Audubon arrives in the upper Louisiana Territory and continuing as he moves into southern Louisiana ten years later and eventually brings his wife Lucy to join him Audubon's journals, essays, and letters reveal his struggles to fill his portfolio with new watercolors, his discoveries throughout the region, and the transformative effect the area had on both his art and his life. Forkner provides a detailed introduction to Audubon's private journal of 1820-21, the Louisiana Journal, to guide readers through this compelling document. Until now, the difficulty of comprehending Audubon's rough English has often kept readers from fully appreciating the Journal's significance. The volume also contains a dozen essays that Audubon penned about his experiences in Louisiana; most of these episodes he published in his Ornithological Biography, a massive five-volume written work that complements the visual art of Birds of America. Letters describing Audubon's last voyage to Louisiana in 1837, followed by nine of his Louisiana bird biographies, round out the collection. These original texts, augmented with Forkner's commentary, form a magisterial work that illuminates the importance of Louisiana to Audubon's life and art. Audubon on Louisiana deepens appreciation of one of the most significant artists and nature writers of the nineteenth century.

The Twelve Days of Christmas in Louisiana Jean Cassels, 2007 Paul writes a letter home each of the twelve days he spends exploring Louisiana at Christmastime as his cousin Rosalie shows him everything from a pelican in a cypress tree to twelve sparkly strands of Mardi Gras beads. Includes facts about Louisiana.

Marie Adrien Persac Marie Adrien Persac, H. Parrott Bacot, 2000 Marie Adrien Persac 1823-1873 was a French-born Louisiana artist who worked in a range of mediums to produce a unique view of the lower Mississippi Valley at midcentury. In the first catalogued exhibition devoted solely to this multifaceted but overlooked talent, paintings, drawings, maps, and photographs from numerous holdings have been brought together to present fresh insights and reevaluate this artist's place in the annals of American history and material culture. Due in part to his broad talents as artist, cartographer, architect, civil engineer, photographer, and art teacher, Persac's work is of major importance to Southern history researchers and art historians. His paintings of south Louisiana plantation houses have captured that now varnished lifestyle in minute detail, approximating the exactitude of architectural drafting. Today, this series is invaluable to scholars of the period, as is Persac's painting of a steamboat interior, the only one known to exist, and another French Opera House, which burned to the ground in 1919.

Louisiana Creole Peoplehood Rain Prud'homme-Cranford, Darryl Barthé, Andrew J. Jolivet, 2022-03-22 Transforms our understanding of Louisiana Creole community identity formation and practice. Over the course of more than three centuries, the diverse communities of Louisiana have engaged in creative living practices to forge a vibrant, multifaceted, and fully developed Creole culture. Against the backdrop of ongoing anti-Blackness and Indigenous erasure that has sought to undermine this rich culture, Louisiana Creoles have found transformative ways to uphold solidarity, kinship, and continuity, retaking Louisiana Creole agency as a post-contact Afro-Indigenous culture. Engaging themes as varied as foodways, queer identity, health, historical trauma, language revitalization, and diaspora, Louisiana Creole Peoplehood explores vital ways a specific Afro-Indigenous community asserts agency while promoting cultural sustainability communal dialogue and community reciprocity With interviews essays and autobiographic contributions from community members and scholars Louisiana Creole Peoplehood tracks the sacred interweaving of land and identity alongside the legacies and genealogies of Creole resistance to bring into focus the Afro Indigenous people written out of settler governmental policy In doing so this collection intervenes against the erasure of Creole Indigeneity to foreground Black Indian cultural sustainability agency and self determination The Louisiana Journey Terry L. Jones, 2007

A Southern Collection, 1993-02-01 A Southern Collection presents select masterworks from the permanent collection of the Morris Museum of Art on the occasion of the institution's inaugural exhibition Drawn from a comprehensive survey collection of painting in the South from the late eighteenth century to the present day the museum's opening exhibit explores an artistic terrain as rich and diverse as the South itself arranged in categories that reflect critical chronological developments in the art world A survey of painting activity in the South begins with the travels of itinerant portrait artists working prior to the Civil War At the same time landscape painting encompasses a sensitive response to the swamps bayous and fertile fields of the South Late in the nineteenth century strong and vivid genre painting competes with the nostalgic effects realized by Southern impressionists whose shimmering liquid images are invested with an elusive spirit of place In this century those strains of realism and naturalism that characterize the classic body of Southern writing appear in the representational art of painters who defied the modern abstract dictum And finally the exciting compelling works of a current generation of both self taught artists and sophisticated contemporary painters complete this fascinating though sometimes neglected chapter in American art history Troubled Memory Lawrence N. Powell, 2002-03-01 This compelling work tells the story of Anne Skorecki Levy a Holocaust survivor who transformed the horrors of her childhood into a passionate mission to defeat the political menace of reputed neo Nazi and Ku Klux Klan leader David Duke Through Levy's Expressions of Place John R. Kemp, 2016 Contemporary artists revealing the state's urban landscapes southwestern swamps central prairies verdant forests and northern fields
