McRae,2013-11-21 In 1936 athlete Jesse Owens won four gold medals at the Berlin Olympics and two years later boxer Joe Louis won a crushing victory to become heavyweight champion of the world Despite their fame and success both men would find themselves barred from certain hotels and would have to eat outside restaurants because of the colour of their skin However by their example they gave hope to millions of black people around the world as they became the first black superstars In Donald McRae s William Hill prize winning dual biography he compiles a brilliant portrait of the two men who became close friends despite their very different career paths within days of Olympic glory Owens was banned from competing again and was forced to spend his days racing against horses to earn a living before becoming a spokesman for the sporting ideal Meanwhile Louis won and lost a fortune eventually battling with drug addiction and mental illness His vivid account of their lives away from the public eye and the era in which they lived is compelling and tragic Singing in the Dark Ginny Owens,2021-05-01 Far too often life s challenges and questions cause people to fight feelings of doubt and despair as they search endlessly for hope In Singing in the Dark Ginny Owens introduces the reader to powerful ways of drawing closer to God and how the elements of music prayer and lament offer rich vibrant and joyful communion with Him especially on the darkest days Ginny has gained a unique life perspective as she has lived without sight since age three She brings rich biblical teaching that will encourage readers and compel them to dig deep into the beautiful songs prayers and poetry of Scripture the same words through which the people of the Bible flourished in impossible circumstances Singing in the Dark includes reflection and journaling prompts at the end of each chapter Mixedblood Messages Louis Owens,2001 In this challenging and often humorous book Louis Owens examines issues of Indian identity and relationship to the environment as depicted in literature and film and as embodied in his own mixedblood roots in family and land Powerful social and historical forces he maintains conspire to colonize literature and film by and about Native Americans into a safe Indian Territory that will contain and neutralize Indians Countering this colonial Territory is what Owens defines as Frontier a dynamic uncontrollable multi directional space within which cultures meet and even merge Owens offers new insights into the works of Indian writers ranging from John Rollin Ridge Mourning Dove and D Arcy McNickle to N Scott Momaday Leslie Silko James Welch and Gerald Vizenor In his analysis of Indians in film he scrutinizes distortions of Indians as victims or vanishing Americans in a series of John Wayne movies and in the politically correct but false gestures of the more recent Dances With Wolves As Owens moves through his personal landscape in Oklahoma Mississippi California and New Mexico he questions how human beings collectively can alter their disastrous relationship with the natural world before they destroy it He challenges all of us to articulate through literature and other means messages of personal and environmental as well as cultural survival and to explore and share these messages by writing and reading across cultural boundaries Other Destinies Louis Owens,1994 This first book length critical analysis of the full range of novels written between 1854 and today by American Indian authors takes as its theme the search for self discovery and cultural recovery In his introduction Louis

Owens places the novels in context by considering their relationships to traditional American Indian oral literature as well as their differences from mainstream Euroamerican literature. In the following chapters he looks at the novels of John Rollin Ridge, Mourning Dove, John Joseph Mathews, D. Arcy McNickle, N. Scott Momaday, James Welch, Leslie Marmon Silko, Louise Erdrich, Michael Dorris, and Gerald Vizenor. These authors are mixedbloods who in their writing try to come to terms with the marginalization both of mixed bloods and fullbloods and of their cultures in American society. Their novels are complex and sophisticated narratives of cultural survival and survival guides for fullbloods and mixedbloods in modern America. Rejecting the stereotypes and clichés long attached to the word Indian, they appropriate and adapt the colonizers' language, English, to describe the Indian experience. These novels embody the American Indian point of view; the non-Indian is required to assume the role of other. In his analysis, Owens draws on a broad range of literary theory: myth and folklore, structuralism, modernism, poststructuralism, and particularly postmodernism. At the same time, he argues that although recent American Indian fiction incorporates a number of significant elements often identified with postmodern writing, it contradicts the primary impulse of postmodernism. That is, instead of celebrating fragmentation, ephemerality, and chaos, these authors insist upon a cultural center that is intact and recoverable upon immutable values and ecological truths.

Other Destinies provides a new critical approach to novels by American Indians. It also offers a comprehensive introduction to the novels, helping teachers bring this important fiction to the classroom.

Grave Concerns, Trickster Turns Christopher A. LaLonde, 2002. Who am I? What am I? Where do I belong? These grave concerns take a lifetime for most people to answer. They become even trickier for American Indians, who all too often face literal and figurative burial by those in power. Such concerns permeate the works of Louis Owens, a mixedblood writer of Choctaw, Cherokee, Irish descent. In this first book-length examination of Owens's writings, Chris LaLonde focuses on five critically acclaimed novels: The Sharpest Sight, Bone Game, Wolfsong, Nightland, and Dark River. According to LaLonde, Owens works his stories like a trickster, turning ideas back against themselves and playing with contradictory possibilities. The conflicting Native and Western perspectives of time, history, humor, and authority dramatize how such classes can threaten to undermine any sense of home and identity for Indians. In the process, Owens underscores the sham of the ethnic identities foisted upon American Indians: the Noble Savage, the Silent Indian, the Vanishing Native, and the Indian as Tragic Victim.

Creative Destruction Lewis Owens, 2003. Owens' religious studies at Canterbury Christ Church University College seeks to clarify the philosophical and religious views of playwright, journalist, and novelist Kazantzakis (1883-1957), arguing that his religious philosophy led him to transcend both communism and nihilism en route to a union with God.
