Clouds Nate Allen, 2012-02-22 What Grant Smith loses at seven is much more than his father. He loses his faith, his happiness, his identity. The years turn him into a man without reason. At eighteen he is just as lost as when he was a child. All he wants is happiness. One day it is found in a cemetery in the form of a girl named Chelsea. She is damaged much like him. They fall in love. Grant is a man haunted by things he has always avoided. Despite a new sense of happiness he can't escape the darkness that was born within him. It manifests in the form of a father now transformed by his own demons. In a dream he frenetically claims happiness. But the father with a monster attached mocks him for it. The truth he doesn't want to face is that he is not happy. Or if he is he fears it is only temporary. And it is. The war that started after 9/11 branches off into others. The president who promised change is reelected. A once bright future has become something bleak. The Draft is put back into effect. On a day when two explosions paint the sky in Baghdad, Grant unleashes his darkness. Every choice has a consequence. His is unimaginable. His father's death left him a man without reason. The war leaves him a man changed for the worse. He knows of his darkness. He let it free. And now it threatens to take away everything he loves.

Secular Grace Dana Freibach-Heifetz, 2017-02-20 In Secular Grace Dana Freibach-Heifetz addresses the crisis of modernity proposing an ethic of love based on a new philosophical concept of secular grace as intersubjective relations. Anchored in secular humanism as well as within the existentialist tradition yet recognizing their limitations Secular Grace seeks to protrude them by means of dialogue with their other Christianity Inspired by a variety of intellectual roots from ancient Greece to post modernist thinkers chiefly the deliberations of Buber and Levinas in the encounter with the other and notions of gift and friendship it offers a rich concept of Secular Grace It furthermore examines the possibilities of grace towards the dead self grace and secular salvation God on Trial: Oswald D.
