Love, Sex, and Marriage Julie Coleman, 2022-06-13 If the language we use influences and reflects the way that we see the world then the fields of LOVE SEX and MARRIAGE will show how speakers of English view their closest social and emotional relationships Love Sex and Marriage provides a classification of English terms for these three fields from the earliest written records of the language until the present day This volume makes it possible to trace changing attitudes towards social and sexual ties and to understand those ties as earlier speakers of English did through the language they used The terms are arranged by meaning and are listed chronologically within semantic fields with their dates of usage Notes on individual terms provide further information about their connotations and development Language does not exist in isolation from the people who speak it so background information about changes in social conditions religious beliefs and medical advancements is also included A brief introduction to basic semantic terminology explains the principles behind the classification and an alphabetical index facilitates the location of individual terms The Old English Martyrology Christine Rauer, 2013 New edition with facing page translation of a highly significant and influential Old English text

Theme Parks, Rainforests and Sprouting Wastelands, 2022-05-16 This lively and fascinating new collection of European essays on contemporary Anglophone fiction has arisen out of the ESSE 3 Conference which was held in Glasgow in September 1995 The contributors live and work in University English Departments in Bulgaria Croatia France Germany Hungary Italy The Netherlands Portugal and Spain as well as in the United Kingdom itself Essays on general theoretical aspects of the subject head and conclude the collection and there are also essays on individual writers or groups of writers such as John Fowles A S Byatt Charles Palliser Peter Ackroyd William Golding Doris Lessing Daphne du Maurier Angela Carter and Christina Stead The performative aspect of the subject matter of these essays is balanced by a locational aspect including utopian and dystopian writing in authors as diverse as Michael Crichton Jenny Diski and Salman Rushdie and the travel literature of Bruce Chatwin These essays show theoretical alertness but no single theoretical position is privileged The aim of the collection is to provide an indication of the range of work being carried out throughout European academe on Anglophone mainly British writing today Anglia, 2000 Emotionen, Gefühle und Sprache im Alten Testament Andreas Wagner, 2006 Penetrierte Männlichkeit Benedikt Wolf, 2018 Die vorliegende Studie zur Literatur der Moderne stellt die Frage nach dem Ort des Mannes der sich sexuell penetrieren lässt In detaillierten Lektüren von Texten u a von Otto Julius Bierbaum Arnolt Bronnen Hubert Fichte Hans Henny Jahnn Franz Kafka Thomas Mann und Robert Musil erarbeitet sie eine regelrechte Poetologie penetrierter Männlichkeit Auf der Basis einer Kontextualisierung im Feld der konkurrierenden Homosexualitätskonzeptionen des frühen 20 Jahrhunderts fragt die Arbeit gerade nicht nach männlicher Homosexualität sondern fasst penetrierte Mannlichkeit als eine diskurshistorische und literarische Figuration mit einer Eigenlogik die nicht in mannlicher Homosexualität aufgeht A History of Old English Literature Robert D. Fulk, Christopher M.

Cain, 2008-04-15 This timely introduction to Old English literature focuses on the production and reception of Old English texts and on their relation to Anglo Saxon history and culture Introduces Old English texts and considers their relation to Anglo Saxon culture Responds to renewed emphasis on historical and cultural contexts in the field of medieval studies Treats virtually the entire range of textual types preserved in Old English Considers the production reception and uses of Old English texts Integrates the Anglo Latin backgrounds crucial to understanding Old English literature Offers very extensive bibliographical guidance Demonstrates that Anglo Saxon studies is uniquely placed to contribute to current literary debates Elves in Anglo-Saxon England Alaric Hall, 2007 Elves and elf belief during the Anglo Saxon period are reassessed in this lively and provocative study Victorian Literature and the Victorian Visual Imagination Carol T. Christ, John O.

Jordan, 2022-04-29 Nineteenth century British culture frequently represented the eye as the preeminent organ of truth These essays explore the relationship between the verbal and the visual in the Victorian imagination They range broadly over topics that include the relationship of optical devices to the visual imagination the role of photography in changing the conception of evidence and truth the changing partnership between illustrator and novelist and the ways in which literary texts represent the visual Together they begin to construct a history of seeing in the Victorian period This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1995 An Introduction to Old Norse Eric Valentine Gordon, 1927 A History of Anglican Exorcism Francis

