Rethinking American History in a Global Age Thomas Bender, 2002-05-14 In One eloquent essay after another some of the wisest historians of our time write American history in a grand cosmopolitan context From the era of discovery to the present histories that we thought we knew of labor of race relations of politics of gender relations of diplomacy of ethnicity are more richly understood when causes and consequences are traced throughout the globe One emerges invigorated ready to welcome a new American history for a new international century Linda K Kerber author of No Constitutional Right to Be Ladies Women and the Obligations of Citizenship Rethinking American History in a Global Age is an extremely stimulating and thought provoking collection of essays written by leading historians who offer wider contexts for illuminating the traditional themes and issues of American national history Particularly impressive is the book's combination of caution and original sometimes daring insights David Brion Davis author of In the Image of God Religion Moral Values and Our Heritage of Slavery For decades American historians have been urging one another to place our culture in comparative or transnational perspective Thomas Bender's unique volume includes not only essays theorizing such efforts and essays exemplifying such work at its most successful and its most provocative it also provides more skeptical assessments questioning whether American historians can meet the challenge of overcoming our longstanding national preoccupations Rethinking American History in a Global Age is an indispensable book that will shape the work of a rising generation of historians whose horizons will extend beyond our own shores James T Kloppenberg author of The Virtues of Liberalism

Liberating Temporariness? Leah F. Vosko, Valerie Preston, Robert Latham, 2014-06-01 Liberating Temporariness explores the complex ways in which temporariness is being institutionalized as a condition of life for a growing number of people worldwide The collection emphasizes contemporary developments but also provides historical context on nation state membership as the fundamental means for accessing rights in an era of expanding temporariness in recognition of why pathways to permanence remain so compelling Through empirical and theoretical analysis contributors explore various dimensions of temporariness especially as it relates to the legal status of migrants and refugees to the spread of precarious employment and to limitations on social rights While the focus is on Canada a number of chapters investigate and contrast developments in Canada with those in Europe as well as Australia and the United States Together these essays reveal changing and enduring temporariness at local regional national transnational and global levels and in different domains such as health care language programs and security The question at the heart of this collection is whether temporariness can be liberated from current constraints While not denying the desirability of permanence for migrants and labourers Liberating Temporariness presents alternative possibilities of security and liberation

Social Reproduction Meg Luxton, Kate Bezanson, 2006 Using a feminist political economy approach contributors document the impact of current socio economic policies on states markets households and communities Relying on impressive empirical research they argue that women bear the costs of and responsibility for care giving and show that the theoretical framework provided by feminist analyses of social reproduction not only corrects the gender blindness of most economic theories but suggests an alternative that places care giving at its centre In this illuminating study they challenge feminist scholars to re engage with materialism and political economy to engage with feminism

Migration, Masculinities and Reproductive Labour Ester Gallo, Francesca Scrinzi, 2016-07-15 This innovative book analyses the role gender plays in the relationship between globalisation migration and reproductive labour Exploring the gendered experiences of migrant men and the social construction of racialised masculinities in the context of the international division of reproductive labour IDRL it examines how new patterns of consumption and provision of paid domestic care work lead to forms of inequality across racial ethnic gender and class lines Based on an ethnographic analysis of the working and family lives of migrant men within the IDRL it focuses on the practices and strategies of migrant men employed as domestic care workers in Italy The authors highlight how migrant men s experiences of reproductive labour and family are shaped by global forces and national public policies and how they negotiate the changes and potential conflicts that their feminised jobs entail They draw on the voices of men and women of different nationalities to show how masculinities are constructed within the home through migrant men s interactions with male and female employers women relations and their wider ethnic network Bridging the divide between scholarship on international migration care work and masculinity studies this book will interest sociologists anthropologists economists political scientists and social policy experts

Not One of the Family Abigail Bess Bakan, Daiva Stasiulis, Daiva K. Stasiulis, 1997-01-01 A collection of original essays by researchers and workers turned activists it documents how citizen and non citizen workers are treated unequally in the Canadian system and demonstrates how workers can resist exploitation

Doing the Dirty Work? Bridget Anderson, 2000-02 There has been a tendency amongst feminists to see domestic work as the great leveller a common burden imposed on all women equally by patriarchy This unique study of migrant domestic workers in the North uncovers some uncomfortable facts about the race and class aspects of domestic oppression Based on original research it looks at the racialisation of paid domestic labour in the North a phenomenon which challenges feminism and political theory at a fundamental level The book opens with an exploration of the public private divide and an overview of the debates on women and power The author goes on to provide a map of employment patterns of migrant women in domestic work in the North she describes the work they perform their living and working conditions and their employment relations A chapter on the US explores the connections between slavery and contemporary domestic service while a section on commodification examines the extent to which migrant domestic workers are not selling their labour but their whole personhood The book also looks at the role of the Other in managing dirt death and pollution and the effects of the feminisation of the labour market as middle class white women have greater presence in the public sphere they are more likely to push responsibility for domestic work onto other women In its depiction of the treatment of women from the South

