Southern Vietnamese Modernist Architecture Mel Schenck, 2020-04-21 Southern Vietnamese Modernist Architecture features beautiful architectural photography that illustrates the outstanding accomplishment of the people of southern Vietnam in developing a mid century modernist architecture that is extraordinary in the world Especially for Americans Vietnam has been a war instead of a country The world didn t notice that the Vietnamese were simultaneously constructing modern apartment buildings houses large public buildings and public housing as they developed a new nation And the world didn t anticipate that this architecture would be so overtly modernist rather than an adaption of traditional Vietnamese designs to the continuation of colonial architecture In the mid twentieth century southern Vietnamese architects developed a version of modernist architecture that accommodated the tropical climate and reflected the identity of a newly independent culture It demonstrates the innate sense of design of Vietnamese and it represented the outlook of the people of southern Vietnam as they looked towards the future even in the face of war The vast quantity and quality of Vietnamese modernist buildings constructed throughout southern Vietnam made Vietnam an unrecognized center of modernism in the world Most importantly the southern Vietnamese as a culture embraced modernism and it became the vernacular architecture of the culture for dwellings This architecture features an interplay between masses and voids that provides a much more vibrant version of modernist architecture This style fills the gaps between the functionalism of the International Style and the quest for identity and spirit that has been lacking in modernism worldwide American architect Mel Schenck is a long term immigrant to Vietnam and has been studying this architecture since he was surprised by the extent and quality of modernist architecture in Saigon when he first lived there in 1971 72 He and photographer Alexandre Garel accumulated a database of 400 buildings and 4 000 photographs in southern Vietnam to serve a comprehensive analysis of the history and characteristics of this distinctive architecture Architectural historians aficionados of modernist architecture and anyone interested in Vietnamese culture will find that this book is a positive story about Vietnamese aspirations for independence and the value of modernist architecture in living in the world today sociale nationale du Vietnam telle que plusieurs religions l'ont modelée et portée d'admirables accomplissements au long des siècles. Joseph NGUYEN HUY LAI a fait par sa réalisation cette œuvre grâce aux hautes responsabilités qu'il avait assumées dans son pays et grâce à une retraite studieuse. Ce livre restera peut-être l'ultime service qu'il aura rendu son peuple, l'Église du Vietnam et comme un suprême hommage à l'homme universel confronté avec la crise de ses croyances vitales. Il intéressera non pas les seuls Vietnamiens mais quiconque de toute culture et de toute race placée devant les interrogations du monde d'aujourd'hui. Son style narratif est riche et parfois introuvable, sa documentation ses descriptions soignées d'innombrables rites et coutumes en font un ouvrage attrayant qui fait réfléchir sans imposer de fatigue. Un livre de découvertes curieuses et en même temps de méditation sur l'essentiel.

AF Press Clips, 1967 The Vincentians: A General History of the Congregation of the Mission John E. Rybolt, THE SUBTITLE OF THIS SIXTH AND FINAL VOLUME of The Vincentians Internationalization and Aggiornamento 1919-1980 describes the growth and change of the Congregation of the Mission in the twentieth century. Formerly European in focus, the provinces of the Congregation gained their own voice. Membership in mission lands such as China, Brazil and Ethiopia surged as local vocations joined their European confreres. The same is true of maturing provinces elsewhere. St Vincent de Paul's congregation became internationalized in both outreach and membership. The Vincentians in these recent decades also tasted the bitterness of persecution. The Congregation was suppressed at various times in Europe, Latin America, Asia and Africa. Its members often reacted by moving elsewhere, thus furthering the internationalization of the Vincentian charism. Under the Nazis and Communist regimes many suffered imprisonment, torture and death. The provinces of Central Europe, Slovakia, Hungary and Poland to say nothing of China were particularly hard hit. Updating aggiornamento was the watchword toward the close of this period. As society changed, so did the Church and with it the Vincentians. The process was difficult and painful, but it moved the Congregation in directions originally laid down by the Founder. Increasingly, the members emphasized mutual cooperation with many Vincentian-inspired lay organizations: the Vincentian Family. The inspiration shared among them all has been a further manifestation of the compelling insights of St Vincent de Paul.

The Vietnamese City in Transition Patrick Gubry, Frank Castiglioni, Jean-Michel Cusset, Nguyen Thi Thieng, Pham Thuy Huong, 2010. Since the Doi Moi policy of economic renovation was introduced in 1986, Vietnam has undergone deep transformations as a result of the transition to a socialist-oriented market economy. Social and urban transition has taken place in parallel as urban dynamics were spurred on by Vietnamese public and private stakeholders and by external agents such as international organizations and international solidarity organizations, experts, consultants and bilateral aid organizations. Here are the results of research carried out by French, Canadian and Vietnamese teams from the north and south of the country on the overarching theme of Vietnamese cities in transition. Some of this research deals with urban dynamics, some with the issues at stake within such dynamics or with the strategies of the most significant stakeholders in urban transition: civil society, donors within the framework of official aid for development, consultants and international consultancy firms These projects were carried out between 2001 and 2004 as part of the Urban Research Programme for Development PRUD and mainly focus on Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City or both in the case of comparative studies Is there such a thing as a Vietnamese model of an Asian city It seems that urban transition in Vietnam is not taking place in as radical and abrupt a manner as in China The country's capacity for absorbing external models the quest for a third way between state intervention and economic liberalism and the fact that the country's architectural heritage is taken into account in urban planning are just some of the reasons for its particularity The issues addressed in each chapter as well as the proposals for further research suggested by the contributors should act as a catalyst for urban research in Vietnam

