Sappho in the Holy Land Chava Frankfort-Nachmias, Erella Shadmi, 2012-02-01 This unique collection examines the experience of lesbians in Israel, providing insight into some of the institutions that have helped shape that experience. The book analyzes and interprets how culturally specific political, ideological, and social systems construct lesbian identities, experiences, and dilemmas, and it also explores how a specific society is seen, understood, and interpreted from a lesbian perspective. Written by scholars, professionals, and grassroots activists representing different sectors of the Israeli political spectrum, this book provides a broad perspective of the lesbian experience in Israel.

Claiming Home Tina Büchler, 2022-01-12 Through biographical narratives, Claiming Home traces how queer migrant women living in Switzerland navigate often contradictory perspectives on sexuality, gender, and nation. Situated between heteronormative and racialized stereotypes of migrant women on the one hand and the implicitly white figure of the lesbian on the other, queer migrant women are often rendered impossible subjects. Claiming Home maps how they negotiate conflicting loyalties in this field and how they in their own way claim a sense of belonging and home.

Radical Records (Routledge Revivals) Bob Cant, Susan Hemmings, 2010-07-19 The period between the publication in 1957 of the liberalising Wolfenden Report and the introduction in 1987 of the homophobic Section 28 was characterised by unprecedented optimism and political activism among lesbians and gay men in Britain. But the law and its shortcomings never determined their whole political and cultural agenda, and Radical Records explores the diverse and sometimes conflicting attempts of lesbian and gay people to build a new world for themselves and those they loved. The contributors recount their own personal narratives of how they struggled to re-define their identities, to explore non-traditional expressions of intimacy, to reclaim public spaces, to engage with the HIV epidemic, to build alliances, and generally to make radical transformations of their lives. The re-issue of this important work, first published in 1988, gives its readers an opportunity to re-visit that turbulent time through the voices of its participants.

Radical Relations Daniel Winunwe Rivers, 2013-09-03 In Radical Relations, Daniel Winunwe Rivers offers a previously untold story of the American family: the first history of lesbian and gay parents and their children in the United States. Beginning in the postwar era, a period marked by both intense repression and dynamic change for lesbians and gay men, Rivers argues that by forging new kinds of family and childrearing relations, gay and lesbian parents have successfully challenged legal and cultural definitions of family as heterosexual. These efforts have paved the way for the contemporary focus on family and domestic rights in lesbian and gay political movements. Based on extensive archival research and 130 interviews conducted nationwide, Radical Relations includes the stories of lesbian mothers and gay fathers in the 1950s, lesbian and gay parental activist networks, and custody battles, families struggling with the AIDS epidemic, and children growing up in lesbian feminist communities Rivers also addresses changes in gay and lesbian parenthood in the 1980s and 1990s brought about by increased awareness of insemination technologies and changes in custody and adoption law Helping Substance-Abusing Women of Vulnerable Populations An-Pyng Sun, 2009-05-12 Current research suggests that biology psychology culture and social standing all contribute to alcohol and other drug AOD problems in women yet few books show how to account for these factors during evaluation and treatment Especially in terms of vulnerable populations acknowledging these influences proves crucial to effective assessment and help Drawing on extensive empirical research this volume provides the necessary concepts tools and techniques for culturally and socially inclusive practice with vulnerable female populations After a brief history of substance abuse among women in the United States along with an overview of previous epidemiological study An Pyng Sun systematically describes the characteristics and nature of AOD problems among pregnant women teenage girls older women street walking prostitutes homeless women and lesbians Clearly and concisely she presents the theories that explain women s AOD problems along with their related risk factors and recommends effective treatment guidelines and strategies that speak directly to the needs of individual clients Vulnerable women are more likely to develop substance abuse problems than other women and their consequences tend to be more severe This volume organizes complex data into a practical framework so practitioners can successfully respond to this special population It supplies a long overdue comprehensive and comprehensible knowledge base for screening assessment and care