by women in the North the book asks some difficult questions about the common bond of womanhood Packed with information on the numbers of migrant women working as domestics the racism immigration or employment legislation that constrains their lives and testimonies from the workers themselves this is the most comprehensive study of migrant domestic workers available Caring and the Law Jonathan Herring,2013-04-12 Caring and the Law considers the law s response to caring It explores how care is valued and recognised how it is regulated and restricted and how the values of caring are reflected in the law It does this by examining the law s interaction with caring in a wide range of fields including family medical welfare criminal and tort law At the heart of the book is the claim that the law has failed to recognise the importance of caring in many areas and in doing so has led to the costs and burdens of care falling on those who provide it primarily women It has also meant that the law has failed to protect those who receive care from the abuse that can take place in a caring context The book promotes an ethic of care as providing an ethical and conceptual framework for the law to respond to caring relationships House-Girls Remember Margaret Rodman Critchlow,Daniela Kraemer,Lissant Bolton,Jean Tarisesei,2007-06-30 Giving voice to the women who worked as maids known as house girls in the Pacific islands of Vanuatu is the goal of this innovative work The stories the women tell resonate with the experiences of domestic workers around the world their histories contribute to theorizing intimacy and traveling culture and their struggles with adverse working conditions help find solutions which are outlined at the end of the book In addition to contributions by the editors workshop reports by eleven ni Vanuatu women fieldworkers and ten others who spoke about their lives as house girls are included These reports detail ni Vanuatu women s experiences as domestic workers during the colonial period One chapter presents an elderly French woman s recollections of the Vietnamese orphan who grew up in her home and worked as a house girl Material from contemporary house girls appears in a final chapter based on research conducted in Port Vila Handbook on the Geographies of Power Mat Coleman,John Agnew,2018-07-27 The so called spatial turn in the social sciences means that many researchers have become much more interested in what can be called the spatialities of power or the ways in which power as a medium for achieving goals is related to where it takes place Most famous authors on the subject such as Machiavelli and Hobbes saw power as entirely equivalent to domination exercised by some over others Though this meaning is hardly redundant understandings of power have become more multidimensional and nuanced as a result of the spatial turn Much recent writing in human geography for example has rigorously extended use of the term power beyond its typical understanding as a resource that pools up in some hands and some places to a medium of agency that has different effects depending on how it is deployed across space and how actors cooperate or not to give it effect To address this objective the book is organized thematically into four sections that cover the main areas in which much of the contemporary work on geographies of power is concentrated bodies economy environment and energy and war Migrant Domestic Workers and Family Life Maria Kontos,Glenda Tibe Bonifacio,2016-02-23 This timely and innovative book delivers a comprehensive analysis of the non recognition of the right to a family life of migrant live in domestic and care workers in Argentina Canada Germany Italy Lebanon Norway the Philippines Slovenia South Korea Spain the United Arab Emirates the United States of America and Ukraine      When Care Work Goes Global Mary Romero, Valerie Preston, Wenona Giles, 2016-02-11 Women who migrate into domestic labour and care work are the single largest female occupational group migrating globally at present Their participation in global migration systems has been acknowledged but remains under theorized Specifically the impacts of women migrating into care work in the receiving as well as the sending societies are profound altering gendered aspects of both societies We know that migration systems link the women who migrate and the households and organizations that employ domestic and care workers but how do these migration systems work and more importantly what are their impacts on the sending as well as the receiving societies How do sending and receiving societies regulate women s migration for care work and how do these labour market exchanges take place How is reproductive labour changed in the receiving society when it is done by women who are subject to multifaceted othering racializing processes A must buy acquisition When Care Work Goes Global will be an extremely valuable addition for course adoption in migration labour and gender courses taught in Sociology Anthropology Geography Women s Studies Area Studies and International Development Studies

Anthropologica ,1997      Women, Migration and Citizenship Alexandra Dobrowolsky, 2016-02-17 Given the recent and rapid changes to migration patterns and citizenship processes this volume provides a timely compelling empirical and theoretical study of the gendered implications of such developments More specifically it draws out the multiple connections between migration and citizenship concerns and practices for women The collection features original research that examines women s diverse im migrant and refugee experiences and exposes how gender ideologies and practices organize migrant citizenship in its various dimensions at the local national and transnational levels The volume contributes to theoretical debates on gender migration and citizenship and provides new insights into their interrelation It includes rich case studies that range from the Philippines and Somalia to the Caribbean and from Australasia to Canada and Britain Designed to have a multidisciplinary appeal it is suitable for courses on migration diversity gender race ethnicity law and public policy comparative politics and international relations      Nanny Families Eldén, Sara, Anving, Terese, 2020-07-15 Available Open Access under CC BY NC licence Paying privately for childcare is a growing phenomenon worldwide a trend mirrored in Sweden despite the prevalence there of publicly funded daycare This book combines theories of family practices care and childhood studies with the personal perspectives of nannies au pairs parents and children to provide new understandings of what constitutes care in nanny families The authors investigate the ways in which all the participants experience the caring situation and expose the possibilities and problems of nanny and au pair care Their study illuminates the ways in which paid domestic care workers do family and care in doing so it contributes to wider political and scientific discussions of inequalities at the global and local level reproduced in and between families in the context of rapidly changing welfare states

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and thrilling novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
