Maids And Madams A Study In The Politics Of Exploitation:

Maids & Madams Jacklyn Cock,1980 Maids and Madams Jacklyn Cock,1982-06-01 European Women and the Second British Empire Margaret Strobel,1991 It enhances our understanding of intracultural and cross cultural relationships and raises significant questions about the complexities of the colonial phenomenon in the modern era Journal of World History The Later Fiction of Nadine Gordimer Bruce King,1993-09-12 Nobel Prizewinner Nadine Gordimer s novels and short stories from The Conservationist to Jump have been her best and most controversial work This new book examine such topics as the autobiographical basis of her fiction her relationship to feminism the place of the white woman in black Africa the ambiguity of revolutionary politics her ambivalent relationship to Judaism her use of irony the symbolism of landscape and the ways in which she has revised recurring topics throughout her career as a writer Maid in the USA Mary Romero,2016-05-13 This is a classic work in the fields of Women s Studies and Sociology On its 10th Anniversary it is still a vital and moving study of the lives of immigrant domestic workers and is constantly cited in the research Romero s new introduction will offer a fresh look at the material including more recent events proving that the issues discussed in the book are still very relevant to today s world From Servants to Workers Shireen Adam Ally,2010-12-15 In the past decade hundreds of thousands of women from poorer countries have braved treacherous journeys to richer countries to work as poorly paid domestic workers Scholars and activists denounce compromised forms of citizenship that expose these women to at times shocking exploitation and abuse In From Servants to Workers Shireen Ally asks whether the low wages and poor working conditions so characteristic of migrant domestic work can truly be resolved by means of the extension of citizenship rights Following South Africa s miraculous transition to democracy more than a million poor black women who had endured a despotic organization of paid domestic work under apartheid became the beneficiaries of one of the world s most impressive and extensive efforts to formalize and modernize paid domestic work through state regulation Instead of undergoing a dramatic transformation servitude relations stubbornly resisted change Ally locates an explanation for this in the tension between the forms of power deployed by the state in its efforts to protect workers on the one hand and the forms of power workers recover through the intimate nature of their work on the other Listening attentively to workers own narrations of their entry into democratic citizenship rights Ally explores the political implications of paid domestic work as an intimate form of labor From Servants to Workers integrates sociological insights with the often heartbreaking life histories of female domestic workers in South Africa and provides rich detail of the streets homes and churches of Johannesburg where these women work live and socialize Muchachas No More Margo L. Smith,1991-03-20 Offers a look at the sizeable population of women who are domestic workers in Latin America and the Caribbean Like Family Ena Jansen,2019-04-15 An analytic and historical perspective of literary texts to understand the position of domestic workers in South Africa More than a million black South African women are domestic workers Precariously situated between urban and rural areas rich and poor white and black these women are at once intimately connected and at a distant remove from the families they serve Ena Jansen shows that domestic worker relations in South Africa were shaped by the institution of slavery establishing social hierarchies and patterns of behavior that persist today To support her argument Jansen examines the representation of domestic workers in a diverse range of texts in English and Afrikaans Authors include Andr Brink JM Coetzee Imraan Coovadia Nadine Gordimer Elsa Joubert Antjie Krog Sindiwe Magona Kopano Matlwa Es kia Mphahlele Sisonke Msimang Zukiswa Wanner and Zo Wicomb Like Family is an updated version of the award winning Soos familie 2015 and the highly acclaimed 2016 Dutch translation Bijna familie

Domestic Democracy Jennifer Fish, 2005-11-16 This study examines the dialectic relationship between social inequality and change in the newly democratic South Africa through the lens of paid domestic labor The complexities of this institution provide an in depth analysis of the tension between the race and gender priorities of South Africa s new democracy and the lived realities of the majority of its population Because paid domestic work remains the largest sector of employment for women in South Africa it is critical to situating the scope of social change in this emergent democracy This book presents the first comprehensive study of paid domestic labor since South Africa s 1994 post apartheid transition Drawing upon 85 interviews with domestic workers employers Parliamentarians community activists and organizational leaders this research offers diverse perspectives on the race class and gender divides that remain integral to social relations in the context of national transition In contrast this study also details women s collective agency through the exploration of a critical social policy change shaped by the activism of a new union of domestic workers Drawing upon extensive fieldwork this book demonstrates that transformation of social relations remains one of the greatest obstacles to engendering democracy in South Africa

Home economics Sacha Hepburn, 2022-08-16 Domestic service has long been one of the largest forms of urban employment across southern Africa Home economics provides the first comprehensive history of this essential sector in the decades following independence and the end of apartheid Focusing on Lusaka and drawing wider comparisons the book traces how Black workers and employers adapted existing models of domestic service as part of broader responses to changing gendered employment patterns economic decline and endemic poverty It reveals how kin based domestic service gradually displaced wage labour and how women and girl workers came to dominate kin based and waged domestic service with profound consequences for labour regulation and worker organising Theoretically innovative and empirically rich the book provides essential insights into debates about gender work and urban economies that are critical to understanding southern Africa s post colonial and post apartheid history

