Outsider Art David Maclagan,2010-01-15 The term outsider art has been used to describe work produced exterior to the mainstream of modern art by certain self taught visionaries spiritualists eccentrics recluses psychiatric patients criminals and others beyond the perceived margins of society Yet the idea of such a raw untaught creativity remains a contentious and much debated issue in the art world Is this creative instinct a natural innate phenomenon requiring only the right circumstances such as isolation or alienation in order for it to be cultivated Or is it an idealistic notion projected onto the art and artists by critics and buyers David Maclagan argues that behind the critical and commercial hype lies a cluster of assumptions about creative drives the expression of inner worlds originality and artistic eccentricity Although outsider art is often presented as a recent discovery these ideas Maclagan reveals belong to a tradition that goes back to the Renaissance when the modern image of the artist began to take shape In Outsider Art Maclagan challenges many of the current opinions about this increasingly popular field of art and explores what happens to outsider artists and their work when they are brought within the very world from which they have excluded themselves

Expressive! Donald Burton Kuspit,Markus Bröderlin,2003 The quality of expressiveness an outcry of the human soul against the mechanization of life runs like a red scar through the entire history of modern art and up to the present day If expressionism is associated first and foremost with the German contribution to Modernism evoking the artists associated with Die Brcke Kirchner Heckel and Nolde and Der Blaue Reiter Marc and Kandinsky but also the Austrian Schiele and Kokoshka and the Parisian fauves it nevertheless goes further Beginning with the fathers of expressionism Gauguin van Gogh and Munch the most important inspirations for a movement laden with emotions and endowed with the furor of rebellion the red scar bleeds through the expressive tendencies of the interwar artists Beckmann Soutine and Picasso and the postwar artists Dubuffet de Kooning and Bacon and all the way to neo expressionism Baselitz Lpertz Lassnig and 80s neo fauvism Clemente Basquiat and Disler ending with Louise Bourgeois and Bruce Nauman In accompanying essays philosopher and art historian Donald Kuspit sets out to trace the meaning of the term expressive curator Markus Bröderlin explores expressionism by looking backwards from neo expressionism and numerous short texts round off the exploration by focusing on individual works of art
