Complementary and Alternative Medicine in the United States Institute of Medicine, Board on Health Promotion and Disease Prevention, Committee on the Use of Complementary and Alternative Medicine by the American Public, 2005-05-13 Integration of complementary and alternative medicine therapies CAM with conventional medicine is occurring in hospitals and physicians offices health maintenance organizations HMOs are covering CAM therapies insurance coverage for CAM is increasing and integrative medicine centers and clinics are being established many with close ties to medical schools and teaching hospitals In determining what care to provide the goal should be comprehensive care that uses the best scientific evidence available regarding benefits and harm encourages a focus on healing recognizes the importance of compassion and caring emphasizes the centrality of relationship based care encourages patients to share in decision making about therapeutic options and promotes choices in care that can include complementary therapies where appropriate Numerous approaches to delivering integrative medicine have evolved Complementary and Alternative Medicine in the United States identifies an urgent need for health systems research that focuses on identifying the elements of these models the outcomes of care delivered in these models and whether these models are cost effective when compared to conventional practice settings It outlines areas of research in convention and CAM therapies ways of integrating these therapies
