and meaning while running a clinic in one of the city's poorest slums and serving his apprenticeship in the dark arts of the Bombay mafia. The search leads him to war, prison, torture, murder, and a series of enigmatic and bloody betrayals. The keys to unlock the mysteries and intrigues that bind Lin are held by two people. The first is Khader Khan, mafia godfather, criminal philosopher, saint, and mentor to Lin in the underworld of the Golden City. The second is Karla, elusive, dangerous, and beautiful, whose passions are driven by secrets that torment her and yet give her a terrible power. Burning slums and five-star hotels, romantic love and prison agonies, criminal wars and Bollywood films, spiritual gurus and mujaheddin guerrillas: this huge novel has the world of human experience in its reach and a passionate love for India at its heart. A Lovesong for India Ruth Praver Jhabvala, 2013-02-12 From the Booker Prize-winning novelist and screenwriter of Howard's End, cinematic and exquisite stories of longing, loss, and redemption. Publishers Weekly In this expansive story collection, Ruth Praver Jhabvala, author of Heat and Dust and the screenplays for The Remains of the Day and A Room with a View, continues her lifelong meditation on East and West. Set in India, England, and New York City, A Lovesong for India reveals what unites us across oceans, cultures, and lifetimes. In Innocence, an older couple whose social standing is marred by a decades-old scandal rent out rooms in their Delhi home for both companionship and income. The couple becomes deeply invested in the lives of their two tenants, but with the addition of a third renter, a beautiful and provocative woman from India, tensions in the household push the story to its feverish conclusion. Talent finds Jhabvala in New York City, reflecting on the friction between family and societal expectations. Magda is a talent scout whose work is her entire life until she meets Ellie, a singer whose immense ability and unguarded personality captivate Magda. Soon Ellie is integrated into Magda's extended family, for better or worse. This remarkable collection is the hallmark of Jhabvala's celebrated career and a testament to her balance of subtlety, wry humor, and beauty. The New York Times Geek Sublime Vikram Chandra, 2014-09-02 The nonfiction debut from the author of the international bestseller Sacred Games about the surprising overlap between writing and computer coding. Vikram Chandra has been a computer programmer for almost as long as he has been a novelist. In this extraordinary new book, his first work of nonfiction, he searches for the connections between the worlds of art and technology. Coders are obsessed with elegance and style just as writers are, but do the words mean the same thing to both? Can we ascribe beauty to the craft of writing code? Exploring such varied topics as logic gates and literary modernism, the machismo of tech geeks, the omnipresence of an Indian Mafia in Silicon Valley, and the writings of the eleventh-century Kashmiri thinker Abhinavagupta, Geek Sublime is both an idiosyncratic history of coding and a fascinating meditation on the writer's art. Part literary essay, part technology story, and part memoir, it is an engrossing, original, and heady book of sweeping ideas. Amsterdam Stories Nescio, 2012-03-20 No one has written more feelingly and more beautifully than Nescio about the madness and sadness, courage and vulnerability of youth, its big plans and vague longings, not to mention the binges, crashes, and marathon walks and talks. No one, for that matter, has written with such pristine clarity about the radiating canals of Amsterdam and the cloud-swept landscape of the Netherlands Who was Nescio Nescio Latin for I don't know was the pen name of J H F Gr nloh the highly successful director of the Holland Bombay Trading Company and a father of four someone who knew more than enough about respectable maturity Only in his spare time and under the cover of a pseudonym as if commemorating a lost self did he let himself go producing over the course of his lifetime a handful of utterly original stories that contain some of the most luminous pages in modern literature This is the first English translation of Nescio's stories Sardarji and Other Stories Khwaja Ahmad Abbas, 2014 The lyrical prose of writer journalist and film director Khwaja Ahmad Abbas 1914-1987 easily lends itself to short stories In Sardarji and Other Stories a captivating collection the protagonists of each tale are portrayed grappling with realities imposed upon them by an unrelenting historical churning that compels them to revisit their relationships with their cultural spatial and psychological moorings Communal riots poverty abjection love and longing or renewed hopes and nascent dreams make this collection an incisive and moving portrayal of the human condition This Khwaja Ahmad Abbas collection includes some of the best short stories ever penned down by the author journalist and film director Each of the stories selected for this volume gives a glimpse into the mind and works of this legendary writer Encompasses a variety of themes that readers can easily identify with Includes the last interview with Abbas about his last film Ek Aadmi Bombay Baby Leela Soma, 2011-11 Tina is torn between her Scottish parents and her Indian roots In the months leading up to her 18th birthday Tina embarks on a journey that will change her life forever to India to find the woman she might otherwise have called Mum Evenings at Five Gail Godwin, 2004 Seven months after the unexpected death of her husband Rudy Christina reflects on their nearly thirty years of life together the vital bond between them and her grief from the perspective of their long time ritual of getting together every evening at five o'clock to share drinks and their mutual love of language and music Reader's Guide included Reprint Joseph Anton Salman Rushdie, 2012-09-18 On February 14 1986 Valentine's Day Salman Rushdie was telephoned by a BBC journalist and told that he had been sentenced to death by the Ayatollah Khomeini a voice reaching across the world from Iran to kill him in his own country For the first time he heard the word fatwa His crime To have written a novel called The Satanic Verses which was accused of being against Islam the Prophet and the Quran So begins the extraordinary often harrowing story filled too with surreal and funny moments of how a writer was forced underground moved from house to house an armed police protection team living with him at all times for more than nine years He was asked to choose an alias that the police could call him by He thought of writers he loved and combinations of their names then it came to him Conrad and Chekhov Joseph Anton He became Joe How do a writer and his young family live day by day with the threat of murder for so long How do you go on working How do you keep love and joy alive How does despair shape your thoughts and actions how and why do you stumble how do you learn to fight for survival In this remarkable memoir Rushdie tells that story for the first time He talks about the sometimes grim sometimes comic realities of living with armed policemen and of the close bonds he formed with his protectors of his struggle for support and understanding from governments intelligence chiefs publishers journalists and fellow writers of friendships literary and otherwise and love and of how he regained his freedom This is a book of exceptional frankness and honesty compelling moving provocative not only captivating as a revelatory memoir but of vital importance in its political insight and wisdom Because it is also a story of today s battle for intellectual liberty of why literature matters and of a man s refusal to be silenced in the face of state sponsored terrorism And because we now know that what happened to Salman Rushdie was the first act of a drama that would rock the whole world on September 11th and is still unfolding somewhere every day
