Magic Images Magic Lantern Society of Great Britain, 1990 Ghost Images Tom Ruffles, 2015-03-07 The possibility of life after death is a significant theme in cinema in which ghosts return to the world of the living to wrap up unfinished business console their survivors visit lovers or just enjoy a well wreaked scaring This work focuses on film depictions of survival after death from meetings with the ghost of Elvis to AIDS related ghosts apparitions hauntings mediumship representations of heaven angels near death experiences possession poltergeists and all the other ways in which the living interact with the dead on screen The work opens with a historical perspective which outlines the development of pre cinematic technology for projecting phantoms and discusses the use of these skills in early ghost cinema English language sound films are then examined thematically with topics ranging from the expiation of sins to hungry ghosts Six of the most significant films Dead of Night A Matter of Life and Death The Innocents The Haunting The Shining and Jacob s Ladder are given a detailed analysis A conclusion filmography and bibliography follow Slides Anne Lacoste, 2017 Although the history of photography was built around prints there were significant developments in slides from the last third of the 19th century renewing the tradition of magic lanterns Photographic projection offers a unique field of exploration involving a wide variety of forms protagonists and places spanning a period of over one hundred and fifty years Its history tells of the dissemination of knowledge the quest for color and stereoscopy the boom in amateur photography and the medium s integration into the contemporary art scene from the 1960s Amateurs professional photographers publishers artists architects and designers have joined forces here to describe the specificities of the slide and show its impact on visual culture Page 4 of cover The British Journal of Photography , 1880 Playful Visions Meredith A. Bak, 2020-03-17 The kaleidoscope the stereoscope and other nineteenth century optical toys analyzed as new media of their era provoking anxieties similar to our own about children and screens In the nineteenth century the kaleidoscope the thaumatrope the zoetrope the stereoscope and other optical toys were standard accessories of a middle class childhood used both at home and at school In Playful Visions Meredith Bak argues that the optical toys of the nineteenth century were the new media of their era teaching children to be discerning consumers of media and also provoking anxieties similar to contemporary worries about children s screen time Bak shows that optical toys which produced visual effects ranging from a moving image to the illusion of depth established and reinforced a new understanding of vision as an interpretive process At the same time the expansion of the middle class as well as education and labor reforms contributed to a new notion of childhood as a time of innocence and play Modern media culture and the emergence of modern Western childhood are thus deeply interconnected Drawing on extensive archival research Bak discusses among other things the circulation of optical toys and the wide visibility gained by their appearance as printed templates and textual descriptions in periodicals expanding conceptions of literacy which came to include visual acuity and how optical play allowed children to exercise a sense of visual mastery She examines optical toys alongside related visual technologies including chromolithography which inspired both chromatic delight and chromophobia Finally considering the contemporary use of optical toys in advertising education and art Bak analyzes the endurance of nineteenth century visual paradigms A Million Pictures Sarah Dellmann, Frank Kessler, 2020-08-18 Slides for the magic or optical lantern were a major tool for knowledge transfer in the second half of the 19th and early 20th centuries Schools universities the church and many public and private institutions all over the world relied on the lantern for illustrated lectures and demonstrations This volume brings together scholarly research on the educational uses of the optical lantern in different disciplines by international specialists representing the state of the art of magic lantern research today In addition it contains a lab section with contributions by archivists and curators and performers reflecting on ways to preserve present and re use this immensely rich cultural heritage today Authors of this collection of essays will include Richard Crangle Sarah Dellmann Ine van Dooren Claire Dupr La Tour Jenny Durrant Francisco Javier Frutos Esteban Anna Katharina Graskamp Emily Hayes Erkki Huhtamo Martyn Jolly Joe Kember Frank Kessler Machiko Kusahara Sabine Lenk Vanessa Otero Carmen Lopez San Segundo Ariadna Lorenzo Sunyer Daniel Pitarch Jordi Pons Montse Puigdeval Anglique Quillay Angel Quintana Morraja Nadezhda Stanulevich Jennifer Tucker Kurt Vanhoutte Marcia Vilarigues Joseph Wachelder Artemis Willis Lee Wing Ki Irene Suk Mei Wong and Nele Wynants

Pictures of Poverty Lydia Jakobs, 2021-10-26 From Charles Dickens's Oliver Twist to George Sims's How the Poor Live illustrated accounts of poverty were en vogue in Victorian Britain Poverty was also a popular subject on the screen whether in dramatic retellings of well known stories or in documentary photographs taken in the slums London and its street life were the preferred setting for George Robert Sims's rousing ballads and the numerous magic lantern slide series and silent films based on them Sims was a popular journalist and dramatist whose articles short stories theatre plays and ballads discussed overcrowding drunkenness prostitution and child poverty in dramatic and heroic episodes from the lives and deaths of the poor Richly illustrated and drawing from many previously unknown sources Pictures of Poverty is a comprehensive account of the representation of poverty throughout the Victorian period whether disseminated in newspapers illustrated books and lectures presented on the theatre stage or projected on the screen in magic lantern and film performances Detailed case studies reveal the intermedial context of these popular pictures of poverty and their mobility across genres With versatile author George R Sims as the starting point this study explores the influence of visual media in historical discourses about poverty and the highly controversial role of the Victorian state in poor relief

