Magnum Landscape:

Magnum Landscape Magnum Photos, 1996 In the tradition of monumental Magnum books this publication brings together an eclectic assortment of work by the finest photographers of our time capturing a riveting and seductive series of fleeting moments around the world For half a century Magnum photographers through countless commissions and their own personal work have produced images that comment on the state of the world In photographing the landscape they are not just spectators but participants aware that the land itself has been shaped by man and that the very notion of a landscape depends on a human viewpoint As each photographer records and interprets a diversity of subject matter to form a unique personal style the variations on this theme are endless landscapes of war of agriculture of industry of cities and motorways of desolation celebration and tranquillity The photographs assimilated in this book invite us to rediscover landscape and urge us to think more profoundly not only about planet earth in its entirety but about our own place in it Landscape John Wylie, 2007-08-07 Landscape is a stimulating introduction to and contemporary understanding of one of the most important concepts within human geography A series of different influential readings of landscape are debated and explored and for the first time distinctive traditions of landscape writing are brought together and examined as a whole in a forward looking critical review of work by cultural geographers and others within the last twenty to thirty years This book clearly and concisely explores landscape theories and writings allowing students of geography environmental studies and cultural studies to fully comprehend this vast and complex topic To aid the student vignettes are used to highlight key writers papers and texts Annotated further reading and student exercises are also included For researchers and lecturers Landscape presents a forward looking synthesis of hitherto disparate fields of inquiry one which offers a platform for future research and writing The Decisive Network Nadya Bair, 2020 Since its founding in 1947 the legendary Magnum Photos agency has been telling its own story Its photographers were concerned witnesses to history and artists on the hunt for decisive moments their pictures were humanist documents of the postwar world Based in unprecedented archival research The Decisive Network peels back layers of the Magnum mythology to offer a new history of what it meant to shoot edit and sell news images after World War II Between the 1940s and 1960s Magnum expanded the human interest story about the everyday life of ordinary people to global dimensions while bringing the aesthetic of news pictures into new markets Its best known work started as humanitarian aid promotion travel campaigns corporate publicity and advertising Working with this range of clients Magnum made photojournalism integral to visual culture Yet Magnum's photographers could not have done this alone This book unpacks the collaborative nature of photojournalism as it transpired on a daily basis focusing on how picture editors sales agents spouses and publishers helped Magnum photographers succeed in their assignments and achieve fame The Decisive Network concludes in the late 1960s and early 1970s when amidst the decline of magazine publishing and the rise of an art market for photography Magnum turned to photo books and exhibitions to manage its growing picture archives and consolidate its brand In that moment Magnum's photojournalists became artists and their assignments turned into oeuvres Such ideas were necessary publicity and they also managed to shape discussions about photography for decades Bridging art history media studies cultural history and the history of communication this book transforms our understanding of the photographic profession and the global circulation of images in the pre digital world Imagining Landscapes

Monica Janowski,Tim Ingold,2016-05-13 The landscapes of human habitation are not just perceived they are also imagined What part then does imagining landscapes play in their perception The contributors to this volume drawn from a range of disciplines argue that landscapes are imagined in a sense more fundamental than their symbolic representation in words images and other media Less a means of conjuring up images of what is out there than a way of living creatively in the world imagination is immanent in perception itself revealing the generative potential of a world that is not so much ready made as continually on the brink of formation Describing the ways landscapes are perpetually shaped by the engagements and practices of their inhabitants this innovative volume develops a processual approach to both perception and imagination But it also brings out the ways in which these processes animated by the hopes and dreams of inhabitants increasingly come into conflict with the strategies of external actors empowered to impose their own ready made designs upon the world With a focus on the temporal and kinaesthetic dynamics of imagining Imagining Landscapes foregrounds both time and movement in understanding how past present and future are brought together in the creative world shaping endeavours of both inhabitants and scholars The book will appeal to anthropologists sociologists and archaeologists as well as to geographers historians and philosophers with interests in landscape and environment heritage and culture creativity perception and imagination Magnum Streetwise

Magnum Photos,2019-11-19 The ultimate collection of street photography from Magnum Photos Magnum Streetwise is the definitive collection of street photography from Magnum Photos and an unparalleled opportunity to follow in the footsteps of the true greats of the genre An essential addition to the street photography canon this volume showcases hidden gems alongside many of street photography's most famous images Magnum photographers such as Henri Cartier Bresson pioneered modern concepts of street photography before the term was even coined A rich seam of street photography runs through the heart of Magnum to this day both in the work of recognized masters of the genre including Elliott Erwitt Martin Parr Bruce Gilden and Richard Kalvar and in the work of those who may not think of themselves as street photographers despite their powerful influence on the current generation of budding artists Magnum Streetwise is a true visual feast interleaving insightful text and anecdotes within an intuitive blend of photographer and theme focused sections Ambitious in scope and democratic in nature Magnum Streetwise is an unmissable tour through the photographs and practices that have helped define what street photography is and what it can be Making Tim Ingold,2013-04-12 Making creates knowledge builds environments and transforms lives Anthropology archaeology art and architecture are all ways of making and all are dedicated to exploring the conditions and potentials of human life In this exciting book Tim Ingold ties the four disciplines together in a way that has never been attempted before In a radical departure from conventional studies that treat art and architecture as compendia of objects for analysis Ingold proposes an anthropology and archaeology not of but with art and architecture He advocates a way of thinking through making in which sentient practitioners and active materials continually answer to or correspond with one another in the generation of form Making offers a series of profound reflections on what it means to create things on materials and form the meaning of design landscape perception animate life personal knowledge and the work of the hand It draws on examples and experiments ranging from prehistoric stone tool making to the building of medieval cathedrals from round mounds to monuments from flying kites to winding string from drawing to writing The book will appeal to students and practitioners alike with interests in social and cultural anthropology archaeology architecture art and design visual studies and material culture

