Loukoum The Little Prince Of Belleville:

Calixthe Beyala Nicki Hitchcott, Associate Professor and Reader in African Francophone Studies Nicki Hitchcott, 2006-01-01 The most successful female writer from Francophone Africa Calixthe Beyala occupies an unusual place in French literary and popular culture Her novels are bestsellers and she appears regularly on French television yet a conviction for plagiarism has tarnished her reputation Thus she is both an authentic African author and a proven literary fake In Calixthe Beyala Nicki Hitchcott considers representations of Beyala in the media critical responses to her writing and Beyala's efforts to position herself as a champion of women's rights Hitchcott pays equal attention to Beyala's novels tracing their explorations of the role of migration in the creation of personal identity Loukoum Calixthe Beyala, 1995 Belleville is the African immigrant quarter of Paris where seven year old Loukoum lives with his family While his father spends time having affairs and drinking in the cafe with fellow Africans his father's two wives look after the children at home A Pepper-pot of Cultures Gordon Collier, Ulrich Fleischmann, 2003 The terms creole and creolization have witnessed a number of significant semantic changes in the course of their history Originating in the vocabulary associated with colonial expansion in the Americas it had been successively narrowed down to the field of black American culture or of particular linguistic phenomena Recently creole has expanded again to cover the broad area of cultural contact and transformation characterizing the processes of globalization initiated by the colonial migrations of past centuries The present volume is intended to illustrate these various stages either by historical and or theoretical discussion of the concept or through selected case studies The authors are established scholars from the areas of literature linguistics and cultural studies they all share a lively and committed interest in the Caribbean area certainly not the only or even oldest realm in which processes of creolization have shaped human societies but one that offers by virtue of its history of colonialization and cross cultural contact its most pertinent example The collection beyond its theoretical interest thus also constitutes an important survey of Caribbean studies in Europe and the Americas As well as searching overview essays there are sociolinguistic contributions on the linguistic geography of criollo in Spanish America the Limonese creole speakers of Costa Rica creole language and identity in the Netherlands Antilles and the affinities between Papiamentu and Chinese in Curaçao ethnohistorical examinations of such topics as creole transgression in the Dominican Haitian borderland the Haitian Mandingo and African fundamentalism creolization and identity in West Central Jamaica Afro Nicaraguans and national identity and the Creole heritage of Haiti studies of religion and folk culture including voodoo and creolization in New York City the creolization of the Mami Wata water spirit and signifyin'g processes in New World Anancy tales a group of essays focusing on the thought of Édouard Glissant Maryse Condé and the Creole writers and case studies of artistic expression including creole identities in Caribbean women's writing Port au Prince in the Haitian novel Cynthia McLeod and Astrid Roemer and Surinamese fiction Afro Cuban artistic expression and metacreolization in the fiction of Robert Antoni and Nalo Hopkinson Of Chameleons and Gods Jack Mapanje, 1991 A volume of poetry written by a Malawi prisoner of conscience during his ten year imprisonment Critique and Utopia in Postcolonial Historical Fiction Greg Forter, 2019 This volume explores how postcolonial historical fiction can be a valuable resource for thinking about the prehistory of our present It examines how novels from and about the Atlantic and Indian Ocean worlds present specific historical and oceanic instances of colonialism and highlights the continuities between the colonial era and our own African Women Writing Diaspora Rose A. Sackeyfio, 2021-04-26 African Women Writing Diaspora examines the works of contemporary African female writers through diaspora perspectives on the constructions of identity in transnational spaces The collection interrogates the ways in which women construct new ways of telling the African story in the global age of social economic and political transformation