Victorian Glassworlds Isobel Armstrong, 2008-04-24 Isobel Armstrong's startlingly original and beautifully illustrated book tells the stories that spring from the mass production of glass in nineteenth century England Moving across technology industry local history architecture literature print culture the visual arts optics and philosophy it will transform our understanding of the Victorian period The mass production of glass in the nineteenth century transformed an ancient material into a modern one at the same time transforming the environment and the nineteenth century imagination It created a new glass culture hitherto inconceivable Glass culture constituted Victorian modernity It was made from infinite variations of the prefabricated glass panel and the lens The mirror and the window became its formative elements both the texts and constituents of glass culture The glassworlds of the century are heterogeneous They manifest themselves in the technologies of the factory furnace in the myths of Cinderella and her glass slipper circulated in print media in the ideologies of the conservatory as building type in the fantasia of the shopfront in the production of chandeliers in the Crystal Palace and the lens made images of the magic lantern and microscope But they were nevertheless governed by two inescapable conditions First to look through glass was to look through the residues of the breath of an unknown artisan because glass was mass produced by incorporating glassblowing into the division of labour Second literally a new medium glass brought the ambiguity of transparency and the problems of mediation into the everyday It intervened between seer and seen incorporating a modern philosophical problem into bodily experience Thus for poets and novelists glass took on material and ontological political and aesthetic meanings Reading glass forwards into Bauhaus modernism Walter Benjamin overlooked an early phase of glass culture where the languages of glass are different The book charts this phase in three parts Factory archives trade union records and periodicals document the individual manufacturers and artisans who founded glass culture the industrial tourists who described it and the systematic politics of window breaking Part Two culminating in glass under glass at the Crystal Palace reads the glassing of the environment including the mirror the window and controversy round the conservatory and their inscription in poems and novels Part Three explores the lens from optical toys to philosophical instruments as the telescope and microscope were known A meditation on its history and phenomenology Victorian Glassworlds is a poetics of glass for nineteenth century modernity Journal of the Royal Society of Arts Royal Society of Arts (Great Britain),1900 Phantasmagoria Marina Warner,2006 With over thirty illustrations in color and black and white Phantasmagoria takes readers on an intellectually exhilarating tour of ideas of spirit and soul in the modern world illuminating key questions of imagination and cognition Warner tells the unexpected and often disturbing story about shifts in thought about consciousness and the individual person from the first public waxworks portraits at the end of the eighteenth century to stories of hauntings possession and loss of self in modern times She probes the perceived distinctions between fantasy and deception and uncovers a host of spirit forms angels ghosts fairies revenants and zombies that are still actively present in contemporary culture Film - An International Bibliography Malte Hagener,Michael Töteberg,2016-12-16 Kommentierte Bibliografie Sie gibt Wissenschaftlern Studierenden und Journalisten zuverlässig Auskunft über rund 6000 internationale Veröffentlichungen zum Thema Film und Medien Die vorgestellten Rubriken reichen von Nachschlagewerk über Filmgeschichte bis hin zu Fernsehen Video Multimedia Practices of Projection Gabriel Menotti, Virginia Crisp,2020 To many the technological aspects of projection often go unnoticed only brought to attention during moments of crisis or malfunction For example when a movie theater projector falters the audience suddenly looks toward the back of the theater to see a sign of mechanical failure The history of cinema similarly shows that the attention to projection has been most focused when the whole medium is hanging in suspension During Hollywood's economic consolidation in the 30s projection defined the ways that sync sound technologies could be deployed within the medium Most recently the digitization of cinema repeated this process as technology was reworked to facilitate mobility These examples show how projection continually speaks to the rearrangement of media technology Projection therefore needs to be examined as a pivotal element in the future of visual media's technological transition In Practices of Projection Histories and Technologies volume editors Gabriel Menotti and Virginia Crisp address the cultural and technological significance of projection Throughout the volume chapters reiterate that projection cannot and must not be reduced to its cinematic functions alone Borrowing media theorist Siegfried Zielinski's definition Menotti and Crisp refer to projection as the heterogeneous array of artefacts technical systems and particularly visual praxes of experimentation and of culture From this readers can understand the performative character of the moving image and the labor of the different actors involved in the utterance of the film text Projection is not the same everywhere nor equal all the time Its systems are in permanent interaction with environmental circumstances neighboring structures local cultures and social economies Thus the idea of projection as a universal fully autonomous operation cannot hold Each occurrence of projection adds nuance to a wider understanding of film screening technologies Before Hollywood Paul Clee,2005 Offers a fascinating look a the world of entertainment before Hollywood and explains how today s movies came to be Encyclopaedia of the Magic Lantern David Robinson,Stephen Herbert,Richard Crangle,2001
