Times Book Review Married Love is a masterful collection of short fiction from one of today's most accomplished storytellers. These tales showcase the qualities for which Tessa Hadley has long been praised: her humor, warmth, and psychological acuity; her powerful, precise and emotionally dense prose; her unflinching examinations of family relationships. Here are stories that range widely across generations and classes, exploring the private and public lives of unforgettable characters: a young girl who haunts the edges of her parents' party; a wife released by the sudden death of her film director husband; an eighteen-year-old who insists on marrying her music professor only to find herself shut out from his secrets. Hadley evokes worlds that expand in the imagination far beyond the pages, capturing domestic dramas, generational sagas, wrenching love affairs, and epiphanies, and distilling them to remarkable effect. Hadley parses the meaning of love in all its paradoxical, panoramic glory.

Booklist: These stories are gemlike and unforgettable. Kate Tuttle, Boston Globe. One of the most interesting writers around Philip Womack, The Spectator. Only Alice Munro and Colm Tóibín are so adept at portraying whole lives in a few thousand words. Hadley joins their company as one of the most clear-sighted chroniclers of contemporary emotional journeys. Edmund Gordon, The Guardian. There is a grand sweep and an emotional charge that brings to mind D.H. Lawrence. Elena Seymenliyska, Daily Telegraph, London. An exceptional storyteller. Library Journal. Shrewd, insightful, unpredictable. Kirkus Reviews.

A Child's Life Phoebe Gloeckner, 1998. A critically acclaimed anthology of the urban comic stories of Phoebe Gloeckner, whose work is characterised by its realistic and hard-edged nature. Confessional tales such as Mary the Minor (written when she was 16) and Minnie's Third Love depict a teenage girl's loss of innocence through encounters with a suburban and urban jungle of sex, drugs, rape, prostitution, and AIDS.

Life Of Love - A Novel Santonu Kumar Dhar, 2015-07-15. Full of emotion, charm, and compassion. Life of Love is a fresh new romance novel that will take you along on John and Sarah's journey as they travel down love's occasionally rocky path, overcoming the challenges their relationship brings and ultimately discovering what it truly means to be loved. It was love at first sight for John Deane when he saw Sarah Miller at a bus stop. She left before he could talk to her, but the fates must have been smiling down on him because he saw her again at the wedding of his business partner. They danced, got to know each other, and fell in love. Everything was going well, and they were happy despite John's mother's protestations about their relationship until an accident renders John comatose. John and Sarah have been inseparable since they became a couple, so how will Sarah cope with the turn of events in her life?

The Last Tortilla Sergio Troncoso, 2015-03-18. She asked me if I liked them. And what could I say? They were wonderful. From the very beginning of Sergio Troncoso's celebrated story Angie Luna, we know we are in the hands of a gifted storyteller. Born of Mexican immigrants, raised in El Paso and now living in New York City, Troncoso has a rare knack for celebrating life. Writing in a straightforward, light-handed style reminiscent of Grace Paley and Raymond Carver, he spins charming tales that reflect his experiences in two worlds. Troncoso's El Paso is a normal town where common people who happen to be Mexican eat, sleep, fall in love, and undergo epiphanies just like everyone else. His tales are coming-of-age stories from the Mexican American border stories of the working class stories of those coping with the trials of growing old in a rapidly changing society He also explores New York with vignettes of life in the big city capturing its loneliness and danger Beginning with Troncoso's widely acclaimed story Angie Luna the tale of a feverish love affair in which a young man rediscovers his Mexican heritage and learns how much love can hurt these stories delve into the many dimensions of the human condition We watch boys playing a game that begins innocently but takes a dangerous turn We see an old Anglo woman befriending her Mexican gardener because both are lonely We witness a man terrorized in his New York apartment taking solace in memories of lost love Two new stories will be welcomed by Troncoso's readers My Life in the City relates a transplanted Texan's yearning for companionship in New York while The Last Tortilla returns to the Southwest to explore family strains after a mother's death and the secret behind that death Each reflects an insight about the human heart that has already established the author's work in literary circles Troncoso sets aside the polemics about social discomfort sometimes found in contemporary Chicano writing and focuses instead on the moral and intellectual lives of his characters The twelve stories gathered here form a richly textured tapestry that adds to our understanding of what it is to be human

The Prince of Mournful Thoughts and Other Stories Caroline Kim, 2020-10-06 Exploring what it means to be human through the Korean diaspora Caroline Kim's stories feature many voices From a teenage girl in 1980's America to a boy growing up in the middle of the Korean War to an immigrant father struggling to be closer to his adult daughter or to a suburban housewife whose equilibrium depends upon a therapy robot each character must face their less than ideal circumstances and find a way to overcome them without losing themselves Language often acts as a barrier as characters try fail and momentarily succeed in connecting with each other With humor insight and curiosity Kim's wide ranging stories explore themes of culture communication travel and family Ultimately what unites these characters across time and distance is their longing for human connection and a search for the place or people that will feel like home

Lost Love and Other Stories Jan Carew, 2000-01-01 One summer's day a young man meets a beautiful young girl on a quiet country road But there's something strange about her clothes her family and her village is not on the map How will he find her again Short stories to take you into some strange worlds where things are not always what they seem
