Love Prescription Ending The War Between Black Men And Women:

Love Prescription Jeffrey Gardere, 2003-12 Offering candid supportive sometimes startling observations and advice the highly respected and recognised Dr Jeffrey Gardere instructs his readers how to cut through the layers of distrust faithlessness and resentment to reach the core of the warm loving relationship that could be theirs A frequent guest on TV shows Dr Jeff lives on the front lines of the war that rages between the sexes Filled with real life stories packed with drama heartbreak and steamy roller coaster passion to help guide readers on their way to their heart's fulfilment Love

Prescription Jeffrey Gardere, 2002 One of today's most recognised and respected family therapists Dr Jeffrey Gardere offers a battle plan for ending the war between the sexes so that everyone wins 'Til Death Or Distance Do Us Part Frances Smith Foster, 2010-01-12 Conventional wisdom tells us that marriage was illegal for African Americans during the antebellum era and that if people married at all their vows were tenuous ones until death or distance do us part It is an impression that imbues beliefs about black families to this day But it's a perception primarily based on documents produced by abolitionists the state or other partisans It doesn't tell the whole story Drawing on a trove of less well known sources including family histories folk stories memoirs sermons and especially the fascinating writings from the Afro Protestant Press Til Death or Distance Do Us Part offers a radically different perspective on antebellum love and family life Frances Smith Foster applies the knowledge she's developed over a lifetime of reading and thinking Advocating both the potency of skepticism and the importance of story telling her book shows the way toward a more genuine more affirmative understanding of African American romance both then and now The Price of Racial Reconciliation Ronald Walters, 2009-07-09 In The Price of Racial Reconciliation Ronald Walters offers an abundance of riches This book provides an extraordinarily comprehensive and persuasive set of arguments for reparations and will be the lens through which meaningful opportunities for reconciliation are viewed in the future If this book does not lead to the success of the reparations movement nothing will Charles J Ogletree Jesse Climenko Professor of Law Harvard Law School The Price of Racial Reconciliation is a seminal study of comparative histories and race ism in the formation of state structures that prefigure d socioeconomic positions of Black peoples in South Africa and the United States The scholarship is meticulous in brilliantly constructed analysis of the politics of memory reparations as an immutable principle of justice imperative for nonracialist democracy and a regime of racial reconciliation James Turner Professor of African and African American Studies and Founder Africana Studies and Research Center Cornell University A fascinating and pathbreaking analysis of the attempt at racial reconciliation in South Africa which asks if that model is relevant to the contemporary American racial dilemma An engaging multidisciplinary approach relevant to philosophy sociology history and political science William Strickland Associate Professor of Political Science W E B Du Bois Department of Afro American Studies University of Massachusetts Amherst The issue of reparations in America provokes a lot of interest but the public debate usually occurs at the level of historical accounting Who owes what for slavery This book attempts to get past that question to address racial restitution within the framework of larger societal interests For example the answer to the why reparations question is more than the moral of payment for an injustice done in the past Ronald Walters suggests that insofar as the impact of slavery is still very much with us today and has been reinforced by forms of postslavery oppression the objective of racial harmony will be disrupted unless it is recognized with the solemnity and amelioration it deserves The author concludes that the grand narrative of black oppression in the United States which contains the past and present summary of the black experience prevents racial reconciliation as long as some substantial form of racial restitution is not seriously considered This is the price of reconciliation The method for achieving this finding is grounded in comparative politics where the analyses of institutions and political behaviors are standard approaches The author presents the conceptual difficulties involved in the project of racial reconciliation by comparing South African Truth and Reconciliation and the demand for reparations in the United States Ronald Walters is Distinguished Leadership Scholar and Director African American Leadership Program and Professor of Government and Politics University of Maryland

Harris,2011-06-28 Yes You Can Survive Adolescence and Beyond was inspired by Jeffrey Harris childhood and life long experience Growing up without knowing his biological father reared in a financially challenged household Mr Harris makes no excuses of what he didn t have but talks about how he achieved what he does have He learned the values of hardwork at an early age Self determination never left him although hard times challenged him Reflecting on how he walked around with cardboard stuffed at the bottom of his shoes to replace their worn soles drug dealing and use and gang involvement Mr Harris knows that there is a much better life for everyone despite their challenges The book captures such experiences of everyday people and prominent people we all know His experience in the United States Army awakened him to his life s purpose Although those years were not his best they were the years that fertilized the seed his grandfather planted within him to cultivate the man he is today This book is straight talk It is nothing spectacular but provocative practical profound and to the point His advice to young people is believable and achievable The book is trusting and real Now you be the judge     Ebony ,2006-05 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine
