Jonathan Safran Foer emerged as one of the most original writers of his generation with his best selling debut novel Everything Is Illuminated Now with humor tenderness and awe he confronts the traumas of our recent history What he discovers is solace in that most human quality imagination Meet Oskar Schell an inventor Francophile tambourine player Shakespearean actor jeweler pacifist correspondent with Stephen Hawking and Ringo Starr He is nine years old And he is on an urgent secret search through the five boroughs of New York His mission is to find the lock that fits a mysterious key belonging to his father who died in the World Trade Center on 9/11 An inspired innocent Oskar is alternately endearing exasperating and hilarious as he careens from Central Park to Coney Island to Harlem on his search Along the way he is always dreaming up inventions to keep those he loves safe from harm What about a birdseed shirt to let you fly away What if you could actually hear everyone's heartbeat His goal is hopeful but the past speaks a loud warning in stories of those who've lost loved ones before As Oskar roams New York he encounters a motley assortment of humanity who are all survivors in their own way He befriends a 103 year old war reporter a tour guide who never leaves the Empire State Building and lovers enraptured or scorned Ultimately Oskar ends his journey where it began at his father's grave But now he is accompanied by the silent stranger who has been renting the spare room of his grandmother's apartment They are there to dig up his father's empty coffin The Loud House #16 The Loud House Creative Team, 2022-09-27 Behold the long awaited answers to

Port,2019-01-15 A hot rod joy ride through mid 20th century American history The New York Times Book Review this one of a kind narrative masterfully recreates the rivalry between the two men who innovated the electric guitar s amplified sound Leo Fender and Les Paul and their intense competition to convince rock stars like the Beatles Jimi Hendrix and Eric Clapton to play the instruments they built In the years after World War II music was evolving from big band jazz into rock n roll and these louder styles demanded revolutionary instruments When Leo Fender s tiny firm marketed the first solid body electric guitar the Esquire musicians immediately saw its appeal Not to be out maneuvered Gibson the largest guitar manufacturer raced to build a competitive product The company designed an axe that would make Fender s Esquire look cheap and convinced Les Paul whose endorsement Leo Fender had sought to put his name on it Thus was born the guitar world's most heated rivalry Gibson versus Fender Les versus Leo While Fender was a quiet half blind self taught radio repairman Paul was a brilliant but headstrong pop star and guitarist who spent years toying with new musical technologies Their contest turned into an arms race as the most inventive musicians of the 1950s and 1960s including bluesman Muddy Waters rocker Buddy Holly the Beatles Bob Dylan and Eric Clapton adopted one maker's guitar or another By 1969 it was clear that these new electric instruments had launched music into a radical new age empowering artists with a vibrancy and volume never before attainable In an excellent dual portrait The Wall Street Journal Ian S Port tells the full story in The Birth of Loud offering spot on human characterizations and erotic paeans to the bodies of guitars The Atlantic The story of these instruments is the story of America in the postwar era loud cocky brash aggressively new The Washington Post
