Love, Death, and the Ladies' Drill Team Jessamyn West, 1966 Short Story Index, 1989 Short Story Index:
1955-1958, 1960 Short Story Index Dorothy Elizabeth Cook, 1960 The World Through a Monocle Mary F. Corey, 2009-07-01

Today The New Yorker is one of a number of general interest magazines published for a sophisticated audience but in the post World War II era the magazine occupied a truly significant niche of cultural authority. A self selected community of 250 000 readers who wanted to know how to look and sound cosmopolitan found in its pages information about night spots and polo teams. They became conversant with English movies Italian Communism French wine the bombing of the Bikini Atoll pret a porter and Caribbean vacations. A well known critic lamented that certain groups have come to communicate almost exclusively in references to the magazine's sacred writings. The World through a Monocle is a study of these sacred writings. Mary Corey mines the magazine's editorial voice journalism fiction advertisements cartoons and poetry to unearth the preoccupations values and conflicts of its readers editors and contributors. She delineates the effort to fuse liberal ideals with aspirations to high social status finds the magazine's blind spots with regard to women and racial and ethnic stereotyping and explores its abiding concern with elite consumption coupled with a contempt for mass production and popular advertising. Balancing the consumption of goods with a social conscience which prized goodness the magazine managed to provide readers with what seemed like a coherent and comprehensive value system in an incoherent world. Viewing the world through a monocle those who created The New Yorker and those who believed in it cultivated a uniquely powerful cultural institution serving an influential segment of the population. Corey's work illuminates this extraordinary enterprise in our social history.

Jessamyn West, Revised Edition Alfred S. Shivers, 1992 Mary Jessamyn West was born in 1902 to an Indiana Quaker family who moved to the ranch and orchard land of southern California when she was six. As a mature writer West would return again and again to these simple facts of her youth Quakerism the settling of the Midwest as told to her in stories by her mother and the domestication of the southwestern frontier became the dominant milieu of her fiction a fiction distinguished by its detailed authentic conveyance of the homesteading landscape and of the folkways and language of the people that inhabited it. In Jessamyn West Revised Edition Alfred S Shivers chronicles West's complete works from her first well received story collection about the lives of a midwestern Quaker couple The Friendly Persuasion 1948 to her last the posthumously published Collected Stories of Jessamyn West 1986 Eight West books have been published since Shivers's first treatment of the author Jessamyn West appeared in 1974 all are discussed in this revised edition The author of seven novels several short story collections a volume of poetry and two memoirs West kept private notebooks and journals since she was a child But she began to write seriously only after a debilitating bout with tuberculosis and a long period of recovery and reflection West contracted tuberculosis at 29 and in its early stages the disease threatened her life Among the persistent themes in her work is that of understanding and illumination brought about by intimacy with death West also wrote frankly about sexuality a trait the reviewers of her day often found surprising and sometimes disturbing in a female Quaker writer With great respect for psychological realism and in a polished often sensuous style her fiction explores variously the awakening of sexuality in adolescence the destructive consequences of self denial and sexual repression and the sexual loneliness of middle aged women It is however the carefully crafted backdrop against which these themes are played out for which West remains best known and most admired particularly that of American Quakers from the early nineteenth to the mid twentieth century No other writer Shivers argues has recorded their way of life as faithfully humanly and entertainingly as Jessamyn West Ironically as successful as West was in depicting Quaker ways in her fiction she wanted neither her life nor her art to be restricted by traditional Quaker concerns for modesty and propriety West enjoyed shocking people for instance by telling them she had once slept with former president Richard Milhous Nixon a second cousin who as a baby had slept on the same bed with West then a little girl Struggling against her Quaker upbringing Shivers writes West tried to overcome the tendency to be agreeable or good at the expense of being truthful to be polite at the expense of being vivid to be pretty at the expense of being honest What Jessamyn West wanted least was to be known as that sweet little old Quaker lady BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Word Painting Rebecca McClanahan, 1999-03-15 Let Rebecca McClanahan guide you through an inspiring examination of description in its many forms With her thoughtful instruction and engaging exercises you'll learn to develop your senses and powers of observation to uncover the rich evocative words that accurately portray your mind's images McClanahan includes dozens of descriptive passages written by master poets and authors to illuminate the process She also teaches you how to weave writing together using description as a unifying thread
