K. Narayan,2016-10-27 Set against the backdrop of the Indian Freedom Movement this fiction novel from award winning Indian writer R K Narayan traces the adventures of a young man Sriram who is suddenly removed from a quiet apathetic existence and owing to his involvement in the campaign of Mahatma Gandhi against British rule in India thrust into a life as adventurously varied as that of any picaresque hero There are writers Tolstoy and Henry James to name two whom we hold in awe writers Turgenev and Chekhov for whom we feel a personal affection other writers whom we respect Conrad for example but who hold us at a long arm s length with their courtly foreign grace Narayan whom I don t hesitate to name in such a context more than any of them wakes in me a spring of gratitude for he has offered me a second home Without him I could never have known what it is like to be Indian Graham Greene R K Narayan has been compared to Gogol in England where he has acquired a well deserved reputation The comparison is apt for Narayan an Indian is a writer of Gogol s stature with the same gift for creating a provincial atmosphere in a time of change One is convincingly involved in this alien world without ever being aware of the technical devices Narayan so brilliantly employs Anthony West The New Yorker      Swami and Friends, The Bachelor of Arts, The Dark Room, The English Teacher R. of change in his native India and captured it in fiction of uncommon warmth and vibrancy The four novels collected here all written during British rule bring colonial India into intimate focus through the narrative gifts of this master of literary realism Swami and Friends introduces us to Narayan's beloved fictional town of Malgudi where ten year old Swaminathan's excitement about his country's initial stirrings for independence competes with his ardor for cricket and all other things British The Bachelor of Arts is a poignant coming of age novel about a young man flush with first love but whose freedom to pursue it is hindered by the fixed ideas of his traditional Hindu family In The Dark Room Narayan's portrait of aggrieved domesticity the docile and obedient Savitri like many Malgudi women is torn between submitting to her husband's humiliations and trying to escape them The title character in The English Teacher Narayan's most autobiographical novel searches for meaning when the death of his young wife deprives him of his greatest source of happiness These pioneering novels luminous in their detail and refreshingly free of artifice are a gift to twentieth century literature
