Love Of Learning And Desire For God A Study Of Monastic Culture:

The Love of Learning and the Desire for God Jean Leclercq, 1961 Discusses the contemplative life of the monastery its traditions and philosophy      The Love of Learning and the Desire for God Jean Leclercq (O.S.B.), 1962      The Love of Learning and The Desire God Jean Leclercq O.S.B., 2024-10-22 Available in a new digital edition with reflowable text suitable for e readers The Love of Learning and the Desire for God is composed of a series of lectures given to young monks at the Institute of Monastic Studies at Sant Anselmo in Rome during the winter of 1955 56      Between Cross and Resurrection Alan E. Lewis, 2003-06-20 For much of Christian history the church has given no place to Holy Saturday in its liturgy or worship Yet the space dividing Calvary and the Garden may be the best place from which to reflect on the meaning of Christ s death and resurrection This superb work by the late Alan Lewis develops on a grand scale and in great detail a theology of Holy Saturday The first comprehensive theology of Holy Saturday ever written Between Cross and Resurrection shows that at the center of the biblical story and the church s creed lies a three day narrative Lewis explores the meaning of Holy Saturday the restless day of burial and waiting from the perspectives of narrative hearing the story doctrine thinking the story and ethics living the story Along the way he visits as many spiritual themes as possible in order to demonstrate the range of topics that take on fresh meaning when viewed from the vantage point of Holy Saturday Between Cross and Resurrection is not only incisive and elegantly written but it is also a uniquely moving work deeply rooted in Christian experience While writing this book Lewis experienced his own Holy Saturday in suffering from and finally succumbing to cancer He considered Between Cross and Resurrection to be the culmination of his life s work      The Love of Learning and the Desire for God. A Study of Monastic Culture. Translated by Catharine Misrahi Jean Leclercq, 1961      The Library of Paradise David Allen Michelson, 2023-01-13 Contemplative reading is a spiritual practice developed by Christian monks in sixth and seventh century Mesopotamia The Library of Paradise tells the story of this Syriac tradition in three phases its establishment as an ascetic practice the articulation of its theology and its maturation and spread      Christianity and Rabbinic Judaism Jonas Alexis, 2013-01-10 Our way must be never knowingly support lies Having understood where the lies begin step back from that gangrenous edge Let us not glue back the flaking scale of the Ideology not gather back its crumbling bones nor patch together its decomposing garb and we will be amazed how swiftly and helplessly the lies will fall away and that which is destined to be naked will be exposed as such to the world Alexander Solzhenitsyn Enlightenment writer Voltaire was amazed that twelve fishermen some of them unlettered from an obscure place in the world called Galilee challenged an empire through self denial and patience and eventually established Christianity He seriously thought that twelve philosophers or intellectuals himself included would do the opposite and crush Christianity Voltaires self appointed cheerleaders such as Diderot Helvitius dHolbach DAlembert Lametrie and Baron Cloots among others tried to do just that and wrote volumes of work trying to tear down the basis of Christianity and erect an edifice of their own Diderot in particular declared I would sacrifice myself perhaps if I could annihilate forever the notion of God Cloots wrote We shall see the heavenly royalty condemned by the revolutionary tribunal of victorious Reason Lamettrie produced Man A Machine and an entire French encyclopedia was written between 1751 and 1772 by those philosophers because Christianity to a large degree had to go Voltaire would send letters to his disciples and friends saying crasez linfme Rousseau of course was a disciple of Voltaire and declared that Voltaires work inspired me The French Revolution failed Yet like all significant revolutions before and after that period the French Revolution indirectly had a theological root which was then a categorical and metaphysical rejection of Logos That theological substratum has jumped from one era to the next and had and still has historical political economic and spiritual ramifications This book is about the historical and theological struggle of that conflict which had its inception at the foot of the cross

Constructing History Across the Norman Conquest Francesca Tinti, David A. Woodman, 2022 An investigation into the hugely significant works produced by the Worcester foundation at a period of turmoil and change From the mid eleventh to the mid twelfth century Worcester was a monastic community of unparalleled importance Not only was it home to many of the most famous bishops and monks of the period including Bishop Wulfstan II it was also a centre of notable and ambitious scholarly production Under Wulfstan s guidance a number of Worcester brethren undertook historical research that resulted in the writing of such renowned texts as Hemming s Cartulary and the Worcester Chronica Chronicarum Significantly these historical endeavours spanned the political chasm of the Norman Conquest The essays collected here aim to shed new light on different aspects of the Worcester historical workshop whose literary output was in several respects pioneering in contemporary European scholarship Several chapters address the different ways in which the monks organised and updated their archives of documents both via their sequence of cartularies with a special focus on the narrative parts of Hemming s Cartulary and via an interesting and previously unedited prose account of the foundation of the see Others focus on the famous Worcester Chronica Chronicarum attributed both to Florence and to John investigating the major model for its composition and structure the work of Marianus Scotus the stages in which it was completed and its connections with Welsh chronicles as well as the related and fascinating abbreviated version written mostly in the hand of John himself and known as the Chronicula The volume thus elucidates how the Worcester monks navigated the period across the Conquest through the composition of different genres of texts and how these texts shaped their own institutional memory