Conyers Jr., Abul Pitre, 2016-03-04 Africana Islamic Studies highlights the diverse contributions that African Americans have made to the formation of Islam in the United States It specifically focuses on the Nation of Islam and its patriarch Elijah Muhammad with regards to the African American Islamic experience Contributors explore topics such as gender education politics and sociology from the African American perspective on Islam This volume offers a unique view of the longstanding Islamic discourse in the United States and its impact on the American cultural landscape Postcolonial Literary Studies Robert P. Marzec, 2011-09-15 Internationally recognized for its superior scholarship Modern Fiction Studies was one of the first journals to publish articles on postcolonial studies Since postcolonialism's inception scholars have defined clarified and enriched its conceptions and theoretical development in the pages of MFS This anthology collects the best and most important articles on postcolonial literary studies published in MFS in the past thirty years Postcolonial Literary Studies brings together groundbreaking scholarship focusing on significant works of fiction by such writers as Chinua Achebe J M Coetzee Jamaica Kincaid V S Naipaul Arundhati Roy Salman Rushdie Bapsi Sidhwa Ngugi wa Thiong'o and more The essays feature ideas that helped shape the discipline from its earliest stages to the present and represent some of the finest examples of literary theoretical historical and cultural criticism With its focus on literary figures and texts rather than solely on theory this volume fills a significant gap in the fields of postcolonialism global studies and literary criticism in general This rich collection of essays by the field's leading scholars will prove indispensable to instructors and students across a broad spectrum of humanistic studies It not only highlights the development and transformation of postcolonial literary study but also by mapping out new directions of study considers its continual significance and expansion Ambiguous Pleasures Rachel Spronk, 2012 Among both male and female young urban professionals in Nairobi sexuality is a key to achieving a modern identity These young men and women see themselves as the avant garde of a new Africa while they also express the recurring worry of how to combine an African identity with the new lifestyles with which they are experimenting By focusing on public debates and their preoccupations with issues of African heritage gerontocratic power relations and conventional morality on the one hand and personal sexual relationships intimacy and self perceptions on the other this study works out the complexities of sexuality and culture in the context of modernity in an African society It moves beyond an investigation of a health or development perspective of sexuality and instead examines desire pleasure and eroticism revealing new insights into the methodology and theory of the study of sexuality within the social sciences Sexuality serves as a prism for analysing how social developments generate new notions of self in postcolonial Kenya and is a crucial component towards understanding the way people recognize and deal with modern changes in their personal lives

Being/s in Transit, 2021-11-22 This fifth volume of ASNEL Papers covers a wide range of theoretical and thematic approaches to the topics of travelling migration and dislocation All migrants are travellers but not all travellers are migrants Migration and the figure of the migrant have become key concepts in recent post colonial studies However migration is not such a new or exceptional phenomenon From the eighteenth century onward there have been migrations from Europe to what are now called post colonial countries and this prepared the ground for movement back to the old but also to the new centres of Europe and elsewhere Travel and travel experience on the other hand have been part of the cultural codes not only of the West and not only of imperialism The essays in this volume look at both kinds of movement at their intersections and at their dis locating effects They cover a wide range of topics from early seventeenth century travel reports through nineteenth century women s travel writing to such contemporary writers as Michael Ondaatje and Janette Turner Hospital

Human Rights, Inc. Joseph R. Slaughter, 2009-08-25 In this timely study of the historical ideological and formal interdependencies of the novel and human rights Joseph Slaughter demonstrates that the twentieth century rise of world literature and international human rights law are related phenomena Slaughter argues that international law shares with the modern novel a particular conception of the human individual The Bildungsroman the novel of coming of age fills out this image offering a conceptual vocabulary a humanist social vision and a narrative grammar for what the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and early literary theorists both call the free and full development of the human personality Revising our received understanding of the relationship between law and literature Slaughter suggests that this narrative form has acted as a cultural surrogate for the weak executive authority of international law naturalizing the assumptions and conditions that make human rights appear commonsensical As a kind of novelistic correlative to human rights law the Bildungsroman has thus been doing some of the sociocultural work of enforcement that the law cannot do for itself This analysis of the cultural work of law and of the social work of literature challenges traditional Eurocentric histories of both international law and the dissemination of the novel Taking his point of departure in Goethe s Wilhelm Meister Slaughter focuses on recent postcolonial versions of the coming of age story to show how the promise of human rights becomes legible in narrative and how the novel and the law are complicit in contemporary projects of globalization in colonialism neoimperialism humanitarianism and the spread of multinational consumer capitalism Slaughter raises important practical and ethical questions that we must confront in advocating for human rights and reading world literature

Decolonizing Translation Kathryn Batchelor, 2014-04-08
 The linguistically innovative aspect of Francophone African literature has been recognized and studied from a variety of angles over recent decades yet little attention has been paid to what happens to such literature when it is translated into another language
 Taking as its corpus all sub Saharan Francophone African texts that have ever been published in English this book explores the ways in which translators approach innovative features such as African language borrowings neologisms and other deliberate manipulations of French depictions of sociolinguistic variation and a variety of types of wordplay
 The implications of their translation decisions are drawn out with reference to the broader significances that are often accorded to postcolonial literature and earlier critics calls for a decolonized translation practice are explored from both a practical and theoretical angle
 These findings are used to push towards a detailed investigation of the postcolonial turn in translation studies drawing on the work of key postcolonial theorists such as Homi K Bhabha and Gayatri Spivak
 This is a timely and incisive critical assessment of contemporary discourses on the ethics and politics of translation
