Countryside Tales Bhupendra Dogra,2021-04-09 An interesting literary journey back in time capturing within the breathtaking stories the joys and sorrows thrills and disappointments of growing up in rural Punjab Bhupendra s stories bring out the simplicity sensibilities vibrancy languor humour and irony in lives from the Punjab countryside Countryside Tales is the closest you can get to the Malgudi Days of Punjab Bhupendra s powerful narratives transport the readers back in time to that place and situation where they become a part of the action and emotion One can visualise the scenes so clearly that the feeling is of actually being present there Great memories narrated with utter simplicity Bhupendra really has an amazing talent for bringing alive the people he writes about and that too with crystal clear precision Bhupendra Dogra exhibits a great skill of transmuting personal memories into an impersonal and universal art While reading the stories I felt like a toddler once again in the company of my young and muscular dad working in the fields in the village Bhupendra's stories capture the mood and aura of a bygone era perfectly. They remind me of R K Narayan's short stories especially Swami and His Friends. Bhupendra is an amazingly gifted writer, a master story teller who is unbeatable in narrating and converting simple incidents into interesting stories. A raconteur par excellence, Bhupendra's relationship with his father must have been very very special. His abiding love for his father peeps through every word he writes about him. Intensely engaging, some of the best short stories that I have ever read in my life. Bhupendra Dogra's stories are fine examples of creating interesting artistic constructs out of some banal or commonplace experiences interspersed with a subtle sense of humour and a mild critique of typical middle class Hindu family ethos and ethics. Erotic Stories for Punjabi Widows Balli Kaur Jaswal, 2021

A World of Love Karuna Kochar, 2021-01-20 A World of Love is a delicious bowl of romantic nuggets that you could munch on with a mug of hot chocolate by your side on a rainy night. The warm collection of ten love stories are unique not only in the diversity of the characters and their love-laced experiences but also because they are real. Karuna Kochar's World of Love isn't pure fiction. It is woven around true stories and real women perfected with the enticing yarn of imagination and captivating the essence of a woman's heart. The undercurrent of reality makes the protagonists endearing and their world of love believable. The pure, muted love that resurrects Mary's poetic self, the heart-pumping expectation of the first kiss in college, the age-defying love of Roo and Tanni, or the burning poignancy of the first love letter, this collection of short stories touch quite a few notes on being in love, being loved, and above all, being true to your Self. A World of Love brings you real emotions that you can relate to, be in awe of, and cherish, and the warmth melts and lingers long like hot chocolate in your mouth.

Love Stories from Punjab Harish Dhillon, 2014-10-01. Enthralling, heart-rending, poignant, and engrossing stories of immortal love, unfettered emotions, and everlasting appeal that have stood the test of time. This volume comprises a collection of mystical stories from Punjab that forces the now ordinary and practical meaning of love to change into its illogical and irrational self, it once used to be. An exposition of Sufi philosophy, each story possesses both the calm and the storm of true love, a love that consumes the body and the heart, a love that goes beyond all common sense, a love better known as junoon, intense passion that finally culminates in ibaadat, worship, and the love of God. From Sohni Mahiwal to Heer Ranjha, Sassi Punnu to Mirza Sahiban, Harish Dhillon succinctly encapsulates the rich cultural and literary heritage of Punjab. Punjab is so famously synonymous with Love. Stories from Punjab brings alive the forgotten magic of folklore that will tug at all the right strings of the heart. Once again, Drama, romance, tragedy, and history are interwoven in the form of an exquisite tapestry.

Memories of Madness Khushwant Singh, 2002-09-11. Independence for India in 1947 came with a price division on the basis of religion. In the communal riots that followed, hundreds of thousands were killed and millions rendered homeless. And the tragic legacy of Partition haunts the subcontinent even today. Memories of Madness brings together works by three leading writers who witnessed the insanity of those months. Train to Pakistan, Khushwant Singh's debut novel, tells the story of a village in Punjab, Mano Majra, where

Muslims and Sikhs have co existed peacefully till one night in 1947 when a ghost train arrives from across the new border bearing corpses of butchered refugees As mistrust grows into hate and the people of Mano Majra lose their humanity it is left to an outcast a Sikh dacoit in love with a Muslim girl to avert another carnage Bhisham Sahni s Tamas is a harrowing portrait of a small frontier town in the grip of communal frenzy Based on the author s own experience of riots in Rawalpindi this celebrated novel describes the murder and mayhem triggered off by the discovery of a pig s carcass outside a mosque The matchless stories of Saadat Hasan Manto the greatest short story writer in the Urdu language round off this collection In addition to his most famous story Toba Tek Singh the selection includes ten other sketches and stories in which Manto turns his unflinching gaze on history s criminals victims and unlikely heroes As moving as they are disturbing the stories in this volume are of immense relevance in these times for they constitute a chilling reminder of the consequences of communal politics
