The Art Dealer's Apprentice David Guenther, 2024-03-05 The Art Dealer's Apprentice tells the story of how the author moved to New York in 1989 as a young Midwesterner found a job at an Upper East Side gallery and became the protégé of Carla Panicali an Italian countess and major international art world figure From Carla an extraordinary woman whom he deeply admired the author learned to navigate the treacherous waters of authenticity power and money in the art business and his own life As gallery director he gradually piloted the gallery through a sea of fakes frauds and unscrupulous colleagues competitors collectors and experts until the art market crashed and in the ensuing crisis in the increasingly money driven art world of the 1990s he came to question even the authenticity of his friendship with Carla In The Art Dealer's Apprentice the author recounts how he learned the New York art business from the inside including the roles of dealers auction houses runners collectors and experts the personal histories of famous artists and the art historical importance and salability of their work and how paintings and sculptures were or were not authenticated and sold often based surprisingly on factors having little to do with the artwork itself The author also details how international business was done in some cases through illicit transport of artworks payoffs to experts and Swiss bank accounts Increasingly disillusioned the author ultimately concludes that by the early 1990s the art business was no longer really about art      A Sourcebook of Gauguin's Symbolist Followers Russell T. The Opposite Field Jesse Katz, 2010-07-13 Here is one of the most remarkable ambitious and utterly original memoirs of this generation a story of the losing and finding of self of sex and love and fatherhood and the joy of language of death and failure and heartbreak of Los Angeles and Portland and Nicaragua and Mexico and the shifting sands of place and meaning that can make up a culture or a community or a home Faced with the collapse of his son's Little League program consisting mostly of Latino kids in the largely Asian suburb of Monterey Park California Jesse Katz finds himself thrust into the role of baseball commissioner for La Loma Park Under its lights the yearnings and conflicts of a complex immigrant community are played out amid surprising moments of grace Each day and night becomes a test of Jesse's judgment and adaptability and of his capacity to make this peculiar pocket of L A's Eastside his home While Jesse soothes egos brokers disputes chases down delinquent coaches and missing equipment and applies popsicles to bruises he forms unlikely alliances commits unanticipated errors and receives the gift of unexpected wisdom But there's no less drama in Jesse's complicated personal life as he grapples with a stepson who seems destined for trouble comforts his mother a legendary Oregon politician when she's stricken with cancer and receives hard lessons in finding and holding on to the love of a good woman Through it all Jesse's emotional mainstay is his beloved son Max who quietly bests his father's brightest hopes Over nine springs and summers with Max at La Loma Jesse learns nothing less than what it takes to be a father a son a husband a coach and ultimately a man This is an epic book a funny book a sexy book a rapturously evocative and achingly poignant book Above all it is true in that it happened but also in a way that transcends mere facts and cuts to the quick of what it means to be alive
