Frank, 2006 Challenging the classic horror frame in American film American filmmakers appropriate the look of horror in Holocaust films and often use Nazis and Holocaust imagery to explain evil in the world say authors Caroline Joan Kay S Picart and David A Frank In Frames of Evil The Holocaust as Horror in American Film Picart and Frank challenge this classic horror frame the narrative and visual borders used to demarcate monsters and the monstrous After examining the way in which directors and producers of the most influential American Holocaust movies default to this Gothic frame they propose that multiple frames are needed to account for evil and genocide Using Schindler's List The Silence of the Lambs and Apt Pupil as case studies the authors provide substantive and critical analyses of these films that transcend the classic horror interpretation For example Schindler s List say Picart and Frank has the appearance of a historical docudrama but actually employs the visual rhetoric and narrative devices of the Hollywood horror film The authors argue that evil has a face Nazism which is configured as quintessentially innate and supernaturally crafty Frames of Evil which is augmented by thirty six film and publicity stills also explores the commercial exploitation of suffering in film and offers constructive ways of critically evaluating this exploitation The authors suggest that audiences will recognize their participation in much larger narrative formulas that place a premium on monstrosity and elide the role of modernity in depriving millions of their lives and dignity often framing the suffering of others in a manner that allows for merely documentary enjoyment Reading Race Norman K Denzin, 2001-12-14 In this insightful book one of America's leading commentators on culture and society turns his gaze upon cinematic race relations examining the relationship between film race and culture Norman K Denzin argues that the cinema like society treats all persons as equal but struggles to define and implement diversity pluralism and multiculturalism He goes on to argue that the cinema needs to honour racial and ethnic differences in defining race in terms of both an opposition to and acceptance of the media s interpretations and representations of the American racial order Acute richly illustrated and timely the book deepens our understanding of the politics of race and the symbolic complexity of segregation and discrimination and the Rebel, This cultural history reveals the unique qualities of road stories and follows the evolution from the Beats postwar literary adventures to today s postmodern reality television shows Tracing the road story as it moves to both LeRoi Jones s critique of the Beats romanticization of blacks as well as to the mainstream in the 1960s with CBS s Route 66 Mills also documents the rebel subcultures of novelist Ken Kesey and the Merry Pranksters who used film and LSD as inspiration on a cross country bus trip and she examines the sexualization of male mobility and biker mythology in the films Scorpio Rising The Wild Angels and Easy Rider Mills addresses how the filmmakers of the 1970s Coppola Scorsese and Bogdanovich flourished in New Hollywood with road films that reflected mainstream audiences and how feminists Joan Didion and Betty Friedan subsequently critiqued them A new generation of women and minority storytellers gain clout and bring genre remapping to the national consciousness Mills explains as the road story evolves from such novels as Song of Solomon to films like Thelma and Louise and television's Road Rules 2 Eaten Alive at a Chainsaw Massacre John Kenneth Muir, 2015-07-11 The sound of chainsaws revving on haunted Halloween trails has evoked untold screams since Tobe Hooper s 1974 The Texas Chainsaw Massacre hit the cinemas Since that first take no prisoners horror movie Hooper's reputation as a master of horror has been secured by his adaptations of Stephen King Salem's Lot 1978 and The Mangler 1995 his blockbuster breakthrough Poltergeist 1982 and a variety of cult hits from the underrated Lifeforce 1985 to the remake of Invaders from Mars 1986 This reference work is divided into five parts Part I provides a history and overview of Tobe Hooper s career Part II offers entries with synopses complete credits critical reception and commentaries on every feature film by year of release Part III provides chronological information on Hooper's television movies and miniseries Part IV offers entries on his episodes from horror television series Part V is a critical essay and conclusion which places Hooper in horror film history and compares his work to all time greats such as Romero Craven and Carpenter The Oliver Stone Encyclopedia

James Michael Welsh, Donald M. Whaley, 2013 Oliver Stone has written and directed many memorable films while also developing a reputation for tackling controversial subjects such as the Turkish prison system Midnight Express the Vietnam war Platoon and Born on the Fourth of July insider trading Wall Street presidential assassination JFK and a voyeuristic media Natural Born Killers Along the way Stone has been nominated for more than 10 Academy Awards and three times received Oscars for his work In The Oliver Stone Encyclopedia James M Welsh and Donald M Whaley provide an overarching evaluation of Stone s work as screenwriter producer and director While the entries in this volume address all of the usual aspects of Stone s career they also explore new avenues of critical evaluation especially influences such as Friedrich Nietzsche and Buddhism which Stone converted to in the 1990s In addition this volume traces Stone s obsession with Latin American politics evident in his film Salvador 1986 his screenplay for Alan Parker s Evita 1996 and the documentaries Commandante 2003 Looking for Fidel 2004 and South of the Border 2010 Each entry is followed by a bibliography of published sources both in print and online A comprehensive and engaging examination of the director The Oliver Stone Encyclopedia will appeal to scholars and fans alike as the most comprehensive reference on this director s body of work
