Laughing Boy is the name of a young Navajo man living in the American Southwest during the era when the Americans are pushing westward in earnest He's looking to find his way in the world and earn the respect of his tribe when he meets a mysterious and fiery young woman Slim Girl at a tribal meet Slim Girl was raised in an American Indian school a type of boarding school designed by missionaries to civilize the native population Her experiences there left her deeply resentful and this bitterness carries on in her approach to the world where Laughing Boy is optimistic respectful of tradition and comfortable with himself Slim Girl is calculating tough and secretive The two quickly fall in love but Laughing Boy's family warns against the union it seems that Slim Girl has a reputation that precedes her Despite the warning the two begin a life together in a way that blends the traditional with the new American before a dark secret in Slim Girl's past threatens their happiness The story is on its face a love story but La Farge uses the framework of a romance to explore much deeper questions of tradition native versus Western lifestyles and how the inexorable expansion of Americans into the West changed things for the civilizations living there La Farge was not just a novelist he was also an anthropologist who spent much of his career studying Native Americans the Navajo in particular His deep knowledge of their culture practices and language allows him to create a convincing air of authenticity in the narrative which went on to earn the Pulitzer Prize for Fiction in 1930
