He'd only known her a couple hours, but already he wanted her. Now if only she wasn't a murder suspect. Detective Brock Transom eyed Nina Jansen across her desk. In the short span of time since the body of her boss had been found, he'd picked up a number of interesting insights. Some had been freely given from the crime scene techs and medical examiner as expected. Others had come knowingly or unintentionally from the man's coworkers, including the beautiful brunette in front of him. Two things about her were clear: she had strong negative feelings about the deceased, and she was hiding something. His challenge was going to be to separate his investigative instincts from the compelling attraction he felt for this woman. Nina felt like she was on a roller coaster in the dark, going backwards. Since the day began, she had been unexpectedly jerked up, down, and sideways. The big drop from the ride's peak being the revelation that her lecherous creep of a boss had been murdered. Now the detective whose presence had so electrified her as the police screened arriving employees was questioning her with more than a casual interest. His inquiries about her boss were easy; she had detested the man, but she certainly hadn't killed him. But accounting for her time outside the office could expose activities that she wasn't ready to reveal Now how to remove herself from suspicion when Detective Transom's mere touch made her stomach flutter and her heartbeat race Enjoy Intimate Caresses book two in The Love and Danger Series

How to Fall in Love with Anyone Mandy Len Catron, 2017-06-27 A beautifully written and well researched cultural criticism as well as an honest memoir Los Angeles Review of Books from the author of the popular New York Times essay To Fall in Love with Anyone Do This explores the romantic myths we create and explains how they limit our ability to achieve and sustain intimacy What really makes love last Does love ever work the way we say it does in movies and books and Facebook posts Or does obsessing over those love stories hurt our real life relationships When her parents divorced after a twenty eight year marriage and her own ten year relationship ended those were the questions that Mandy Len Catron wanted to answer In a series of candid vulnerable and wise essays that takes a closer look at what it means to love someone be loved and how we present our love to the world Catron melds science and emotion beautifully into a thoughtful and thought provoking meditation Bookpage She delves back to 1944 when her grandparents met in a coal mining town in Appalachia to her own dating life as a professor in Vancouver She uses biologists research into dopamine triggers to ask whether the need to love is an innate human drive She uses literary theory to show why we prefer certain kinds of love stories She urges us to question the unwritten scripts we follow in relationships and looks into where those scripts come from And she tells the story of how she decided to test an experiment that she'd read about where the goal was to create intimacy between strangers using a list of thirty six questions and ended up in the surreal situation of having millions of people following her brand new relationship Perfect fodder for the romantic and the cynic in all of us Booklist How to Fall in Love with Anyone flips the script on love Clear eyed and full of heart it is mandatory reading for anyone coping with or curious about the challenges of contemporary courtship The Toronto Star
