The Cinema of Francesco Rosi Gaetana Marrone, 2020-10-16 Francesco Rosi is one of the great realist artists of post war Italian indeed post war world cinema In this book author Gaetana Marrone explores the rich visual language in which the Neapolitan filmmaker expresses the cultural icons that constitute his style and images Over the years Rosi has offered us films that trace an intricate path between the real and the fictive the factual and the imagined His films show an extraordinarily consistent formal balance while representing historical events as social emblems that examine shape and reflect the national self They rely on a labyrinthine narrative structure in which the sense of an enigma replaces the unidirectional path leading ineluctably to a designated end and solution Rosi's logical investigations are conducted by an omniscient eye and translated into a cinematic approach that embraces the details of material reality with the panoramic perspective of a dispassionate observer This book offers intertextual analyses within such fields as history politics literature and photography along with production information gleaned from Rosi's personal archives and interviews It examines Rosi's creative use of film as document and as spectacle It is also a study of the specific cinematic techniques that characterize Rosi's work and that visually compositionally express his vision of history and the elusive truth of past and present social and political realities

Veiled Desires Maureen Sabine, 2013-08-22 Ingrid Bergman's engaging screen performance as Sister Mary Benedict in The Bells of St Mary's made the film nun a star and her character a shining standard of comparison She represented the religious life as the happy and rewarding choice of a modern woman who had a complete understanding of both erotic and spiritual desire How did this vibrant and mature nun figure come to be viewed as girlish and naive Why have she and her cinematic sisters in postwar popular film so often been stereotyped or selectively analyzed so seldom been seen as women and religious In Veiled Desires a unique full length in depth look at nuns in film Maureen Sabine explores these questions in a groundbreaking interdisciplinary study covering more than sixty years of cinema She looks at an impressive breadth of films in which the nun features as an ardent lead character including The Bells of St Mary's 1945 Black Narcissus 1947 Heaven Knows Mr Allison 1957 Sea Wife 1957 The Nun's Story 1959 The Sound of Music 1965 Change of Habit 1969 In This House of Brede 1975

Agnes of God 1985 Dead Man Walking 1995 and Doubt 2008 Veiled Desires considers how the beautiful and charismatic stars who play chaste nuns from Ingrid Bergman and Audrey Hepburn to Susan Sarandon and Meryl Streep call attention to desires that the veil concealed and the habit was thought to stifle In a theologically and psychoanalytically informed argument Sabine responds to the critics who have pigeonholed the film nun as the obedient daughter and religious handmaiden of a patriarchal church and the respectful audience who revered her as an icon of spiritual perfection Sabine provides a framework for a more complex and holistic picture of nuns onscreen by showing how the films dramatize these women's Christian call to serve sacrifice and dedicate themselves to God and their erotic desire for intimacy agency achievement and fulfillment