Law and Society in East Asia Christoph Antons, 2017-07-05 The massive and complex process of change in East Asia over recent decades has brought about a transformation in the nature of law and legal institutions in the region Whilst the process of change has to some degree mimicked western models of law and legal change there have been significant differences in approach due to the different social foundations of East Asian societies The more obvious of these has been the variety of ways in which rule of law ideas have been adopted in many East Asian countries where the role of the state is more dominant when compared with Western models This volume brings together a selection of the most important writings on East Asia of researchers in recent years and shows the broad range of questions which researchers have been addressing about the effect of law reform and legal change in societies dominated by traditional values and political forces and at a time of massive economic change

Vietnam Over the Long Twentieth Century Liam C. Kelley, Gerard Sasges, 2024-07-22 This open access book provides fascinating insights into the incredible changes that Vietnam underwent in the long twentieth century as it transformed from an early modern kingdom to a European colony to a divided land with opposing ideologies and to a unified country in a globalized world At each stage in this long century of changes there were Vietnamese who sought to mold their society into some vision of modernity The book looks at multiple rather than one form of modernity and links those forms with the different political moments that Vietnam experienced in tandem with the outside interlocutors that were maintained during those periods. As such, this book provides a holistic view of the many forms of modernity and their global links that can be found in Vietnam over the course of the long twentieth century. These multiple modernities are documented in this book and the authors do so by bringing together the strengths of traditional language-based area studies scholarship with the insights that an awareness of transnational and global perspectives provides. Relevant to historians and researchers in the broader arena of Southeast Asian studies with a particular interest in Vietnam, its journey from past to present, this book is a must-read engagement with a country that has undergone and continues to experience rapid transformation. Paysans, Etat et marchés au Vietnam Pascal Bergeret, 2002-01-01. Le Vietnam suit une trajectoire originale de transition vers l'économie de marché. Des interactions complexes y sont en jeu entre de puissantes forces de changement et un Parti communiste qui n'entend pas renoncer au contrôle de la société mais doit accepter une certaine libéralisation économique. De cette alchimie sociale et politique émergent des articulations nouvelles entre société, marchés et Etat. On assiste à la construction lente, difficile et non dénuée de contradictions d'un modèle de développement inédit dans lequel la paysannerie occupe une place centrale mais incertaine face aux marchés mondialisés et à un Etat-Parti en pleine réinvention. Cette trajectoire interroge nos conceptions de l'Etat et du développement. C'est l'objet de ce livre. Issu de l'expérience du Programme Fleuve Rouge mis en œuvre dans le nord du Vietnam depuis dix ans par le GRET en partenariat avec l'Institut vietnamien des sciences agricoles, il propose d'abord une analyse de la société vietnamienne et de son évolution récente, dynamiques rurales impressionnantes, transformations de l'appareil d'Etat et du Parti, émergence de nouvelles formes de rapports entre acteurs locaux. Il présente et analyse ensuite l'expérience du Programme Fleuve Rouge et son rôle dans l'évolution des agricultures et de leur environnement institutionnel. Au sortir de la phase de décollectivisation de l'agriculture dans les années 80, ce programme de recherche-action et de développement expérimental a associé des agronomes français et vietnamiens aux opérations conduites avec les paysans pour suivre, analyser et accompagner la renaissance de l'agriculture familiale. Il témoigne d'une coopération de proximité au sein de laquelle des équipes composites et bien insérées dans le milieu sont à la fois actrices et bénéficiaires des dynamiques locales.

Legal Reforms in China and Vietnam John Gillespie, Albert Chen, 2010-09-13. Although the adoption of market reforms has been a key factor leading to China's recent economic growth, China continues to be governed by a communist party and has a socialist-influenced legal system. Vietnam, starting later, also with a socialist-influenced legal system, has followed a similar reform path, and other countries too are now looking towards China and Vietnam as models for development. This book provides a comprehensive comparative assessment of legal developments in China and Vietnam, examining similarities and differences and raising important questions such as: Is there a distinctive Chinese model, and/or a more general East Asian Model? If so, can it be flexibly applied to social and economic conditions in different countries? If it cannot be applied to a culturally and politically similar country like Vietnam, is the model transportable elsewhere in the world Combining micro or interpretive methods with macro or structural traditions the book provides a nuanced account of legal reforms in China and Vietnam highlighting the factors likely to promote change or resist the spread of the Chinese model
