Living Next Door to the God of Love Justina Robson, 2006-03-28 Where do you run when a world is out to get you Als Forged beings superheroes angels and worlds that change in the blink of an eye here is a richly imagined tale of ordinary redemption in an extraordinary world from one of the most provocative writers working today Francine is a young runaway looking to find a definition of love she can trust In Sankhara she finds a palace where rooms are made of bone flowers and the hearts of heroes She finds a scientist mapping the territory of the human mind She finds a boyfriend And she finds Eros itself incarnated in the androgynously irresistible form of Jalaeka But not everyone is in love with the god of love Unity for one wants to assimilate Jalaeka along with every other soul in the universe And contrary to what everyone always believes love alone can't save the day. It will take something both more and less powerful than the human heart to save the worlds upon worlds at risk when gods collide. For Robson, world building is a literary device like any other useful for exposing buried fears and desires to the light of day, no matter how strange the sun. New York Times Book Review Love Is Kim Sorrelle, 2021-12-07

Engage with a love that transcends social experiments and leads to a radically transformed life. Even non-Christians are familiar with the Love Chapter of 1 Corinthians, read at weddings, painted on decorative signs, and preached regularly from the pulpit. Love is patient, love is kind, love is. The words are so familiar they almost lack meaning, a Christianese version of live, laugh, love. But what happens when these verses are taken seriously? What would it take for someone to live out the Love Chapter as literally as possible? That was the question Kim Sorrelle set out to answer during her yearlong experiment. Using 1 Corinthians 13 as a road map, she focused on one phrase at a time, seeking to understand its true meaning and how it could motivate every daily action. And she didn't just look at the best-known parts of the passage, but also the parts we don't think too deeply about: love does not boast, does not dishonor others, doesn't keep a record of wrongs, and more. In her attempts to live the Love Chapter to the letter, Kim journeyed all the way to Haiti, where she met people who both tested and displayed love to its limits. From irritating employees to sexist short-term missionaries to curse-wielding women to the profoundly kind nuns, her encounters are filled with rueful self-reflection and comical commentary, as well as a new understanding of the nuances and power of true love in action. Kim's transformation into someone who truly loves like Jesus will challenge readers to think more deeply about how they can manifest love in their own lives and will reveal the power of Christlike devotion that is unwearied and humble, contented and forgiving. Above all, her exploration is an incredible encounter with the filling, strengthening love of God, a love that truly never fails. Living the Truth in Love Janet Smith, 2015-07-08

Living the Truth in Love grew out of the desire to provide answers to the questions posed for the Synod on Marriage called by Pope Francis: How can the Christian community give pastoral attention to families with persons with same-sex attraction? While avoiding any unjust discrimination, how can the Church give such persons pastoral care in light of the Gospel? How can God's will be proposed to them in their situation? People who want to be instruments of Christ's love to those who experience same-sex attraction seek guidance on how best to do so. They need to listen to the stories of those who experience SSA and the stories of those who have accompanied them on their journeys. They also need to ground their responses in a genuine Christian understanding of the human person and of human sexuality. This volume includes essays that lay out the Christian view of the human person and of human sexuality, essays that challenge the bifurcation of sexualities into heterosexual and homosexual. Topics include an explanation of the meaning of the word disorder, a discussion of the therapeutic power of friendship, and an application of Saint John Paul II's personalism to the question of same-sex attraction. Psychologists and counselors explain various ways of affirming those who experience SSA and of leading them to experience the power of Christ's healing love. Several of those who experience SSA tell their touching and inspiring stories.

Dancing With The One You Love Cindy Easley,2010-08-01 Let s get practical how do real women live out God s plan in 21st century marriages Too often submission is represented as repressive servanthood rather than a voluntary desire to empower a husband s leadership And as with many things in our culture this view of submission has found its way into our churches and marriages In reality women desperately want to experience the graceful waltz where both the husband and wife are in harmony each dancing their God given role But all too often there are no realistic Godly models from which to draw Author and speaker Cindy Easley surveyed ordinary women and asked How does this work for you Specifically how do women live out submission in her particular situation These are their stories from caring for a chronically ill husband to living with a nonbeliever Each example will help married or engaged women gain appreciation for God s will for marriage and learn to dance with the one they love
