Love Letters To Stalin Estreno Contemporary Spanish Plays:

Love Letters to Stalin Juan Mayorga,2002 A member of Democratic Spain s first generation of playwrights Juan Mayorga b 1965 is the author of more than a dozen plays and the recipient of several national theatre awards His plays are concerned with the political and ideological forces that govern the way in which reality is re presented Rejecting the formal elements of the realistic stage such as conventional plot and linear character development Mayorga depicts life as a random interplay of intersecting social historical and artistic texts and contexts Love Letters to Stalin a drama in 10 scenes focuses on the frustration of a censored writer Mikhail Bulgakov who becomes obsessed due to the artistic silence that has been imposed on him uncovers the depth of his emotional and psychological dilemma through a series of imagined and at times comic encounters with the diabolical figure of Stalin A profound meditation on the tortured relationship between power and art

Silencing Cinema D. Biltereyst, R. Vande Winkel, Roel Vande Winkel, 2013-03-26 Oppression by censorship affects the film industry far more frequently than any other mass media Including essays by leading film historians the book offers groundbreaking historical research on film censorship in major film production countries and explore such innovative themes as film censorship and authorship religion and colonialism Arts & Humanities Citation Index ,1994 A multidisciplinary index covering the journal literature of the arts and humanities It fully covers 1 144 of the world's leading arts and humanities journals and it indexes individually selected relevant items from over 6 800 major science and social science Spreadable Media Henry Jenkins, Sam Ford, Joshua Green, 2013-01-21 Spreadable Media maps fundamental journals changes taking place in our contemporary media environment a space where corporations no longer tightly control media distribution and many of us are directly involved in the circulation of content It contrasts stickiness aggregating attention in centralized places with spreadability dispersing content widely through both formal and informal networks some approved many unauthorized Stickiness has been the measure of success in the broadcast era and has been carried over to the online world but spreadability describes the ways content travels through social media Following up on the hugely influential Convergence Culture Where Old and New Media Collide this book challenges some of the prevailing metaphors and frameworks used to describe contemporary media from biological metaphors like memes and viral to the concept of Web 2 0 and the popular notion of influencers Spreadable Media examines the nature of audience engagement the environment of participation the way appraisal creates value and the transnational flows at the heart of these phenomena It delineates the elements that make content more spreadable and highlights emerging media business models built for a world of participatory circulation The book also explores the internal tensions companies face as they adapt to the new communication reality and argues for the need to shift from hearing to listening in corporate culture Drawing on examples from film music games comics television transmedia storytelling advertising and public relations industries among others from both the U S and around the world the authors illustrate the contours of our current media environment They highlight the vexing questions content creators must tackle and the responsibilities we all face as citizens in a world where many of us regularly circulate media content Written for any and all of us who actively create and share media content Spreadable Media provides a clear understanding of how people are spreading ideas and the implications these activities have for The UN Inspector David Farr, 2005 Freely adapted from Gogol s The Government business politics and everyday life Inspector This is one of the cleverest adaptations of a classic play I have ever seen true to the spirit of Gogol s original The Government Inspector yet updating it with elegance and scabrous wit to the 21st century Like Gogol before him Farr comes up with some wonderful moments of farcical black comedy Hilariously funny and chilling Daily Telegraph David Farr has written and directed an ingenious update Independent The UN Inspector premiered at the National Theatre London in June 2005 Mots de L'histoire Jacques Rancière, 1994 History in our day is still a story and yet one from which we expect to tell the truth not just the facts the names and events of the past but the invisible order and forces behind them How can the language of history balance these seemingly contrary tasks the narrative the scientific and the political This is the question Jacques Ranciere explores in The names of history a meditation on the poetics of historical knowledge In the works of writers from Jules Michelet to Fernand Braudel Ranciere traces an ongoing revolution in historical study a movement that challenged in the practice of language the opposition of science and literature By way of a commentary on Erich Auerbach he shows how fictional narrative intertwines with historical narrative to produce a truth that retains mythical elements The poetics of knowledge Ranciere develops here is an attempt to identify the literary procedures by which historical discourse escapes literature and gives itself the status of a science His book is also an appreciation of Braudel whose work in the Annales school greatly advanced this project Ranciere follows and extends Braudel s discursive production of new agencies of history which accounts for both the material conditions in which history takes place and the language in which it is written

The Translator on Stage Geraldine Brodie,2017-12-28 In today s theatre productions of plays that originated in another language are frequently distinguished by two characteristics the authorship of the English text by a well known local theatre specialist and the absence of the term translation generally in favour of adaptation or version The Translator on Stage investigates the creative processes that bring translated plays to the mainstream stage exploring the commissioning translation and development procedures that end with a performed play Through a sample of eight plays that span two thousand years and six languages including Festen Don Carlos Hedda Gabler and The UN Inspector and that were all staged within a three month period Geraldine Brodie brings in a wide range of theatre practitioners to discuss their roles in the translation process and the motivations that govern London theatre translation activities The Translator on Stage is informed by specially conducted interviews with the productions producers artistic directors directors literary managers playwrights and specialist translators including Michael Grandage Rufus Norris David Eldridge Juan Mayorga David Johnston and Mike Poulton It sheds new light not only on theatrical translation procedures but also on the place of translation in society today

From the Barrio to Washington Armando Rodriguez, Keith Taylor, 2007-11-15 Rodriguez recalls his inspirational journey from his childhood as a poor immigrant to the highest levels of the department of education under four presidents Get Real A. Forsyth, C. Megson, 2009-04-08 Over the past two decades theatre practitioners across the West have turned to documentary modes of performance making to confront new socio political realities The essays in this book place this work in context exploring historical and contemporary examples of documentary and verbatim theatre and applying a range of critical perspectives The Cruise of the Somers James Fenimore Cooper, 1844
