Questions of Possibility: Contemporary Poetry and Poetic Form David Caplan, 2006-09-26 Questions of Possibility examines the particular forms that contemporary American poets favor and those they neglect. The poet's choices reveal both their ambitions and their limitations, the new possibilities they discover and the traditions they find unimaginable. By means of close attention to the sestina, ghazal, love sonnet, ballad, and heroic couplet, this study advances a new understanding of contemporary American poetry. Rather than pitting closed verse against open and traditional poetry against experimental, Questions of Possibility explores how poets associated with different movements inspire and inform each other's work. Discussing a range of authors from Charles Bernstein, Derek Walcott, and Marilyn Hacker to Agha Shahid Ali, David Caplan treats these poets as contemporaries who share the language, not as partisans assigned to rival camps. The most interesting contemporary poetry crosses the boundaries that literary criticism draws, synthesizing diverse influences and establishing surprising affinities. In a series of lively readings, Caplan charts the diverse characteristics and accomplishments of modern poetry, from the gay and lesbian love sonnet to the currently popular sestina.

Disjunctive Poetics Peter Quartermain, 1992-06-26 Disjunctive Poetics examines some of the experimental contemporary writers, including Stein and Zukofsky, whose work forms a counterpoint to the mainstream writing of our time. Peter Quartermain suggests that the explosion of such modern writing is linked to the severe political, social, and economic dislocation of non-English speaking immigrants who, arriving in America at the turn of the century, found themselves uprooted from their tradition and disassociated from their culture.