Reading Families Rebecca Krug, 2018-09-05 Rebecca Krug argues that in the later Middle Ages people defined themselves in terms of family relationships but increasingly saw their social circumstances as being connected to the written word Complex family dynamics and social configurations motivated women to engage in text based activities Although not all or even the majority of women could read and write it became natural for women to think of writing as a part of everyday life Reading Families looks at the literate practice of two individual women Margaret Paston and Margaret Beaufort and of two communities in which women were central the Norwich Lollards and the Bridgettines at Syon Abbey The book begins with Paston s letters which were written at her husband s request and ends with devotional texts that describe the spiritual daughterhood of the Bridgettine readers Scholars often assume that medieval women s participation in literate culture constituted a rejection of patriarchal authority Krug maintains however that for most women learning to engage with the written word served as a practical response to social changes and was not necessarily a revolutionary act

Reading Matthew with Monks Derek A. Olsen, 2015-04-13 In Reading Matthew with Monks Derek Olsen seeks to evaluate whether early medieval monastic biblical interpreters can serve as effective conversation partners for modern readers who are committed to broadening their reading of Scripture Olsen puts the interpretations of four modern Scripture commentaries in conversation with Ifric of Eynsham s medieval monastic interpretations of four texts from the Gospel of Matthew In so doing he clarifies early medieval interpretive contexts and assesses their usefulness in modern scholarship As outsiders in modern critical debates Ifric and his sources may provide alternative approaches or perspectives that open interpretive possibilities where modern interpreters are locked in disagreement Early medieval monastic interpreters can serve as excellent guides for understanding the potential for moral spiritual or formative meanings of a biblical text They can help modern readers who are attempting to conform their lives to the biblical text and Why We Suffer David E. Orberon, 2018-06-18 Thomas Merton is one of the most important spiritual voices of the last century. He has never been more relevant as new generations look to him for guidance in addressing some of life's biggest questions: how can we find God? how should we engage with other faiths? and how can we oppose violence and injustice? Looking carefully, one can find tucked away in Merton's prodigious writings his response to another timeless question: Why do we suffer? Why does an all-powerful and all-loving God permit evil and suffering? By carefully examining all of Merton's work, we find that he repeatedly confronted this question throughout most of his adult life. Intriguingly, Merton's approach to this question changed dramatically a few years before he died in 1968. An examination of all aspects of his life yields evidence that Merton's immersion in Zen during this time contributed most to that change.

The Passionate Intellect Norman Klassen, Jens Zimmermann, 2006-09-01 Too often Christian college students feel they must either downplay their faith or stick to a small circle of like-minded friends and organizations. Somewhere along the way, assumptions have taken root that intellectual university life and Christian faith cannot be synthesized. Klassen and Zimmermann assert that much is at stake for the young university student. A worldview takes a lasting shape and faith is usually discovered, deepened, or discarded during a collegiate journey. This new work is designed to give students, parents, and other interested readers a guide to the intellectual culture of the modern university and its contribution to society, helping them to realize the power of the university's influence and discover how to connect Christian belief to cutting-edge thinking.

The Making of a Medieval Bestseller Judah D. Galinsky, 2025-06-19 In 1277 Rabbi Isaac of Corbeil produced a concise work of accessible religious law. This handbook, Amudei Golah (Pillars of Exile), began as a list of religious commandments (mitzvot) meant to be recited weekly. It was divided into seven pillars drawn primarily from the limbs of the human body and its activities: heart, hand, mouth, monetary transactions, etc., and dealt exclusively with laws relevant to Jews living in the Diaspora in medieval times. This handbook of religious law, written in Hebrew, became the most widespread book of its kind during the late Middle Ages within the various French and German-speaking Jewish communities known as Ashkenaz. Nearly two hundred medieval copies of the work are found in public libraries and private collections today, an astounding number for a Hebrew work at the time.

In The Making of a Medieval Bestseller, Judah Galinsky approaches his study in three parts. The first surveys the ideological and cultural reasons that Rabbi Isaac composed the work and describes how the book evolved over time. The second part traces the book's impressive circulation and analyzes the various reasons behind the book's success, suggesting that readers who were outside the scholarly class may have been key to the work's popularity. In the third part, Galinsky addresses the readers themselves who ordered copies of the work from a scribe. Galinsky discerns the cultural profile of the patrons who commissioned the codex by paying attention to the books they requested to have copied alongside it or its fellow travelers. This study is a history of a medieval bestseller. It describes how it came into being, grew, and evolved, and also charts its circulation, explains its unique appeal, and depicts its readers.

