lectures in Greek English and Mental Philosophy By 1878 the first BA student Thomas Ainslie Caterer completed his studies for the BA degree and in 1879 became the first graduate of the University of Adelaide Even though the BA was the first degree it was not until eight years later in 1887 that the Faculty of Arts was inaugurated after the Faculty of Law in 1884 a Board of Studies in Music in 1885 and the Faculty of Medicine in 1885 Following the creation of a separate science degree in 1882 many scientific subjects were removed from the BA For the next five years the subjects were Latin Greek Mathematics Natural Philosophy Logic English History and Comparative Philology Later other subjects such as French German and Political Economy were added toward the end of the nineteenth century In 1897 the Elder Conservatorium of Music was created as the first music school of its type in Australia although at that time it was not part of the Faculty of Arts In the first 50 years of the Universitys existence less than ten BA students graduated each year At the start of the 21st century this figure had climbed to over 300 BA graduates per year but what is interesting is that by 2010 the number of BA graduates was equalled by the number of graduates from separate named degrees within the Faculty plus 70 Music graduates In addition during the first decade of the twenty first century there were over 60 coursework postgraduates plus more than 40 research postgraduates graduating each year

Selenium in Agriculture Myron Sallee Anderson, 1961 Critical Issues in South African Education Charl C. Wolhuter, 2020-12-31 The main thesis of this book is that given that South African education faces major challenges the BRICS Brazil Russia India China and South Africa constellation of states offers thus far overlooked a valuable tertium comparationis a source of international comparative perspectives to inform the domestic scholarly discourse on education This book first investigates the national contexts and development of education in the BRICS countries arguing that this grouping represents a valuable but yet overlooked field for illuminating South African education issues with international perspectives The book consists of chapters arguing for and illustrating this thesis from a variety of angles Common to all chapters is that authors used the comparative method in education that is comparing the national education system in their education societal context interrelationships of the BRICS countries The chapters focus on a number of critical issues in South African education including the language of learning and teaching issue the alignment of the world of education with the world of work early childhood education and the development of world class universities Regarding the last for example China has been the terrain of the most intensive national projects of establishing world class universities with Project 985 Project 211 and the Double First Class University project The chapters demonstrate what South Africa in approaching her education issues can learn from the experience of the BRICS countries Cohesion Policy in the European Union R. Leonardi, 2005-04-20 This volume assesses the implementation of the EU's cohesion policy and the role that the policy has in stimulating ten new member states from eastern and southern European countries to join the EU in 2004 and another three to four countries that will join in the near future Forest Development in Cold Climates John Norman Alden, John Alden, J. Louise Mastrantonio, Søren Ødum, 1993-06-30 Required reading for forest scientists Northeastern Naturalist Desertification: Causes, Impacts and Consequences Roy H. Behnke, 2015-12-07 It now seems incontrovertible as Alessandra Giannini has demonstrated that the series of Sahelian droughts that began in the early 1970s were driven by changes in sea surface temperatures and that they were not caused by local land use mismanagement in the Sahel itself Combined with the apparent re-greening of the Sahel these findings effectively close a long standing policy and scientific debate in which the lead authors of this book participated on the causes and extent of desertification in the Sahel The opportunity now presents itself to treat this debate as a historical object lesson in the relationship between science the formation of public opinion and international policy making in the context of climate change In short what might the great Sahelian desertification boondoggle have to tell us about current attempts to come to grips with climate change Tobacco or Health? Knut-Olaf Haustein, David Groneberg, 2009-09-21 This book comprehensively summarizes the adverse effects of tobacco smoking on human health The current second edition has integrated a large set of new data that have been published in numerous scientific studies and meta analyses over the past few years Unfortunately the harmful sequelae of tobacco smoking are played down by the industry and politicians in many industrialized countries However about 800 000 people year in the EU die from the immediate consequences of smoking The particularly insidious feature of tobacco consumption is that smoking attributable harmful effects on health do not generally become apparent until three or four decades after smoking initiation Although some positive changes in the legislative handling of tobacco have appeared in the past five years we still need to form a pact sealed by politicians the medical professionals teachers and the media to target the problem across nations In this respect a minority of countries including the US and the UK have given positive examples There are four areas that need to be improved in future 1 strict bans on tobacco advertisement on a global level 2 better measures to protect against side stream passive smoke exposure 3 establishment of prevention programs especially for children and 4 treatment of tobacco addiction Social Movements And Culture Hank Johnston, 2013-11-05 A full length analysis of social movements from a cultural perspective This work considers the different approaches to culture how movements are affected by their cultural environment and internal cultures within the movements themselves
