Sociability and Society K. Ludwig Pfeiffer, 2023-03-21 Today churches political parties trade unions and even national sports teams are no guarantee of social solidarity At a time when these traditional institutions of social cohesion seem increasingly ill equipped to defend against the disintegration of sociability K

Ludwig Pfeiffer encourages us to reflect on the cultural and literary history of social gatherings from the ancient Athenian symposium to its successor forms throughout Western history. From medieval troubadours to Parisian salons and beyond, Pfeiffer conceptualizes the symposium as an institution of sociability with a central societal function. As such, he reinforces a programmatic theoretical move in the sociology of Georg Simmel and builds on theories of social interaction and communication characterized by Max Weber, George Herbert Mead, Jürgen Habermas, Niklas Luhmann, and others. To make his argument, Pfeiffer draws on the work of a range of writers including Dr Samuel Johnson and Diderot, Virginia Woolf, and Marcel Proust, Dorothy Sayers, Joseph Conrad, and Stieg Larsson. Ultimately, Pfeiffer concludes that if modern societies do not find ways of reinstating elements of the Athenian symposium, especially those relating to its ritualized ease, decency, and style of interaction, they will have to cope with increasing violence and decreasing social cohesion.

Encyclopedia of French Film Directors Philippe Rège, 2009-12-11 Cinema has been long associated with France, dating back to 1895 when Louis and Auguste Lumière screened their works, the first public viewing of films anywhere. Early silent pioneers Georges Méliès, Alice Guy Blaché, and others followed in the footsteps of the Lumière brothers, and the tradition of important filmmaking continued throughout the 20th century and beyond. In Encyclopedia of French Film Directors, Philippe Rège identifies every French director who has made at least one feature film since 1895. From undisputed masters to obscure one-timers, nearly 3,000 directors are cited here, including at least 200 filmmakers not mentioned in similar books published in France. Each director's entry contains a brief biographical summary, including dates and places of birth and death, information on the individual's education and professional training, and other pertinent details such as real names when the filmmaker uses a pseudonym. The entries also provide complete filmographies, including credits for feature films, shorts, documentaries, and television work. Some of the most important names in the history of film can be found in this encyclopedia, from masters of the Golden Age, Jean Renoir and René Clair, to French New Wave artists such as François Truffaut and Jean-Luc Godard.

The Typewriter Century Martyn Lyons, 2021-02-01 This book captures the intensity of the relationship between writers and their typewriters from the 1880s, when the machine was first commercialized, to the 1980s, when word processing superseded it. Drawing on examples from the United States, Britain, Europe, and Australia, The Typewriter Century focuses on celebrity writers, including Henry James, Jack Kerouac, Agatha Christie, Georges Simenon, and Erle Stanley Gardner, who wrote prolifically and mechanically, developing routines in which typing, handwriting, and dictation were each allotted important functions. The typewriter depersonalized the text; the office typewriter bureaucratized it. At the same time, some authors found a new and disturbing distance between themselves and their compositions, while others believed the typewriter facilitated spontaneous and automatic typing. The Typewriter Century provides a cultural history of the typewriter, outlining the ways in which it can be considered an agent of change, as well as demonstrating how it influenced all writers, canonical and otherwise.