Industries Josef Koudelka, 2017-10-12 Josef Koudelka started using a camera in panoramic format in 1986 while participating in the photographic mission of the DATAR whose objective was to represent the French landscape of the 1980s He thus criss crossed France then the entire world to take stock of modern humanity's influence on landscape This book with an original raw binding and an imposing format gathers 40 panoramic photographs selected by the artist with the complicity of François Hbel These images bear witness to major human works ranging from factories to quarries or enormous mining complexes and abandoned zones They carry the reader into inaccessible and little known areas between sublime and disarray to witness the imposing reality of industry that we try now to erase A text by François Hbel gives an overview of Koudelka's photographic journey and his fascination for industrial landscapes over 30 years whereas François Barr's essay contextualizes this ensemble into the history of landscape

Essays on Nature and Landscape Susan Fenimore Cooper, 2002-12-01 Susan

Fenimore Cooper 1813 1894 though often overshadowed by her celebrity father James Fenimore Cooper has recently become recognized as both a pioneer of American nature writing and an early advocate for ecological sustainability Editors Rochelle Johnson and Daniel Patterson have assembled here a collection of ten pieces by Cooper that represent her most accomplished nature writing and the fullest articulation of her environmental principles With one exception these essays have not been available in print since their original appearance in Cooper s lifetime A portrait of her thoughts on nature and how we should live and think in relation to it this collection both contextualizes Cooper s magnum opus Rural Hours 1850 and demonstrates how she perceived her work as a nature writer Frequently her essays are models of how to catch and keep the interest of a reader when writing about plants animals and our relationship to the physical environment By lamenting the decline of bird populations original forests and overall biodiversity she champions preservation and invokes a collective environmental conscience that would not begin to awaken until the end of her life and century The selections include independent essays miscellaneous introductions and prefaces and the first three installments from Cooper s work of literary ornithology Otsego Leaves arguably her most mature and fully realized contribution to American environmental writing In addition to a foreword by John Elder one of the nation s leading environmental educators an introduction analyzes each essay in various cultural contexts Brief but handy textual notes supplement the essays Perfect for nature writing aficionados environmental historians and environmental activists this collection will radically expand Cooper s importance to the history of American environmental thought

American Geography Matt Black, 2020-09-25 A limited edition photographic portfolio The Landscape Don McCullin, 2018 After a career spanning sixty years Sir Don McCullin once a witness to conflict across the globe has become one of the greatest landscape photographers of our time 0His pastoral view is far from idyllic Though the woods and stream close to his house in Somerset have offered some respite he has not sought out the quiet corners of rural England 0He is drawn instead to the drama of approaching storms He has an acute sense of how the emptiness of his immediate landscape echoes a wider tone of disquiet 0This is a beautifully produced photographic book containing sublime views of England shrouded in mist snow water or cowering beneath an overwhelming sky 0And although the majority of the images featured are from Great Britain it also includes stunning scenes from Syria Iraq France Morocco Sudan India and Indonesia

