Love Is Not Enough Family Care Of The Frail Elderly:

Feminist Perspectives on Family Care Nancy R. Hooyman, Judith Gonyea, 1995-08-29 Today women find themselves playing an ever increasing role in caring for older family members who are frail developmentally disabled or suffering from serious mental illness While this role of women as caregivers has been documented the actual impact on the lives of women has remained largely unstudied In this volume the authors examine caregiving as a central feminist issue looking at its impact on women socially personally and economically The authors review how changing family structures the changing economy and workforce and the changing health care demands of needy adults have impacted on women's lives They critique existing public and private policies demonstrating a need for fundamental structural changes in social institutions and attitudes to improve the lives of women Finally they propose a social model of care that is oriented toward gender justice recognition of the work of caring and its impact upon women socially personally and economically For students scholars and practitioners in the field of gerontology gender studies and social work this book is a must

The Graying of the World Laura Katz Olson, 1994 This unique book studies America's frail older population relative to the elderly in ten other nations It contains a cross national assessment of approaches to long term care for the elderly and explains the nature and extent of current and future problems related to caring for the functionally impaired elderly By studying and analyzing the ongoing struggles of other nations in their attempts to cope with growing populations of frail elderly readers in the U S can expand the parameters of their own national debate on the subject The Graying of the World shows the political economic and social context in which decisions on elder care are based and evaluates how successful various countries programs have been Chapters outline alternative approaches taken by disparate types of national systems highlighting unique and creative solutions to provide useful information on new and alternative ways to respond to personal and public issues related to elder care The elderly and their care in Finland France Germany Great Britain Israel Japan People's Republic of China Sweden and Yugoslavia are discussed as are the elderly in Canada and the United States Chapters cover the following topics for each country the increasing number of frail elderly and their costly health needs the current and future role of the state in elder care the current and future role of the family in elder care types of support services offered for the elderly including in home care community based care and institutional care the relationship of a nation's political economy to its attitude and policy on long term care innovative approaches to elder care Practitioners decision makers and the concerned general public will all find The Graying of the World an interesting and informative book that expands the discussion of health care options available for the elderly As such the book is also a helpful text for undergraduate and beginning graduate students of gerontology public policy and comparative politics as well as for social service practitioners It provokes much needed conversation on developing a healthcare plan for the future that meets the needs of a large elderly population

Circles of Care Emily K. Abel, Margaret K. Nelson, 1990-07-05 This work examines the experience of women providing care to children disabled persons the chronically ill and the frail elderly It differs from most writing about caregiving because it focuses on the providers rather than the care recipients It looks at the experience of women caregivers in specific settings exploring what caregiving actually entails and what it means in their lives

Caring For/caring about Karen Ruth Grant, 2004-01-01 Caring For Caring About explores the complex nature of caring in Canadian society today by examining current research on women home care and unpaid caregiving

Love is Not Enough Emily K. Abel, 1987

Who Cares for the Elderly? Emily K. Abel, 1991 Although caregiving is predominantly women's work care for the elderly is largely absent from the feminist agenda in this country Emily K Abel presents a compelling and sensitive report that describes the experience of caregiving from the perspective of adult daughters She places their stories in the context of an analysis of existing policies and services for the elderly and traces the history of family caregiving in the U S since 1800 Through in depth open ended interviews with 51 women who were caring for one or both parents Abel explores how caregivers themselves understand their endeavors Poignant excerpts from these interviews reveal the overwhelming sense of responsibility that these women feel for their parents lives how they protect their parents dignity and the isolation and lack of support that is faced in these homecare situations While policy analysts speak of filial responsibility Abel allows the adult daughters to interpret its meaning in heart rending detail In her examination of how public policies affect the nature of caregiving at home Abel argues that the amount of care women deliver to elderly relatives is determined not only by demographic trends but by the inadequacies of the long term care system in the U S Author note Emily K Abel is Adjunct Associate Professor in the School of Public Health at the University of California Los Angeles She has published several books and is co editor with Margaret K Nelson of Circles of Care Work and Identity in Women s Lives Aging and the Law Lawrence A. Frolik,1999 A collection of 47 portions of essays articles and books addressing many of the social political and legal problems occasioned by having an increasing number of older Americans First defines and explores the emerging field of elder law then looks at such dimensions as work income and wealth housing mental capacity health care decision making long term care health care finance family and social issues abuse neglect victimization and elderly criminals and legal representation and ethical considerations Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Profiles in Caregiving Carol S. Aneshensel, Leonard I. Pearlin, Joseph T. Mullan, Steven H. Zarit, Carol J. Whitlatch, 1995-09-15 Given medical advances and greater understanding of healthful living habits people are living longer lives Proportionally speaking a greater percentage of the population is elderly Despite medical advances there is still no cure for dementia and as elderly individuals succumb to Alzheimer s Disease or related dementia more and more people are having to care their elderly parents and or siblings Profiles in Caregiving is practical source of information for anyone who teaches caregiving acts as a caregiver or studies caregiving This book discusses recent research on stress factors associated with caregiving and what factors impact on successful versus non successful adaptation to the care giving role This is an expanding field in gerontology and is also of interest to personality and social psychologists studying stress and interpersonal relations Although there are many books on the cause and treatment of dementia there has been a book that provides a research investigation into the factors associated with effective caregiving to dementia patients Conceptualizes caregiving as a multistage career whose impact on the caregiver continues to be felt after in home care has ceased Based upon a longitudinal survey of a demographically diverse sample of principal caregivers over a three year period Identifies caregivers who are most at risk for adverse adaptation to the role Describes preventative and clinical intervention strategies Identifies post care risk and issues Identifies antecedents to successful adaptation State of the art analytic techniques Graphic presentation of empirical findings Renowned multidisciplinary research team

