The Power of Love Osho, 2016-07-19 One of the most important life events is falling in love yet we never learn about it in school Societies and religions force us into models and thought forms that are often in opposition to an organic model of love which is instead institutionalised by marriage religious affiliations and nationalism This results in love that is for most people a painful challenge in one form or another throughout life In these modern days where the focus shifts more and more to realising one's individual potential Osho helps us to direct our search for love by widening our view showing us that love has many manifestations and is not limited to the other One manifestation of love is meditation a life changing experience that allows the flowering of real love within oneself and toward others The Osho Life Essentials series focuses on the most important questions in the life of the individual Each volume contains timeless yet contemporary investigations and discussions into questions vital to our personal search for meaning and purpose The Osho Life Essentials series focuses on questions specific to our inner life and quality of existence for example is it possible to have an authentic spirituality without a belief in God What is meditation and how does it work What can I do as an individual to make the world a better place

Collaborating with the Enemy Adam Kahane, 2017-07-05 Offers practical guidance for how to work with diverse others which is a precondition for confronting many of the complex challenges we face Morris Rosenberg President Pierre Elliott Trudeau Foundation Collaboration is increasingly difficult and increasingly necessary Often to get something done that really matters to us we need to work with people we don't agree with or like or trust Adam Kahane has faced this challenge many times working on big issues like democracy and jobs and climate change and on everyday issues in organizations and families He has learned that our conventional understanding of collaboration that it requires a harmonious team that agrees on where it's going how it's going to get there and who needs to do what is wrong Instead we need a new approach to collaboration that embraces discord experimentation and genuine cocreation which is exactly what Kahane provides in this groundbreaking and timely book Kahane shows that people who don't see eye to eye really can come together to solve big challenges Whether in our businesses our governments our communities or our personal lives we can all benefit from this smart and timely book Mark Tercek former President The Nature Conservancy and coauthor of Nature's Fortune Shows us how thinking and seeing differently can help us navigate this challenging landscape Kahane abandons orthodoxy in taking on the most intransigent problems showing us the path to effective action in a complex world James Gimian coauthor of The Rules of Victory Collaborating with the Enemy belongs on the same shelf as Sun Tzu's The Art of War and Machiavelli's The Prince Stephen Huddart President The J W McConnell Family Foundation

Power, Love and Evil Wayne Cristaudo, 2008-01-01 Love and evil are real they are substances of force fields which contain us as constituent parts Of all the powers of life they are the two most pregnant with meaning hence the most generative of what is specifically human Love and evil stand in the closest relationship to each other evil is both what destroys love and what forces more love out of us it is as Augustine astutely grasped privative requiring something to negate but it is also born out of misdirected love Breaking with naive realist and post modern dogmas about the nature of the real this book provides the basis for a philosophy of generative action as it draws upon examples from philosophy literature religion and popular culture While this book has a sympathetic ear for ancient and traditional narratives about the meaning of life it offers a philosophy appropriate for our times and our crises It is particularly directed at readers who are seeking for new ways to think about our world and self making and who are as dissatisfied with post Nietzschean and post Marxian 20th century social theory as they are by more

Love, Power, and Gender in Seventeenth-Century French Fairy Tales Bronwyn Reddan, 2020-12 Love is a key ingredient in the stereotypical fairy tale ending in which everyone lives happily ever after This romantic formula continues to influence contemporary ideas about love and marriage but it ignores the history of love as an emotion that shapes and is shaped by hierarchies of power including gender class education and social status This interdisciplinary study questions the idealization of love as the ultimate happy ending by showing how the conteuses the women writers who dominated the first French fairy tale vogue in the 1690s used the fairy tale genre to critique the power dynamics of courtship and marriage Their tales do not sit comfortably in the fairy tale canon as they explore the good the bad and the ugly effects of love and marriage on the lives of their heroines Bronwyn Reddan argues that the conteuses scripts for love emphasize the importance of gender in determining the right way to love in seventeenth century France Their version of fairy tale love is historical and contingent rather than universal and timeless This conversation about love compels revision of the happily ever after narrative and offers incisive commentary on the gendered scripts for the performance of love in courtship and marriage in seventeenth century France life We no longer see power as a magic wand to gain superiority over others We begin to understand what it means to say we are all one Transpersonal love fires humanity It takes us beyond ego beyond personal needs and unites the personal ego with the larger self When the various inner parts of ourselves are in harmony we can truly love and we can begin to affirm the union between human and divine The Power to Love John C.