Segregation and Singularity Peter Stewart, 2021-11-15 As a political sociology of whites in the last years of apartheid in South Africa this book provides an analysis of the social origins and social context of political attitudes among a sample of middle class English speaking whites in selected suburbs in the city of Johannesburg Gauteng Province It reveals that such attitudes emanated in the context of acute and continuing political polarisation principally between black and white in the twilight of apartheid and before the first democratic elections The book adds another dimension to the interpretation of class dynamics in the study of apartheid South Africa In contrast to other studies that have concentrated on the working class and on very restricted political and economic elites which gives an incomplete picture of class dynamics this book considers the impact of the middle classes in shaping the history of apartheid South Africa A Critical Rewriting of Global Political Economy V. Spike

Peterson,2004-03 This book rewrites global political economy by bringing disparate features of globalization into relation and providing an accessible narrative of how we got here what s going on and what it means from a critical vantage poin

Colonization and Domestic Service Victoria K. Haskins,Claire Lowrie,2014-12-05 This book brings together two key themes that have not been addressed together previously in any sustained way domestic service and colonization Existing studies of domestic service rarely make mention of colonization but colonization offers a rich and exciting new paradigm for analysing the phenomenon of domestic labour by non family workers paid and otherwise Scholars in diverse fields and disciplines here share new and stimulating insights on the various connections between domestic employment and the processes of colonization both past and present in a range of original essays A Handbook of Economic Anthropology

Carrier, James G.,2022-05-13 This timely Research Agenda examines the ways in which public private partnerships PPPs in infrastructure continue to excite policy makers governments research scholars and critics around the world It analyzes the PPP research journey to date and articulates the lessons learned as a result of the increasing interest in improving infrastructure governance Expert international contributors explore how PPP ideas have spread transferred and transformed and propose a range of future research directions Distant Companions Karen Tranberg Hansen,2018-03-15 Distant

Companions tells the fascinating story of the lives and times of domestic servants and their employers in Zambia from the beginning of white settlement during the colonial period until after independence Emphasizing the interactive nature of relationships of domination the book is useful for readers who seek to understand the dynamics of domestic service in a variety of settings In order to examine the servant employer relationship within the context of larger political and economic processes Karen Tranberg Hansen employs an unusual combination of methods including analysis of historical documents travelogues memoirs literature and life histories as well as anthropological fieldwork survey research and participant observation Women and Gender in Southern Africa to 1945 Cherryl Walker,1990 Companion to Historiography

Michael Bentley,2006-02-27 The Companion to Historiography is an original analysis of the moods and trends in historical writing throughout its phases of development and explores the assumptions and procedures that have formed the creation of historical perspectives Contributed by a distinguished panel of academics each essay conveys in direct jargon free language a genuinely international wide angled view of the ideas traditions and institutions that lie behind the contemporary urgency of world history The African Poor John Iliffe,1987-12-25 This history of the poor of Sub Saharan Africa begins in the monasteries of thirteenth century Ethiopia and ends in the South African resettlement sites of the 1980s Its thesis derived from histories of poverty in Europe is that most very poor Africans have been individuals incapacitated for labour bereft of support and unable to fend for themselves in a land rich economy There has emerged the distinct poverty of those excluded from access to productive resources Natural disaster brought widespread destitution but as a cause of mass mortality it was almost eliminated in the colonial era to return to those areas where drought has been compounded by administrative breakdown Professor Iliffe investigates what it was like to be poor how the poor sought to help themselves how their counterparts in other continents live The poor live as people rather than merely parading as statistics Famines have alerted the world to African poverty but the problem itself is ancient Its prevailing forms will not be understood until those of earlier periods are revealed and trends of change are identified This is a book for all concerned with the future of Africa as well as for students of poverty elsewhere

Race for Education Mark Hunter, 2019-01-24 Following the end of apartheid in 1994 the ANC government placed education at the centre of its plans to build a nonracial and more equitable society Yet by the 2010s a wave of student protests voiced demands for decolonised and affordable education By following families and schools in Durban for nearly a decade Mark Hunter sheds new light on South Africa's political transition and the global phenomenon of education marketisation He rejects simple descriptions of the country's move from race to class apartheid and reveals how white phenotypic traits like skin colour retain value in the schooling system even as the multiracial middle class embraces prestigious linguistic and embodied practices the book calls white tone By illuminating the actions and choices of both white and black parents Hunter provides a unique view on race class and gender in a country emerging from a notorious system of institutionalised racism

Empowering Migrant Women Leah Briones, 2017-03-02 Based on insights from Filipina experiences of domestic work in Paris and Hong Kong this volume breaks through the polarized thinking and migration centric policy action on the protection of migrant women domestic workers from abuse to link migrants rights and victimization with livelihood migration and development The book contextualizes agency and rights in the workers capability to secure a livelihood in the global political economy and is instrumental in making the problem of migrant women workers empowerment both a migration and development agenda The volume is essential reading for social scientists bureaucrats and non governmental political activists interested in the protection of the rights and livelihoods of migrants It will also appeal to migration and feminist scholars who have yet to adopt the contribution of critical development studies in the analysis of low skilled female labour migration
