Une Belle Maison S. Frederick Starr, 2013-06-04 Described in an 1835 bill of sale as une belle maison the Lombard plantation house is a rare survivor Built in the early nineteenth century as a West Indian style residence it was the focal point of a large plantation that stretched deep into the cypress swamps of what is now New Orleans s Bywater neighborhood Featuring the best Norman trussing in North America it was one of many plantations homes and grand residences that lined the Mississippi downriver from the French Quarter A working farm until the 1800s its lands were eventually absorbed into the expanding city After years of prosperity the entire area of the Ninth Ward now known as Bywater sank into poverty and neglect This is the story of the rise fall and eventual resurrection of one of America s finest extant examples of West Indian Creole architecture and of the entire neighborhood of which it is an anchor Through meticulous study of archives and archeology the author presents fascinating insights on how residents of this working plantation actually lived With concrete evidence the author covers everything from cooking and cuisine to laundering and gardening It is a story about buildings but also about people Because pre Civil War US censuses never listed more than five enslaved persons all of whom worked in the house the plantation appears to have depended mainly on hired labor both African American and Irish Eventually these groups came to populate the new neighborhood along with immigrants from Germany and then by new migrants from the countryside This book brings together artist John James Audubon architect of the U S capital Benjamin Henry Latrobe Lee Harvey Oswald and Fats Domino in an engrossing story linking these and other colorful figures to the history of a beautiful historic home in New Orleans Profusely illustrated with heretofore unidentified historic photographs and plans and with color images by master architectural photographer Robert S Brantley this book will equally interest inquisitive tourists and long term residents of the Gulf South historic preservationists and urbanists in search of insights on successful redevelopment architecture and history buffs and enthusiasts of one of America s most beloved and storied cities Acadian Reminiscences Felix Voorhies,1907

The only New Deal program to continue into the 1990s the Historic American Buildings Survey has through the years drawn attention to the historical and artistic significance of buildings that contemporary taste might otherwise have ignored Louisiana Buildings 1720 1940 makes easily available the fruit of HABS's important and enduring efforts to record Louisiana's architectural heritage In the 1930s the Louisiana HABS team concentrated on public edifices and grand plantation complexes threatened by destruction Later records of HABS include still other habitations of the common man as well as industrial structures The project has yielded not only graphic and written documentation of the buildings many no longer standing but also new insights into the history of the state's architecture An invaluable part of Louisiana Buildings 1720 1940 is the alphabetical listing of HABS structures in Louisiana both by familiar name and by parish The listing by parish gives the location the date of construction the architect when known and the current status of each building It also presents drawings or photographs of many of the structures over 300 pictures in all There are besides nine chapters by leading architectural historians who cover all aspects of Louisiana architecture its Creole beginnings in the south of the state the Appalachian folk style in the north and developments on the plantation in the seventeenth century urban setting and in the modern era Those chapters form an essential frame of reference for the data in the HABS listings and call attention to many other structures that are a part of the history of building in the Pelican State Anyone interested in the state's architecture or history will find Louisiana Buildings indispensable

The Shriver's Story Shriver House Museum, 2008

The Shriver's Story Eyewitnesses to the Battle of Gettysburg is the true story of one family who called Gettysburg home in 1863 It depicts how not only the Battle of Gettysburg but the Civil War itself dramatically changed the Shriver's lives forever The story of George and Hettie Shriver although certainly fascinating and unique in its own way is typical of the average Gettysburg citizen's and by extension provides a fuller picture of the overall civilian experience itself The Shriver's were a young family with hopes and dreams common to most young families then and now They dreamed of peace and prosperity of a safe place in which to raise their family and for success in their economic endeavors But the Shriver's expectations were abruptly interrupted by the coming of the Civil War and by one of the most significant battles of that war Afterwards the world as they knew it would never be quite the same The Shriver's Story is the story of a house and a home of family and friends of expectant dreams and intruding realities of citizens in a time of peace and civilians in a time of war The dramatic and moving story of George and Hettie Shriver and their daughters Sadie 7 and Mollie 5 describes their experiences during the Civil War and more specifically the Battle of Gettysburg In addition the book details how the Shriver House Museum originated as well as the trials and tribulations encountered during the restoration of the Shrivvers home the oldest settlements in the state but it is different in its population make up and is important historically Cabanocey is a splendid history of the Parish of St James Lillian C Bourgeois captured the spirit that animates the population which is descended from French Spanish Acadian German and Creole peoples Bourgeois writes of the population s customs beliefs language differences and folklore Cabanocey is not a collection of dry facts and dates rather it vividly describes how more than one hundred years ago the people of St James Parish lived who they were and what they contributed to their parish and their state Before the Civil War St James Parish was the educational center of Louisiana and Jefferson College was the first important college in the state Founded in 1830 it had fine buildings a well equipped laboratory and an impressive library The Convent of the Sacred Heart 1835 for girls was well known by prominent families in Louisiana Mexico and Central America who sent their daughters there Cabanocey contains St James genealogies and thousands of names of early settlers including the soldiers taxpayers officials prominent families and the first settlers and their children From the early censuses and church and court records descent is traced for many names The censuses of 1766 1769 and 1777 are complete and were obtained from the archives in Seville Spain
