Making Friends Across the Boundaries of Religious Differences Deusdedit Nkurunziza, 2014 Making Friends Across the Boundaries of Religious Differences Religions Building Peace for a New World Order discusses the meaning reality and dynamism of religion explores different faiths religious traditions currently influencing humanity today and argues that interreligious dialogue is the way to go for the people of different religions to work together to enhance a culture of justice human rights democratic governance nonviolence and peace in the world today While religion has been used to cause conflict violence and war the book explains how in this time of globalization faith and religion can be enhanced as resources for a new world order of justice and peace The book further highlights interreligious dialogue as a methodology and way of life which brings about unity in diversity advocacy for a world without terrorism theological perspectives women in interreligious dialogue and how in Africa interreligious action is the soul of social economic transformation African Renaissance and Cosmopolitanism Men and Women Making Friends in Early Modern France Lewis C. Seifert, Rebecca M. Wilkin, 2016-03-03 Today the friendships that grab people's imaginations are those that reach across inequalities of class and race The friendships that seem to have exerted an analogous level of fascination in early modern France were those that defied the assumption inherited from Aristotle and patristic sources that friendships between men and women were impossible Together the essays in Men and Women Making Friends in Early Modern France tell the story of the declining intelligibility of classical models of male friendship and of the rising prominence of women as potential friends The revival of Plato's friendship texts in the sixteenth century challenged Aristotle's rigid ideal of perfect friendship between men In the seventeenth century a new imperative of heterosociality opened a space for the cultivation of cross gender friendships while the spiritual friendships of the Catholic Reformation modeled relationships that transcended the gendered dynamics of galanterie Men and Women Making Friends in Early Modern France argues that the imaginative experimentation in friendships between men and women was a distinctive feature of early modern French culture The ten essays in this volume address friend making as a process that is creative of self and responsive to changing social and political circumstances Contributors reveal how men and women fashioned gendered selves and also circumvented gender norms through concrete friendship practices By showing that the benefits and the risks of friendship are magnified when gender roles and relations are unsettled the essays in this volume highlight the relevance of early modern friend making to friendship in the contemporary world

Friendship Leadership Matt Messner, Rachel McMurray-Branscombe, 2018-11-29 No one can deny that friendships are powerful relationships of influence Why not strategically incorporate friendship within a philosophy of leadership People long for relational models of leadership yet few specific methodologies have been developed This book examines the friendship of God with humanity and the leadership of Jesus with his disciples to whom he declared I no longer call you servants Instead I have called you friends John 15:15 In response to this enduring example of the Divine bringing together both friendship and leadership this book presents an unexplored model of leadership for the Christian practitioner Friendship Leadership The authors of Friendship Leadership share research historical examples and their personal experiences with this leadership model as they describe both the trials and triumphs Through this process the book addresses the primary barriers a leader might experience when utilizing the Friendship Leadership model Finally the authors offer a guide for how to incorporate friendship into their leadership strengthening others as they follow the example of our great Leader The result is a transformational way of leading that nurtures relationships

Genetics and Christian Ethics Celia Deane-Drummond, 2006 In the immediate future we are likely to witness significant developments in human genetic science It is therefore of critical importance that Christian ethics engages with the genetics debate since it affects not just the way we perceive ourselves and the natural world but also has wider implications for our society This book considers ethical issues arising out of specific practices in human genetics including genetic screening gene patenting gene therapy genetic counselling as well as feminist concerns Genetics and Christian Ethics argues for a particular theo ethical approach that derives from a modified version of virtue ethics drawing particularly on a Thomistic understanding of the virtues especially prudence or practical wisdom and justice The book demonstrates that a theological voice is highly relevant to contested ethical debates about genetics
