Magical Arrows The Maori The Greeks:

Magical Arrows Gregory Allen Schrempp, 1992 Schrempp concludes that a meaningful comparative cosmology is possible and that the tradition of Zeno provides a propitious starting point for such a perspective Crossing Histories and Ethnographies Ricardo Roque, Elizabeth G. Traube, 2019-06-20 The key question for many anthropologists and historians today is not whether to cross the boundary between their disciplines but whether the idea of a disciplinary boundary should be sustained Reinterpreting the dynamic interplay between archive and field these essays propose a method for mutually productive crossings between historical and ethnographic research It engages critically with the colonial pasts of indigenous societies and examines how fieldwork and archival studies together lead to fruitful insights into the making of different colonial historicities Timor Leste s unusually long and in some ways unique colonial history is explored as a compelling case for these crossings Companion Encyclopedia of Anthropology Tim Ingold, 2002 New in paperback this Companion provides a unique survey of contemporary thinking in biological social and cultural anthropology A prestigious editor leads an international team of acknowledged experts in each field

Fragments of Death, Fables of Identity Eleni Neni K. Panourgia, Neni Panourgia, 1995 A reference on all aspects of the regional and international conflict focusing on the period since the adoption of the Palestinian partition plan in November 1947 the first Arab Israeli War up to the Israel PLO Declaration of Principles and the Israel Jordan Peace Treaty Entries of varying length on political military and diplomatic events as well as people institutions and concepts contain bibliographies and cross references Includes a chronology spanning centuries and a list of abbreviations and acronyms Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR

Taming Time, Timing Death Rane Willerslev, Dorthe Refslund Christensen, 2016-04-01 Departing from a persisting current in Western thought which conceives of time in the abstract and often reflects upon death as occupying a space at life s margins this book begins from position that it is in fact through the material and perishable world that we experience time As such it is with death and our encounters with it that form the basis of human conceptions of time Presenting rich interdisciplinary empirical studies of death rituals and practices across the globe from the US and Europe Asia The Middle East Australasia and Africa Taming Time Timing Death explores the manner in which social technologies and rituals have been and are implemented to avoid delay or embrace death or communicate with the dead thus informing and manifesting humans understanding of time It will therefore be of interest to scholars and students of anthropology philosophy sociology and social theory human geography and religion The Body of Raphaelle Peale Alexander Nemerov, 2001-03-12 This book is mind blowing Nemerov is a groundbreaking thinker in his field John Wilmerding Princeton University This is a book for all serious Americanists Jay Fliegelman author of Declaring Independence Each haunting and delicately wrought canvas expands as Nemerov writes about it so that his interpretive work both mirrors and supplements the wondrous intensity of the paintings themselves Ellen Handler Spitz Museums of the Mind Underneath their apparent simplicity Raphaelle Peale s still lives glow mysteriously in the dark light of their making Peale transformed the common items of the early nineteenth century kitchen and market into explorations of the American unconscious Now writing as coolly and lucidly as Peale painted Alexander Nemerov has unpeeled those still lifes in a tour de force of formalistic analysis Through close interrogation of these small hermetic images Nemerov's book reveals the whole world of early America in the process bringing us as close as possible to the genius of Raphaelle Peale David C Ward National Portrait Gallery Smithsonian Institution This is a dazzling study lively and imaginative of an important body of work Nemerov's novel arguments regarding still life in general and Raphaelle Peale in particular reveal much about the art the man and the times It is a thoughtful and provocative book certain to generate interest and debate Charles C Eldredge Hall Distinguished Professor of American Art and Culture University of Kansas A triumph of interpretation Not since Michael Fried's groundbreaking account of Thomas Eakins has a critic so reimagined the very terms by which we see painting Nemerov's account singlehandedly catapults a painter we had previously considered to be interesting but minor into the forefront of discussions about American art during the early National Period The Body of Raphaelle Peale will no doubt spark the beginning of an exciting revival of scholarship in American Romantic painting Bryan J Wolf author of Romantic Re-Vision The Aesop's Fable Paradigm K. Brandon Barker, Daniel J. Povinelli, 2021-12-07 The Aesop's Fable Paradigm is a collection of essays that explore the cutting edge intersection of Folklore and Science From moralizing fables to fantastic folktales humans have been telling stories about animals animals who can talk feel think and make moral judgments just as we do for a very long time In contrast scientific studies of the mental lives of animals have professed to be investigating the nature of animal minds slowly cautiously objectively with no room for fanciful tales fables or myths But recently these folkloric and scientific traditions have merged in an unexpected and shocking way scientists have attempted to prove that at least some animal fables are actually true These interdisciplinary chapters examine how science has targeted the well known Aesop's fable The Crow and the Pitcher as their starting point They explore the ever growing set of experimental studies which purport to prove that crows possess an understanding of higher order concepts like weight mass and even Archimedes insight about the physics of water displacement The Aesop's Fable Paradigm explores how these scientific studies are doomed to accomplish little more than to mirror anthropomorphic representations of animals in human folklore and reveal that the problem of folkloric projection extends far beyond the Aesop's Fable Paradigm into every nook and cranny of research on animal cognition From Triads to Pentads Robert Parkin, 2025-03-01 N J Nick Allen had an extensive academic career which for the most part was spent in Oxford He passed away in 2020 This edited volume brings together a selection of his anthropological papers They cover two major fields and a supplementary one Indo-European mythical comparison and his own notion of tetradic kinship supplemented by a long term interest in the work of Marcel Mauss and his uncle mile Durkheim It follows key areas of his research in which his contributions were novel innovative stimulating and plausible The Cultural Dialectics of Knowledge and Desire Charles William Nuckolls,1996 Turkish Traditional Art Today Henry Glassie,1993 He tells of architecture calligraphy woodworking and earthenware but lays particular emphasis on the brilliant underglaze painted ceramics of Kutahya and the rich piled carpets for which Turkey has been famed for centuries While searching for the traits that define art and the stylistic complexities that characterize Turkish creativity Glassie focuses on the artists and their theories and practices as well as the works they produce The Folkloresque Michael Dylan Foster,Jeffrey A. Tolbert,2015-11-01 This volume introduces a new concept to explore the dynamic relationship between folklore and popular culture the folkloresque With folkloresque Foster and Tolbert name the product created when popular culture appropriates or reinvents folkloric themes characters and images Such manufactured tropes are traditionally considered outside the purview of academic folklore study but the folkloresque offers a frame for understanding them that is grounded in the discourse and theory of the discipline Fantasy fiction comic books anime video games literature professional storytelling and comedy and even popular science writing all commonly incorporate elements from tradition or draw on basic folklore genres to inform their structure Through three primary modes integration portrayal and parody the collection offers a set of heuristic tools for analysis of how folklore is increasingly used in these commercial and mass market contexts The Folkloresque challenges disciplinary and genre boundaries suggests productive new approaches for interpreting folklore popular culture literature film and contemporary media and encourages a rethinking of traditional works and older interpretive paradigms Contributors Trevor J Blank Chad Buterbaugh Bill Ellis Timothy H Evans Michael Dylan Foster Carlea Holl Jensen Greg Kelley Paul Manning Daniel Peretti Gregory Schrempp Jeffrey A Tolbert Making Place Stephan Feuchtwang,2012-09-10 To make a place is to create a location where its creators can feel they belong Processes of place making are still very much ongoing today Geographers sociologists political scientists and philosophers of advanced capitalism have said that place is a localisation of the global However the creation of a place is not legible from such grand perspectives It is also much more creative than can be predicted by translating large scale processes into local cultures Anthropologists have been sensitive to the intimate tragic and lyrical senses of local place But their theorising has been too much bound up with cosmology and insufficiently with the intermediate scales of state and local state In this book Stephan Feuchtwang and his contributors offer a set of historical anthropological and scale mediated studies from China a country that includes a subcontinental variety of cultures and landscapes In the twentieth century it experienced collapse in civil war and was then reasserted as a particularly strong state Now it is managing the fastest growing capitalist economy in the world These intriguing Chinese studies contribute to the anthropology of place and space providing an historical perspective on processes of change and of accommodation to disruption The stories they tell are fascinating in their own right but in addition the result is a critical reformulation of previous theories of place that geographers philosophers historians and anthropologists will find of great interest The Lost Drum James F. Weiner,1995 A fascinating sophisticated anthropological psychoanalytic consideration of certain Papuan myths that deal with lost or detached objects which although destined to complete the missing parts of persons instead elude their control or incorporate the whole person rather than being reincorporated themselves Like sexual organs they have their own embarrassing powers of extensibility intrude themselves into people's desire swallow other objects organs persons and discourses Introduction Paper edition unseen 1995 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR

