Picture Cycle Masha Tupitsyn, 2019-11-19 A multigenre investigation of the personal and cultural annals of memory identity and spectatorship both on and off the screen In exchange for studying what each fraudulent cell looks like under a merciless commercial and commodified lens viewers enable late capitalism to run more smoothly by calling in with their votes as is the case with Reality TV From the inside secrecy appears eradicated as though secrets or coded transparencies comprise the totality of injustice rather than just one part Justice is reduced to a vantage point We see and we see and we see ad infinitum from Picture Cycle With her debut collection Beauty Talk Monsters 2007 Masha Tupitsyn established a new genre of hybrid writing that melded film criticism philosophy and autobiography Picture Cycle continues Tupitsyn's multigenre investigation of the personal and cultural annals of memory identity and spectatorship both on and off the screen Composed over a ten year period Picture Cycle is a pioneering collection whose sharp and knowing vignette like essays form a critical autobiography of the daily images in our lives Deftly covering a range of theoretical and cinematic frameworks Tupitsyn traces here the quickly vanishing line between onscreen and offscreen predigital and postdigital The result is a unique intellectual study of the uncanny formation of our life's biographies through images Signals of Transcendence Os Guinness, 2023-03-07 Making sense of our human existence can be difficult but we may experience particular moments that prompt us to search for something deeper Os Guinness tells stories of people who experienced these signals of transcendence and followed them to find new meaning and purpose in life and the same can be true for us Handel's serenata, Acis and Galatea Georg Friedrich Händel, 1840

Handel's Acis and Galatea George Frideric Handel, 1871 Acis and Galatea, a Serenata ... Georg Friedrich Händel, 1850 Acis and Galatea (1719) George Frideric Handel, 1999-08-26 A Choral Extended Work for SATTB with STTB Soli composed by George Frideric Handel The Persian Mystics Frederick Hadland Davis, 2007-04-01 Rumi 1207 1273 was a Persian jurist and theologian best known for being perhaps the finest of all Sufi poets His writings have been widely translated and remain especially popular in Iran Afghanistan and Tajikistan Though written from a Sufi perspective Rumi's poems on spiritual growth here collected and edited by F Hadland Davis and first published in 1907 cross all cultural and religious bounds and can still be heard today in many secular and religious settings The Persian Mystics Jalalu d din Rumi includes selections from some of Rumi's most famous works the Divani Shamsi Tabriz and the Masnavi as well as passages on his life and work and the origin and nature of Sufism FREDERICK HADLAND DAVIS is also the author of The Persian Mystics Jami 1908 and Myths and Legends of Japan 1912 both available from Cosimo Sounds & Furies Jonathon Green, 2019-11-07 In terms of a non fiction account of how historical and contemporary language has been shaped by women I really recommend lexicographer Jonathon Green's Sounds and Furies ELEY WILLIAMS author of The Liar's Dictionary When it comes to distaff dirtiness mainstream males such as Dickens and Dekker make easy pickings but Green finds the greatest treasures when he mudlarks on the margins In Sounds by bringing together so much fascinating material about their words and their worlds this book makes its own contribution to the history of both women and language PROFESSOR DEBORAH CAMERON Professor of Language and Communication Worcester College University of Oxford Green comprehensively disproves that slang is inherently masculine Mumsnetters and bulldaggers flappers and slappers shicksters and hash slingers all put in their claims as slang users in their own right in this entertaining and thought provoking book Any writer venturing into the contentious area of women as users creators or objects of slang from now on will look to Green for guidance or for arguments JULIE COLEMAN author of The Life of Slang Slang The ultimate in man made languages The male gaze made verbal A world where words for intercourse mean man hits woman the penis is a gun a knife or club and the vagina a terrifying tunnel Possibly with teeth Two thousand words for woman and every one a put down Even mother is simply short for the grossest of obscenities Thus the story now and for several hundred years But stories are just that and perhaps there's an alternative In this book Jonathon Green the leading collector of English language slang and drawing on forty years of research in the field asks whether women have another role to play As slang's active positive rebellious subject rather than its endlessly derided submissive object Sounds Furies represents a quest to overturn a long established but far from invulnerable belief system To show that throughout a recorded history that starts with Chaucer's bawdy mouthy and magnificently self-willed Wife of Bath and carries on through a cast of working girls and villainesses playwrights and bestselling authors shop girls and fish wives and through to the modern on-line worlds of Mumsnet and Tinder women have always made slang their own If slang has always been the language of the margins then women for all their numbers have also been consigned to the margins Those days it is ever more clear are over If slang has a role then it is to represent us at our most human That may not mean admirable but it surely means true And humanity is on offer to everyone whatever gender they may claim That goes for language whatever its variety too From the foreword by sex historian Kate Lister Patriarchal cultures have understood women controlled women and marginalised women But this book also reveals that it is the rebellious women who used slang the fishwives the scolds the whores and the harridans Long may they continue to do so