Poetic Relations Constance M. Furey, 2017-06-05 What is the relationship between our isolated and our social selves between aloneness and interconnection Constance M Furey probes this question through a suggestive literary tradition early Protestant poems in which a single speaker describes a solitary search for God As Furey demonstrates John Donne George Herbert Anne Bradstreet and others describe inner lives that are surprisingly crowded teeming with human as well as divine companions The same early modern writers who bequeathed to us the modern distinction between self and society reveal here a different way of thinking about selfhood altogether For them she argues the self is neither alone nor universally connected but is forever interactive and dynamically constituted by specific relationships By means of an analysis equally attentive to theological ideas social conventions and poetic form Furey reveals how poets who understand introspection as a relational act and poetry itself as a form ideally suited to crafting a relational self offer us new ways of thinking about selfhood today and a resource for reimagining both secular and religious ways of being in the world Medieval Readings of Romans William S. Campbell, Peter S. Hawkins, Brenda Deen

Schildgen, 2007-11-15 This sixth volume of the Romans through History and Culture series consists of 14 contributions by North American and European medievalists and Pauline scholars who discuss significant readings of Romans through the twelfth and thirteenth centuries to the eve of the Reformation The commentaries of Abelard William of St Thierry Thomas Aquinas and Nicolas of Lyra and the wider influence of Romans as reflected in the letters of Heloise and the works of Dante demonstrate the reception of Romans at this period Starting with an introduction inviting the reader into the biblical environment of the Middle Ages and suggesting the varied ways in which Paul was understood in both high clerical culture and among the people it also offers a summary of the work done by each of the authors This volume attests the dominant role of scripture in communal life and witnesses to the pervasive influence of Paul's letter to the Romans in the flourishing discussions on Scripture and theology Lectio Divina Duncan Robertson, 2011-12-01 During the Middle Ages the act of reading was experienced intensively in the monastic exercise of lectio divina the prayerful scrutiny of passages of Scripture savored in meditation memorized recited and rediscovered in the reader's own religious life The rich literary tradition that arose from this culture includes theoretical writings from the Conferences of John Cassian fifth century through the twelfth century treatises of Hugh of St Victor and the Carthusian Guigo II it also includes compilations literary meditations and scriptural commentary notably on the Song of Songs This study brings medievalist research together with modern theoretical reflections on the act of reading in a consolidation of historical scholarship spirituality and literary criticism St.

Benedict's Toolbox Jane Tomaine, 2015-07-01 A practical down to earth guide on the Rule of St Benedict and its use in daily life In the sixth century when the Roman Empire was breaking apart and politics cultural life and even the Church were in disarray tumultuous times not unlike our own Benedict of Nursia designed what he termed a little rule that showed his monks the way to peace as they learned to prefer Christ above all things Jane Tomaine translates St Benedict's ancient rule for a modern audience and offers readers a primer on how to use these tools in their own tumultuous lives Each chapter examines one aspect of the Rule from ways of praying to ways of being in relationships and community and offers tools for reflection prayer journaling and action This updated edition includes historical background to the Rule a new chapter on relationships and community and a guide for group use A wonderful book one of the best introductions we have in print today to the spirit of St Benedict It speaks clearly to Episcopalians of our day about the great spiritual treasure of the Benedictine tradition The Rt Rev R William Franklin Assisting Bishop of Long Island      Divine Abundance Elizabeth Newman,2018-08-14

It s time to say a good word for the ten o clock scholar The recovery of a flourishing academic culture which is not the same as being a major research center lies in the recovery of leisure The heart of this practice is contemplation and Divine worship It names furthermore our lives as being in communion with others the cosmos and ultimately with God True leisure reconfigures our compartmentalized space and distorted time allowing us to experience Divine abundance that opens a path to the true restoration of the life of the mind      Producing Christian Culture Giles E. M. Gasper,Francis Watson,Matthew R. Crawford,2017-06-26

Producing Christian Culture takes as its thread the interpretative genres within which medieval people engaged with the Bible Contributors to the volume present specific material as a case study illustrative of a specific genre whether devotional homiletical scholarly or controversial The chronological range moves from St Augustine to the use of gospel texts in polemical writing of the first two decades of the 1500s with focal sections on early medieval Anglo Saxon and Carolingian theology the scholastic turn of the High Middle Ages and the influence of vernacular writing in the later Middle Ages The tremendous range and vitality of medieval responses to biblical texts are highlighted within the studies