Young, 2018-06-30 Exorcism is more widespread in contemporary England than perhaps at any other time in history The Anglican Church is by no means the main provider of this ritual which predominantly takes place in independent churches However every one of the Church of England dioceses in the country now designates at least one member of its clergy to advise on casting out demons Such deliverance ministry is in theory made available to all those parishioners who desire it Yet as Francis Young reveals present day exorcism in Anglicanism is an unlikely historical anomaly It sprang into existence in the 1970s within a church that earlier on had spent whole centuries condemning the expulsion of evil spirits as either Catholic superstition or evangelical excess This book for the first time tells the full story of the Anglican Church's approach to demonology and the exorcist's ritual since the Reformation in the sixteenth century The author explains how and why how such a remarkable transformation in the Church's attitude to the rite of exorcism took place while also setting his subject against the canvas of the wider history of ideas Knowledge and Pain, 2012-01-01 Pain studies both in exact sciences and in the humanities are a fast shifting field This volume condenses a spectrum of recent views of pain through the lens of humanistic studies Methodologically the volume is an interdisciplinary study of the questions pertaining to the accessibility of pain physical or emotional to understanding and of the possible influence of suffering on the enhancement of knowledge in private experience or public sphere Undeterred by the widespread belief that pain cannot be expressed in language and that it is intransmissible to others the authors of the essays in the collection show that the replicability of records and narratives of human experience provides a basis for the kind of empathetic attention dialogue and contact that can help us to register the pain of another and understand its conditions and contexts Needless to say the improvement of this understanding may also help map the ways for the ethics of response to and help for pain Whereas the authors of the volume tend to share the view of pain as a totally negative phenomenon the position taken in Elaine Scarry's The Body in Pain they hold this view applicable mainly to the attitudes to the pain of others and the imperative of minimise the causes of another's suffering They also consider this view to be culturally and temporally circumscribed The volume suggests that one's own personal experience of suffering along with the awareness of the seriality of such experience among fellow sufferers can be conducive to emotional and intellectual growth The reading of literature dealing with pain can lead to similar results through vicariously experienced suffering whose emotional corollaries and intellectual consequences may be conveyed through artistic rather than discursive means The distinctive features of the volume are that it processes these issues in a historicising way deploying the history of the ideas of pain from the Middle Ages to the present day and that it makes use of the methodology of different disciplines to do so arriving to similar conclusions through as it were different paths The disciplines include analytic philosophy historiography history of science oral history literary studies and political science

Academic Voices Kjersti Fløttum, Trine Dahl, Torodd Kinn, 2006-08-10 This book explores how the voices of authors and other researchers are manifested in academic discourse and how the author handles the polyphonic interaction between these various parties It represents a unique study of academic discourse in that it takes a doubly contrastive approach focusing on the two factors of discipline and language at the same time It is based on a large electronic corpus of 450 research articles from three disciplines economics linguistics and medicine in three languages English French and Norwegian The book investigates whether disciplines and languages may be said to represent different cultures with regard to person manifestation in the texts What is being studied is thus cultural identities as tendencies in linguistic practices For the majority of the features focused on e.g. metatext and bibliographical references the discipline factor turns out to contribute more strongly to the variation observed than the language factor However for some of the features e.g. pronouns and negation the language factor is also quite strong Additional background information on the investigations reported in this book can be found at www.uib.no/kiap The Presence of the Dead in Our Lives, 2012-01-01 This volume offers a selection of articles from authors representing a wide array of disciplines all of whom explore the following central theme how can the presence of the dead take life in the hearts of the living Although individuals die they can indeed remain present

But how Authors in this volume explicate practical mourning strategies to help survivors cope with the tremendous sadness and emptiness experienced when we lose someone we love Jane Austen and William Shakespeare Marina Cano, Rosa García-Periago, 2019-11-06 This volume explores the multiple connections between the two most canonical authors in English Jane Austen and William Shakespeare The collection reflects on the historical literary critical and filmic links between the authors and their fates Considering the implications of the popular cult of Austen and Shakespeare the essays are interdisciplinary and comparative ranging from Austen's and Shakespeare's biographies to their presence in the modern vampire saga Twilight passing by Shakespearean echoes in Austen's novels and the authors' afterlives on the improv stage in wartime cinema modern biopics and crime fiction The volume concludes with an account of the Exhibition Will Jane at the Folger Shakespeare Library which literally brought the two authors together in the autumn of 2016 Collectively the essays mark and celebrate what we have called the long standing love affair between William Shakespeare and Jane Austen over 200 years and counting The Domination of Fear Mikko Canini, 2010-01-01 The tropes of fear horror and terror have come to play a dominant role the analysis of contemporary social life The predominance of fear as the frame through which we narrativize experience can be perceived readily echoing across various fields from theoretical research to the mass media to the quotidian Despite the commonly held view that fear is a primitive and universal affect its definition potential value and perceived effects vary wildly in each instance From literary theory to psychoanalysis to politics to philosophy this collection of research attempts to both flesh out these tropes and to complexify them Individually the essays reflect a diversity of approaches to the constellation fear horror and terror Taken as a whole they produce the ground for an analysis of the dominance of fear Paul Muldoon and the Language of Poetry Ruben Moi, 2020 This book interprets the multifarious writing of the Irish American word wizard Paul Muldoon who has been described by The Times Literary Supplement as the most significant English language poet born since the second World War