Vegetal Entwinements in Philosophy and Art Giovanni Aloï, Michael Marder, 2023-07-04 The first reader in critical plant studies exploring a rapidly growing multidisciplinary field the intersection of philosophy with plant science and the visual arts In recent years philosophy and art have testified to how anthropocentrism has culturally impoverished our world leading to the wide destruction of habitats and ecosystems In this book Giovanni Aloï and Michael Marder show that the field of critical plant studies can make an important contribution offering a slew of possibilities for scientific research local traditions Indigenous knowledge history geography anthropology philosophy and aesthetics to intersect inform one another and lead interdisciplinary and transcultural dialogues Vegetal Entwinements in Philosophy and Art considers such topics as the presence of plants in the history of philosophy the shifting status of plants in various traditions what it means to make art with growing life forms and whether or not plants have moral standing In an experimental vegetal arrangement the reader presents some of the most influential writing on plants philosophy and the arts together with provocative new contributions as well as interviews with groundbreaking contemporary artists whose work has greatly enhanced our appreciation of vegetal being Contributors Catriona A H Sandilands Giovanni Aloï Marlene Atleo Monica Bakke Emily Blackmer Jodi Brandt Teresa Castro Dan Choffness D Denenge Duyst Akpem Mark Dion Elisabeth E Schussler Braden Elliott Monica Gagliano Elaine Gan Prudence Gibson James H Wandersee Manuela Infante Luce Irigaray Nicholas J Reo Jonathon Keats Zayaan Khan Robin Wall Kimmerer Eduardo Kohn Stefano Mancuso Michael Marder Anguezomo Mba Bikoro Elaine Miller Samaneh Moafi Uriel Orlow Mark Payne Allegra Pesenti pela Petri Michael Pollan Darren Ranco Angela Roothaan Marcela Salinas Diana Scherer Vandana Shiva Linda Tegg Maria Theresa Alves Krista Tippet Anthony Trewavas Alessandra Viola Eduardo Viveiros de Castro B W Mathai Wangari Lois Weinberger Kyle Whyte David Wood Anicka Yi

Superman in Myth and Folklore Daniel Peretti, 2017-10-05 Superman rose from popular culture comic books newspaper strips radio television novels and movies but people have so embraced the character that he has now become part of folklore This transition from popular to folk culture signals the importance of Superman to fans and to a larger American populace Superman's story has become a myth dramatizing identity morality and politics Many studies have examined the ways in which folklore has provided inspiration for other forms of culture especially literature and cinema In Superman in Myth and Folklore Daniel Peretti explores the meaning of folklore inspired by popular culture focusing not on the Man of Steel's origins but on the culture he has helped create Superman provides a way to approach fundamental questions of human nature a means of exploring humanity's relationship with divinity an exemplar for debate about the type of hero society needs and an articulation of the tension between the individual and the community Through examinations of tattoos humor costuming and festivals Peretti portrays Superman as a corporate owned intellectual property and a model for behavior a means for expression and performance of individual identity and the focal point for disparate members of fan communities As fans apply Superman stories to their lives they elevate him to a mythical status Peretti focuses on the way these fans have internalized various aspects of the character In doing so he delves into the meaning of Superman and his place in American culture and demonstrates the character's staying power

