Writings on Love in the English Middle Ages H. Cooney,2006-09-02 This is a set of essays from many of the leading scholars in the world of medieval studies which addresses a wide diversity of texts and genres and their diverse perspectives on love Attention is given to interaction between English writings and putative continental and international influences with particular emphasis on the works of Chaucer Outlaws and Spies McCarthy Conor McCarthy,2020-03-18 By reading two bodies of literature not normally read together the outlaw literature and espionage literature Conor McCarthy shows how these genres represent and critique the longstanding use of legal exclusion as a means of supporting state power Texts discussed range from the medieval Robin Hood ballads Shakespeare s history plays and versions of the Ned Kelly story to contemporary writing by John le Carre Don DeLillo Ciaran Carson and William Gibson Married Life in the Middle Ages, 900-1300 Elisabeth van Houts,2019-01-31 Married Life in the Middle Ages 900 1300 contains an analysis of the experience of married life by men and women in Christian medieval Europe c 900 1300 The study focusses on the social and emotional life of the married couple rather than on the institutional history of marriage breaking it into three parts Getting Married the process of getting married and wedding celebrations Married Life the married life of lay couples and clergy their sexuality and any remarriage and Alternative Living which explores concubinage and polygyny as well as the single life in contrast to monogamous sexual unions In this volume van Houts deals with four central themes First the tension between patriarchal family strategies and the individual family member s freedom of choice to marry and if so to what partner second the role played by the married priesthood in their quest to have individual agency and self determination accepted in their own lives in the face of the growing imposition of clerical celibacy third the role played by women in helping society accept some degree of gender equality and self determination to marry and in shaping the norms for married life incorporating these principles fourth the role played by emotion in the establishment of marriage and in married life at a time when sexual and spiritual love feature prominently in medieval literature Collected Letters of a Renaissance Feminist Laura Cereta,2007-11-01 Renaissance writer Laura Cereta 1469 1499 presents feminist issues in a predominantly male venue the humanist autobiography in the form of personal letters Cereta s works circulated widely in Italy during the early modern era but her complete letters have never before been published in English In her public lectures and essays Cereta explores the history of women s contributions to the intellectual and political life of Europe She argues against the slavery of women in marriage and for the rights of women to higher education the same issues that have occupied feminist thinkers of later centuries Yet these letters also furnish a detailed portrait of an early modern woman s private experience for Cereta addressed many letters to a close circle of family and friends discussing highly personal concerns such as her difficult relationships with her mother and her husband Taken together these letters are a testament both to an individual woman and to enduring feminist concerns The Medieval Idea of Marriage Christopher Nugent Lawrence Brooke,1991 This book offers an in depth look at the nature of medieval marriage in the period 1000 to 1500 Brooke surveys current approaches to the idea of marriage exploring the practice and law of marriage the cult of celibacy in the 11th and 12th centuries and the relationship between marriage and architecture He draws on a wide range of case studies and other sources including the letters of Heloise and Abelard the epics of Wolfram von Eschenbach and Chaucer's poetry MARRIAGE IN THE MIDDLE DOROTHY LITTELL. GRECO,2022 Love, Marriage, and Family in the Middle Ages Jacqueline Murray,2001 Saintly Brides and Bridegrooms Carolyn Diskant Muir,2012 Building upon recent scholarly interest in mystics and mysticism in late medieval Europe this book explores the visual representation of female and male saints depicted as brides or bridegrooms of Christ in northern European art from 1300 to 1550 The mystic marriage imagery of St Catherine of Alexandria St Agnes of Rome St John the Evangelist St Bernard of Clairvaux and the Blessed Henry Suso is studied through an analysis of a wide range of paintings illuminated manuscripts prints and sculpture From these case studies Muir argues that different visual conventions were used in the art of this period to portray the male and female experiences of mystic marriage and suggests possible reasons for these differences She further considers why comparatively few mystics were visually portrayed in a mystic marriage with Christ despite the large number recorded as having had that experience Providing insights into the meanings of the mystical experience when portrayed in visual terms this book will appeal to art historians as well as to other medievalists with an interest in the intersections of art religion and gender The Marriage Bed Claudia Dain,2001 A monk repenting for an affair with a married woman while serving as a knight struggles in an arranged marriage with desiring his wife
