Action Versus Contemplation Jennifer Summit, Blakey Vermeule, 2018-03-22 All of humanity's problems stem from man's inability to sit quietly in a room alone Blaise Pascal wrote in 1654 But then there's Walt Whitman in 1856 Whoever you are come forth Or man or woman come forth You must not stay sleeping and dallying there in the house It is truly an ancient debate Is it better to be active or contemplative To do or to think To make an impact or to understand the world more deeply Aristotle argued for contemplation as the highest state of human flourishing But it was through action that his student Alexander the Great conquered the known world Which should we aim at Centuries later this argument underlies a surprising number of the questions we face in contemporary life Should students study the humanities or train for a job Should adults work for money or for meaning And in tumultuous times should any of us sit on the sidelines pondering great books or throw ourselves into protests and petition drives With Action versus Contemplation Jennifer Summit and Blakey Vermeule address the question in a refreshingly unexpected way by refusing to take sides Rather they argue for a rethinking of the very opposition The active and the contemplative can and should be vibrantly alive in each of us fused rather than sundered Writing in a personable accessible style Summit and Vermeule guide readers through the long history of this debate from Plato to Pixar drawing compelling connections to the questions and problems of today Rather than playing one against the other they argue we can discover how the two can nourish invigorate and give meaning to each other as they have for the many writers artists and thinkers past and present whose examples give the book its rich lively texture of interplay and reference This is not a self help book It won t give you instructions on how to live your life Instead it will do something better it will remind you of the richness of a life that embraces action and contemplation company and solitude living in the moment and planning for the future Which is better Readers of this book will discover the answer both      Love in Action Robert Moeller, 1994 Moeller sensitively outlines some of the most common causes of conflict within the church identifies ways to bring healing to congregations and those pastors wounded by conflict and sets forth a vision for reclaiming and restoring pastors who have left the pastorate after becoming disheartened by attacks on them and their ministries