Ariadne's Thread William F. Hansen, 2002 Ariadne's Thread is a mini encyclopedia of more than a hundred such international oral tales all present in the literature of ancient Greece and Rome It takes into account writings including early Jewish and Christian literature recorded in or translated into Greek or Latin by writers of any nationality As a result this book will be invaluable not only to classicists and folklorists but also to a wide range of other readers who are interested in stories and storytelling

BOOK JACKET Wombs and Alien Spirits Janice Boddy, 1989-12-01 Based on nearly two years of ethnographic fieldwork in a Muslim village in northern Sudan Wombs and Alien Spirits explores the z r cult the most widely practiced traditional healing cult in Africa Adherents of the cult are usually women with marital or fertility problems who are possessed by spirits very different from their own proscribed roles as mothers Through the woman the spirit makes demands upon her husband and family and makes provocative comments on village issues such as the increasing influence of formal Islam or encroaching Western economic domination In accommodating the spirits the women are able metaphorically to reformulate everyday discourse to portray consciousness of their own subordination Janice Boddy examines the moral universe of the village discussing female circumcision personhood kinship and bodily integrity then describes the workings of the cult and the effect of possession on the lives of men as well as women She suggests that spirit possession is a feminist discourse though a veiled and allegorical one on women's objectification and subordination Additionally the spirit world acts as a foil for village life in the context of rapid historical change and as such provides a focus for cultural resistance that is particularly though not exclusively relevant to women

Cultures of Secrecy Andrew Lattas, 1998 After driving the Japanese out of Papua New Guinea during World War II the U S military forces left their gear and the makings of a cargo cult to the native Kaliai CULTURES OF SECRECY offers a close look at how for fifty years the bush Kaliai in Melanesia have worked these tailings of the western world into their indigenous culture Lattas shows how cargo cults in general bring together past present and future in their curious blending of traditional myths imported folklore borrowed state practices and ideologies and reworked Christian stories The result is a richly interdisciplinary work that uses ethnography to explore questions of racial experience gender relations space time death and the politics of human relations Never passive imitators the Kaliai as Andrew Lattas portrays them actively incorporate and transform western beliefs and practices into their own narratives of life sexuality and death The consequences are new myths and histories new relationships with the ancestral dead and alternative world of power and knowledge through which the Kaliai accommodate the dominant white culture and its institutions Lattas examines the racial conflict that has riddled the recent history of the cargo cults He also describes the cults demonization by the New Tribes missionaries from the United States who disapprove of the villagers unorthodox miming of European symbols and practices His book allows us to see behind the villagers ambivalence toward waitskin white skins as they continue to reinvent their social world

Water and Power in Past Societies Emily Holt, 2018-05-01
Examines the many ways water has contributed to power structures in the past with insights for contemporary water management Water an essential resource in all cultures is at the heart of human power structures Utilizing a diverse range of theoretical perspectives the contributors to Water and Power in Past Societies provide a broad introduction to the archaeology of water related power structures The studies herein explore the long history of water politics in human society offering new insights into the power structures and inequalities surrounding irrigation systems the collection of rainwater as a component of ancient industrial production and sea water as a facilitator of communication trade and aggression In addition to examining the role of different types of water in creating power relationships the volume presents case studies from a variety of climatic regions ranging from the very dry to the tropical This geographical breadth facilitates cross cultural comparison making Water and Power in Past Societies an essential resource for instructors and students of the archaeology of water Finally in addition to reaching conclusions with significant implications for archaeologists and anthropologists the volume has real contemporary relevance often drawing explicit parallels with issues of current and future water management