Imagining for Real Tim Ingold, 2021-11-11 What does imagination do for our perception of the world Why should reality be broken off from our imagining of it It was not always thus and in these essays Tim Ingold sets out to heal the break between reality and imagination at the heart of modern thought and science Imagining for Real joins with a lifeworld ever in creation attending to its formative processes corresponding with the lives of its human and nonhuman inhabitants Building on his two previous essay collections The Perception of the Environment and Being Alive this book rounds off the extraordinary intellectual project of one of the world s most renowned anthropologists Offering hope in troubled times these essays speak to coming generations in a language that surpasses disciplinary divisions They will be essential reading not only for anthropologists but also for students in fields ranging from art aesthetics architecture and archaeology to philosophy psychology human geography comparative literature and theology The Complete Book of Ground Covers Gary Lewis, 2022-10-11 Ground covers are widely thought of as utilitarian we turn to them when we have a problem that needs a solution How fast will it fill an area Can we put it into the tight spaces between pavers How much foot traffic can it withstand Yet these plants also offer a diverse range of beautiful and intriguing options with a variety of colors textures and forms They can unify a landscape knit together plantings and hardscape and add extra layers of beauty dynamism and surprise As a replacement for lawns they can reduce our use of water fertilizer pesticides herbicides carbon based fuels and transform a yard into a diverse landscape of habitat and food for native insects birds and other wildlife In this meticulously researched reference nurseryman Gary Lewis profiles more than 4000 ground covers that can perform these roles with aplomb No matter what kinds of conditions you're facing shade dry soil heavy clay excess moisture there's a ground cover that will thrive and beautify your garden Comprehensive practical and copiously illustrated this indispensable volume belongs on the shelf of every designer landscape architect and serious gardener Camerawork, 1997 Painted Journeys Peter H. Hassrick, Mindy N. Besaw, 2015-07 Artist explorer John Mix Stanley 1814-1872 one of the most celebrated chroniclers of the American West in his time was in a sense a victim of his own success So highly regarded was his work that more than two hundred of his paintings were held at the Smithsonian Institution where in 1865 a fire destroyed all but seven of them This volume featuring a comprehensive collection of Stanley's extant art reproduced in full color offers an opportunity and ample reason to rediscover the remarkable accomplishments of this outsize figure of nineteenth century American culture Originally from New York State Stanley journeyed west in 1842 to paint Indian life During the U S Mexican War he joined a frontier military expedition and traveled from Santa Fe to California producing sketches and paintings of the campaign along the way work that helped secure his fame in the following decades He was also appointed chief artist for Isaac Stevens's survey of the 48th parallel for a proposed transcontinental railroad The essays in this volume by noted scholars of American art document and reflect on Stanley's life and work from every angle The authors consider the artist's experience on government expeditions his solo tours among the Oregon settlers and western and Plains Indians and his career in Washington and search for government patronage as well as his individual works With contributions by Emily C Burns Scott Manning Stevens Lisa Strong Melissa Speidel Jacquelyn Sparks and Emily C Wilson the essays in this volume convey the full scope of John Mix Stanley's artistic accomplishment and document the unfolding of that uniquely American vision throughout the artist's colorful life Together they restore Stanley to his rightful place in the panorama of nineteenth century American life and art Nature, Landscape, and Building for Sustainability William S. Saunders, 2008 The complexity and scale of the environmental problems confronting humanity today provoke a wide range of responses from indifference to anger to creativity Among a growing number of architects landscape architects and planners however these problems have inspired a new vision sustainability to guide their practices In Nature Landscape and Building for Sustainability a diverse group of contributors considers the concept of sustainability both philosophically and practically Some take a broad view of the divisions between nature and humanity exploring the incomprehensible scale of human intervention in the natural world the relationship between how we feel about nature and what we do about it and the commodification of the natural world Other essays focus on sustainable design practices sustainability s roots in the American conservation tradition its utility as a framework for future design practice and the necessity of moving beyond demonstration projects into the mainstream Together these essays suggest that the gap between the promise and reality of sustainable design although significant can be bridged through diligence and practice Contributors D Michelle Addington Yale U John Beardsley Harvard Graduate School of Design Albert Borgmann U of Montana Missoula Peter Buchanan Peter Del Tredici Harvard Graduate School of Design Robert France Harvard Graduate School of Design Susannah Hagan U of East London Kristina Hill U of Virginia Catherine Howett U of Georgia Niall Kirkwood Harvard Graduate School of Design Lucy R Lippard Bill McKibbin Michael Pollan Rossana Vaccarino Vaccarino Associates St Thomas William S Saunders is editor of Harvard Design Magazine and assistant dean for external relations at Harvard University s Graduate School of Design He is editor of five previous Harvard Design Magazine Readers published by the University of Minnesota Press Robert L Thayer Jr is emeritus professor of landscape architecture and founder of the landscape architecture program at the University of California Davis The Landscapists Ed Wall, 2020-04-06 Who defines the landscapes around us What practices are employed as contemporary landscapes are produced This issue argues that landscapes are made and remade through interrelations between people and the worlds around them from geographers investigating the lives of urban wastelands to landscape architects projecting future cities and from migrants navigating border systems to artists working with local residents In contrast to tendencies to emphasise the physical forms of landscapes with their potential to be redesigned and represented in drawings this issue brings to the forefront the social constructedness of landscapes by focusing on a range of critical practices and daily actions As conventional frames of landscape are challenged other ways of measuring mapping imagining designing building and occupying them are revealed For centuries artists and designers have represented landscapes of power in paintings and have transformed them through their design proposals But in recent years a number of researchers designers artists and activists have explored an expanded field of landscape investigating populations fleeing conflict zones reimagining cities facing ecological challenges questioning territorial claims and critiquing processes of urbanisation This issue focuses on some of these individuals whose work and lives encompass a diverse range of practices brought together through their critical redefinition of landscape relations Contributors Pierre B langer Harry Bix Neil Brenner and Nikos Katsikis Luis Callejas and Charlotte Hansson James Corner Gareth Doherty and Pol Fit Matamoros Matthew Gandy Christina Leigh Geros Rania Ghosn and El Hadi Jazairy Nina Marie Lister Richard Mosse Kate Orff Toya Peal
