Teaching Culture in Introductory Foreign Language Textbooks Carol A. Chapelle, 2016-07-30 This book demonstrates how foreign language textbook analysis can inform future materials development to improve foreign language teaching Through chronological analysis of French textbooks in the United States this book explores the representations of Canada and Quebec in French beginner textbooks produced from 1960 to 2010 Chapelle couples a large collection of 65 textbooks with a social semiotic qualitative analysis of the genres language and images that communicate Quebec s cultural narrative to learners Findings about the amount and type of content are presented by decade to track the trends in foreign language teaching and changes in Quebec s representation Particular attention is given to how language politics is presented to students through text and images This book will be of interest to scholars of Canadian Studies Quebec Studies and Second Language Acquisition as well as foreign language materials developers

The Francophone African Text Kwaku Addae Gyasi, 2006 Focusing on the African writer and the language of the former colonial power The Francophone African Text Translation and the Postcolonial Experience highlights the writer s re appropriation of the foreign language in the creative writing process It calls attention to the African writer s use of French a process of creative translation in which the writer s words form a hybrid code that compels the original French to refer to the indigenous African language for meaning Examining a group of works under the theme of translation this book reveals that a consideration of both ideological and linguistic elements enhances understanding of the subject from the broader perspective of postcolonial discourse

How to Show Things with Words Rui Linhares-Dias, 2011-05-03 How to Show Things with Words is an interdisciplinary research study at the interface between linguistics and philosophy which sheds new light on the narrative theoretical issue of proximal vs distal stance adoption in discourse Narrative distance ultimately depends on the epistemological source of the information conveyed but English and other Indo European languages have no inflectional systems for encoding that source of knowledge To fill in the gap speech act theory is re considered in the light of philosophical research on linguistic functions and a parallel is drawn between grammaticalized evidential categories and the objectifying acts of Husserl s phenomenology of constitution These intuitive vs signitive intentional acts do indeed roughly correspond to direct vs indirect evidentiary forms and can be inferred from the temporal perspectival organization of discourse by the so called intimation or announcement function of language systems It turns out that perspectival immediacy requires tenses with overlapping event and reference points but predictions of the sort are non monotonic forms of reasoning defeasible by quantificational aspect distinctions on the one hand and inherent meaning considerations on the other To substantiate this claim the bulk of the book provides an in depth formal semantic account of tense aspect and Aktionsart interwoven with a detailed analysis of the cognitive processes associated with eventuality description types The book addresses an audience of linguists in general formal semanticists cognitive scientists philosophers and narratologists with an interest in natural language semantics