Law and the Search for Community Joel F. Handler, 2010-07-13 This enduring study of law and organizations that change the community the core relations of citizen and state takes aim at real problems that resonate today and the limits of bureaucracy health care medical consent pollution special ed care for the elderly and poor A recognized sociolegal classic by a UCLA law prof first published by Penn Press now in digital edition with 2010 Foreword      Old Age Haim Hazan, 1994-04-28 Haim Hazan is a leading specialist on old age in anthropology and has published several books on particular communities of old people The latest book is an essay on the realities of old age as it is experienced as opposed to the ideas about the old current in western societies It argues that the construction of this world by outsiders is inevitably affected by deeply ingrained social attitudes and structures such as the spatial segregation of the aged as a population and the fear of death with which they are associated By approaching the subject from the social constructionist perspective and by drawing on a variety of detailed ethnographic accounts the author describes a unique and nuanced social world This is a sophisticated and original book which should have a significant impact on a field still dominated by a social problems approach      Successful Aging Through the Life Span May L. Wykle, PhD, RN, FAAN, Peter J. Whitehouse, MD, PhD, Diana L. Morris, PhD, RN, FAAN, 2004-10-25 This book explores concepts and practices for productive aging What factors contribute to successful aging What is the role of exercise and nutrition What is the role of children and adults in interaction with elders The chapters identify the best practices for successful aging examine trends in intergenerational caregiving and define roles and responsibilities across the life span Topics addressed include how to maximize productive engagement of older adults how multigenerational issues impact successful aging the ways in which a learning environment can promote intergenerational relationships      American journal of public health ,1989

Handbook of Aging and Mental Health Jacob Lomranz, 1998-09-30 This comprehensive resource responds to a growing need for theory and multidisciplinary integrative research in adult and gerontological health Handbook of Aging and Mental Health brings together for the first time diverse strategies and methodologies as well as theoretical formulations involving psychodynamic behavioral psychosocial and biological systems as they relate to aging and health Forward thinking in his approach Lomranz provides the mental health adult developmental and geriatric professions with a single reference source that covers theory construction empirical research treatment and multidisciplinary program development      Families Caring for an Aging America National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Health and Medicine Division, Board on Health Care Services, Committee on Family Caregiving for Older Adults, 2016-12-08 Family caregiving affects millions of Americans every day in all walks of life At least 17.7 million individuals in the United States are caregivers of an older adult with a health or functional limitation The nation's family caregivers provide the lion's share of long term care for our older adult population They are also central to older adults access to and receipt of health care and community based social services Yet the need to recognize and support caregivers is among the least appreciated challenges facing the aging U.S. population Families Caring for an Aging America examines the prevalence and nature of family caregiving of older adults and the available evidence on the effectiveness of programs supports and other interventions designed to support family caregivers This report also assesses and recommends policies to address the needs of family caregivers and to minimize the barriers that they encounter in trying to meet the needs of older adults      Down from Bureaucracy Joel F.

Handler,1996-04-01 Throughout the world politicians are dismantling state enterprises and heaping praise on private markets while in the United States a new rhetoric of citizen empowerment links a widespread distrust of government to decentralization and privatization Here Joel Handler asks whether this restructuring of authority really allows ordinary citizens to take more control of the things that matter in their roles as parents and children teachers and students tenants and owners producers and consumers Looking at citizens as stakeholders in the modern social welfare state created by the New Deal he traces the surprising ideological shifts of empowerment from its beginning as a cornerstone of the war on poverty in the 1960s to its central place in conservative market based voucher schemes for school reform in the 1990s Handler shows that in the past the gains from decentralization have proved to be more symbol than substance some disadvantaged members of society will find new opportunities in the changes of the 1990s but others will simply experience powerlessness under another name He carefully distinguishes empowerment by invitation in special education worker safety home health care public housing tenancy and neighborhood organizations from the empowerment by conflict exemplified by the radical decentralization of the Chicago public schools What emerges is a map of the major pitfalls and possible successes in the current journey away from a discredited regulatory state National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1988 Handbook of Long-Term Care Administration and Policy Cynthia Massie Mara,Laura Olson,2008-03-27 Attitudes toward long term care contain a strong residue of negativity in today s society and current problems with the system augment such perceptions Unless dealt with now this will only get worse as the 85 and older crowd is the fastest growing part of the population and the first wave of Baby Boomers is approaching 60 Exploring and delineating Caring Families Deborah S.
